They will also be subject, on arrival at their destination, to comparison with the standard samples in the respective Resident Magistrates' Offices.

3. All Supplies are to be carefully packed, and to be forwarded by the Contractor at his own risk and expense. 5. The Contractor will be required to use every expedition in the delivery of the Supplies at the several District Towns; three months from date of Inspector's certificate to be the maximum period for their transmission.

6. In the event of Supplies not reaching their destination within the period of three months from date of certificate, the Government shall have the right to engage or employ some other person or persons to supply the Articles required, and to deduct or retain from out of the money which shall be due to the Contractor at the time of such neglect or default, or which may thereafter become due to him by the Colonial Government, all such sum or sums of money as the Government may have to pay over and above the Contract prices for the articles so obtained.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender, and reserves the option of accepting any portion of a Tender without the whole.

The signature of two sufficient Sureties will be required to every Tender, and upon acceptance of any Tender, wholly or in part, the person or persons tendering, and the Sureties, will be required to enter into a formal Contract.

Manager and Secretary to—William Cleland.

This Company having a Revenue from Premiums alone of One Hundred and Forty Thousand Pounds per Annum, is in a position to transact every description of LIFE ASSURANCE on as favourable terms as any other Company of equal standing.

Holders of Life Policies on the profit scale, who may hereafter fill confidential situations and require to be guaranteed, may secure considerable reductions in their life premiums, by making their life policies contingent on the continuance of fidelity.

Three fourths of the Profits are divisible amongst the Policy-holders on the "Profit Scale of Premiums," affording the advantages of Mutual Assurance, with the further security of a large subscribed capital, the prudent employment of which gives a greater ratio of increase to business and to profits than a purely Mutual Society can achieve.

Assurances are granted for £10,000 on a single life.

Premiums may be paid in one sum, or yearly, or by half-yearly, or quarterly instalments.

Policies upon which five years' payments have been made, are purchased by the Society or the Policy-holders, if unable to continue paying, may receive fresh Policies in exchange (on which no further payment is required), equivalent to the then value of the Premiums already paid.

On Policies amounting to £200 and upwards for the whole of life, one-half of the Premium may remain unpaid at Interest for five years.

No extra Premium charged for voyage to and residence in any part of Europe, New Zealand, Australia (except at the "Diggings,") the Cape Colony, or British America.

This is the only Society transacting Life Assurance with Fidelity Guarantee, whose Policies of Guarantee are authorized (by Special Act of Parliament) to be accepted by Government.

The Guarantee Policies of this Society are accepted by the Treasury, Poor Law Board, and other public departments, and by the leading London and Provincial Joint-Stock and Private Banks, the principal Railway Companies, Life and Fire Offices, Public Companies, Institutions, and Commercial Firms throughout the Kingdom.

Immediate Annuities payable during the whole Life may be purchased on the following Scale

Annuities granted at the undermentioned Agents for every £100 of Purchase Money.

ENDERS VOOR LEVERANTIEN AAN GEVANGENISSEN, TE WORDEN ONTVANGEN DOOR DEN AUDITEUR GENERAAL.

IN betrekking tot voorgaand Gouvernements Berigt, No. 249 van 1868, wordt hierbij bekend gemaakt, dat ten Kantore van den Auditeur Generaal te Kaapstad, tot den 1sten October aanstaande, des middags 12 ure, Tenders zullen worden ingewacht van degenen, die genegen zijn tot de levering van een of meer of alle Artikelen, opgenoemd in de Schedule van den "Vorm van Tender" annex het gezegde Berigt, vereischt voor de Gouvernements dienst, hetzy de geheele Kolonie door of in zoodanige Distrikten als de Tenderaar moge verkiezen, voor een tijdvak van drie jaren, in te gaan op zoodanigen datum, als de Regering hierna moge bepalen, maar niet spoediger dan vier maanden na de bekendmaking van het aannemen des Tenders.

Aan het Kantoor van iederen Resident Magistraat zijn monsters van de Artikelen gedeponeerd, en degenen die tenderen, zullen verondersteld worden zich te hebben bekend gemaakt met de soort en hoedanigheid der verlangde Artikelen.

De volgende zijn de voorwaarden aan welke besloten is, dat alle Kontrakten volgens deze Kennisgeving zullen onderworpen zijn, nemelijk:—

1. Alle artikelen moeten geleverd worden op lastgeving van den Kolonialen Secretaris of van een ander geauthoriseerd Ambtenaar, op tijden en hoeveelheden als zal verlangd worden.

2. Alle Leverantien moeten ter afzending gereed zijn binnen veertien dagen van af de dagteekening van het ontvangstbewijs van iedere order door den Aannemer, en zijn, alvorens verpakt te worden, onderworpen aan de inspektie en goedkeuring van den Ambtenaar daarmede belast, in het Pakhuis van den Aannemer. Bij aankomst op de plaats hunner besstemming zijn zij ook onderworpen aan eene vergelijking met de aangenomen monsters, in de verschillende Resident Magistraatskantoren.

3. Alle leverantien moeten zorgvuldig verpakt en door den Aannemer op diens kosten en risiko worden bezorgd. In plaats van afzonderlijke kosten voor verpakking, pakkisten, vracht, transport, assurantie, enz, zal eene vaste verhooging van——percent op de kontraktprijzen van de georderde Artikelen aan den Aannemer worden toegestaan. Deze percentage moet uitdrukkelijk in elken Tender worden opgenoemd.

4 De betaling voor leverantie zullen geschieden door den Civielen Commissaris der Afdeeling voor welke de leverantie bestemd is, of bij aanwijzing op de Koloniale Schatkist, onmiddelijk bij ontvangst door en op certifikaat van den Resident Magistraat van elk Distrikt, uitgenomen wat betreft leverantien der Kaapsche Afdeeling, die betaald zullen worden door den Thesaurier Generaal, op de wijze als geschiedt met de gewone vorderingen tegen het Gouvernement.

5. De Aannemer zal allen spoed moeten maken in het bezorgen der leverantien in de verschillende Distriktssteden; zijnde drie maanden na dagteekening van het Inspekteurs Certifikaat de uiterste tijd voor het toezenden derzelve.

6. Ingeval eenige leverantien hare bestemming niet bereiken binnen drie maanden na dagteekening van het Certifikaat, zal de Regering het regt hebben om een of meer andere personen aan te nemen of te emploijeren voor het leveren der vereischte Artikelen, en van het geld aan den Aannemer verschuldigd tijdens dat verzuim of die hij later van de Koloniale Regering te vorderen mogt hebben, elke geldsom of alle geldsommen af te trekken of in te houden, als welke de Regering moge te betalen hebben boven den aanneemprijs voor de aldus bekomen Artikelen.

De Regering verbindt zich niet om den laagsten of een anderen der Tenders aan te nemen, en behoudt zich het regt voor eenigerlei gedeelte van den Tender uit te kiezen zonder den geheelen Tender aan te nemen.

Bij elken Tender zullen de handteekeningen worden verlangt van twee voldoende Borgen, en bij het aannemen van een Tender, hetzij geheel of gedeeltelijk, zullen degenen die tenderen en de Borgen een formeel Kontrakt met de Regering moeten aangaan.

Governor Sir P. E. WODEHOUSE, K.C.B, &c.

SIR,—I have the honour to enclose a copy of an Order 14th May, 1868. of Her Majesty in Council, enforcing neutrality upon British subjects during hostilities in Japan, and I have to instruct you to give all due publicity to this Order, and to guide yourself in accordance with its requirements.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) BUCKINGHAM & CHANDOS.

At the Court at Windsor, the 14th day of May, 1868.

Present,

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas an Act of Parliament was passed in the session of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, chapter ninety-four, "To remove Doubts as to the "exercise of Power and Jurisdiction by Her Majesty "within divers Countries and Places out of Her Majesty's "Dominions, and to render the same more effectual;"

And whereas by the said Act it was enacted, amongst other things, that it was, and should be, lawful for Her Majesty to hold, exercise, and enjoy any power or jurisdiction which Her Majesty then had, or might at any time thereafter have, within any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions, in the same and as ample a manner as if Her Majesty had acquired such power or jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory;

And whereas Her Majesty has had and now has, by treaty, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, power and jurisdiction within the Japanese dominions;

And whereas Her Majesty has been pleased from time to time, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, by Orders in Council, to make provision for the exercise of Her Majesty's said power and jurisdiction, and to ordain laws and ordinances for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects within the Japanese dominions, and for the constitution of certain Courts for enforcing obedience to such laws and ordinances;

And whereas hostilities have unhappily commenced, and are being carried on between the Mikado and other belligerents within the Japanese dominions, and whereas Her Majesty is at peace with the Government of Japan, and whereas it has seemed to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to be expedient for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the Japanese dominions, and for maintaining a strict neutrality in such dominions during such hostilities as aforesaid, to make and ordain such rules and orders as hereinafter mentioned.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:—If any British subject shall, during such hostilities as aforesaid, without the licence of Her Majesty (proof whereof shall lie on the party accused), take part in any operation of war in the service of the Mikado or of any Power or person engaged in carrying on such hostilities as aforesaid, or shall aid or abet any or either of the contending parties in carrying on such hostilities as aforesaid by delivering or causing to be delivered to them, or either of them, any ship or vessel equipped, furnished, fitted out or armed with intent or in order that such ship or vessel should be employed in the military or naval service of either of the said contending parties, against the other or such contending parties, every person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be liable (in the discretion of the Court before which he is convicted) to be punished by imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars without imprisonment.

And the Right Honourable Lord STANLEY, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

IN connection with the foregoing Government Notice No. 249 of 1868, it is hereby notified that Sealed Tenders will be received at the Office of the Honourable the Auditor-General, Cape Town, until 12 o'clock noon, on the 1st of October next, from Persons willing to supply any or all of the Articles enumerated in the Schedule to the "Form of Tender" appended to the said Notice, required for the use of the Government either throughout the Colony, or in such Districts as the Tenderers may select, for a period of three years, commencing on such date as may hereafter be determined by Government, but not sooner than four months from notification of acceptance of Tender.

Samples of the Articles have been deposited in the Office of each of the Resident Magistrates, and Parties tendering will be presumed to have made themselves aware of the description and quality of the Articles required.

The following are the conditions to which it has been decided that all Contracts under this Notice should be subject, viz.:—

1. All Articles are to be supplied upon requisitions from the Colonial Secretary, or other authorized Officer, at such times and in such quantities as may be required.

2. All Supplies are to be ready for dispatch within fourteen days from the date of receipt of every such requisition by the Contractor, and, before being packed, are to be subject to inspection and approval, at the Stores of the Contractor, by the Officer who may be appointed to perform this duty. They will also be subject, on arrival at their destination, to comparison with the standard samples in the respective Resident Magistrates' Offices.

3. All Supplies are to be carefully packed, and to be forwarded by the Contractor at his own risk and expense. In lieu of special charges for packing, packing-cases, freight, transport, insurance, &c., a fixed charge of — per cent. on the contract prices of the Articles ordered will be allowed to the Contractor. (This percentage to be distinctly stated in every Tender).

4. Payment for Supplies will be made by the Civil Commissioner of the Division to which the supply relates in cash, or by draft on the Colonial Treasury, immediately on receipt by, and under the certificate of, the Residen Magistrate of each District; except as regards Supplies in the Cape Division, which will be paid by the Treasurer-General, in the manner pursued in respect of ordinary claims against the Government.

5. The Contractor will be required to use every expedition in the delivery of the Supplies at the several District Towns; three months from date of Inspector's certificate to be the maximum period for their transmission.

6 In the event of Supplies not reaching their destination within the period of three months from date of certificate, the Government shall have the right to engage or employ some other person or persons to supply the Articles required, and to deduct or retain from out of the money which shall be due to the Contractor at the time of such neglect or default, or which may thereafter become due to him by the Colonial Government, all such sum or sums of money as the Government may have to pay over and above the Contract prices for the articles so obtained.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender, and reserves the option of accepting any portion of a Tender without the whole.

The signature of two sufficient Sureties will be required to every Tender, and upon acceptance of any Tender, wholly or in part, the person or persons tendering, and the Sureties, will be required to enter into a formal Contract.

BILL

FOR

The better Protection of Her Majesty's Subjects on the Northern Frontier of this Colony.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS it is expedient that better provision should be made for the peace and good order of that part of the northern border of this Colony comprising certain portions of the divisions of Namaqualand, Calvinia, Fraserburg, Victoria West, and Hope Town: Be it hereby enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation to be by him issued and published in the Government Gazette, to define, and from time to time thereafter, if it shall seem to him fit, by a like proclamation, in like manner issued and published, to alter the limits of a district to comprise the whole or such portions of the divisions of Namaqualand, Calvinia, Fraserburg, Victoria West, and Hope Town, or of any of such divisions, as to the Governor shall seem fit.

II. It shall be lawful for the Governor to establish within such district such court as hereinafter is described.

III. It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint an officer to exercise within such district as aforesaid the jurisdiction hereinafter described, and to preside in such court as is hereinbefore mentioned and hereinafter described, and such appointment shall be under the great seal of this Colony; and it shall be lawful for the Governor, when and so often as, by reason of the death, sickness, absence, or other incapacity of such officer, it shall appear to him to be necessary or expedient so to do, to appoint some fit and proper person to act as and in the stead of such officer within such district as aforesaid; and all deeds, acts, matters, and things which shall be done and performed by or before any person so appointed to act as aforesaid, under and by virtue of such his appointment, shall be as legal, valid, and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been done and performed by or before such officer as aforesaid, instead of whom such person shall have been so appointed to act.

IV. Every person who shall in manner aforesaid be appointed to be such officer as aforesaid, or to act as or in the stead of such officer, shall, before exercising any of the functions of his office, take the oath of office set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, marked A, before the Chief Justice or any of the judges of the Supreme Court, or before any justice of the peace for any of the divisions comprising any part of the district for or in which such person is appointed to act, who are hereby empowered and required to administer the same; and every such person shall, so soon as he shall have duly taken the oaths aforesaid, cause such oaths to be recorded, and shall subscribe the same in the record book of the proceedings of his court or of the court in which he shall so have been appointed to act, as the case may be.

V. The court to be established under the provisions of this Act shall be a criminal court of record, and the pleadings and proceedings thereof shall be carried on, and the sentences, decrees, judgments, and orders thereof pronounced and declared, in open court, and not otherwise; and the several pleadings and proceedings of the said court shall be in the English language, and the witnesses shall in all cases deliver their evidence viva voce and in open court.

VI. Such officer as aforesaid shall have jurisdiction, without appeal or review, in all cases of crimes and offences wherein any person may be accused of any crime or offence not punishable by death, transportation, or banishment from this Colony; but it shall not be lawful for such officer to punish any offender in any higher or more severe manner than by a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, or by imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding one year, or by imprisonment with spare diet, and with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding three months, or by corporal punishment in any number of lashes not exceeding thirty-six, or by such imprisonment and such lashes, provided that in such case the number of lashes shall not exceed twenty-four, and the period of imprisonment shall not exceed three months; and every prisoner sentenced to imprisonment shall be forthwith, or so soon as may be, sent to the gaol which shall happen to be nearest to or most easily accessible from the place where such prisoner shall have been tried; and there shall be forwarded along with such prisoner a copy of the record of the trial and sentence, which copy of record shall be signed by such officer as aforesaid, and may be supplemented by any remarks which such officer shall see fit to make upon the case, and shall be directed to the resident magistrate of the division within which such gaol shall be situate, who shall issue his warrant to the gaoler of such gaol to receive such prisoner and him safely to keep and deal with pursuant to the sentence passed upon him, in like manner as if such sentence were a lawful sentence to the same effect pronounced by such resident magistrate himself in his own court; and such gaoler shall act in conformity with such warrant in like manner as if the same were issued by such resident magistrate in the ordinary performance of his duties as such.

VII. In case any person shall upon conviction be fined by such officer in any sum exceeding five pounds, there shall by the first reasonable opportunity be forwarded to the resident magistrate of the division within which such person shall have been tried a copy of the record of the trial and sentence of such person, which copy shall be signed by such officer, and may be supplemented by any remarks he may think fit to make upon the case.

VIII. In the trial of all cases by such officer as aforesaid, the proceedings shall be taken down in writing, and duly recorded; including in such proceedings the charge or complaint, the plea of the prisoner, the evidence in the case, together with any statement the prisoner shall make on the case, the judgment, and if the judgment be a judgment of guilty, then also the sentence of the court; and, further, there shall be entered in the record a statement of the manner in which such sentence shall have been executed by such officer, or those under his control, or what steps shall have been taken by him or them towards the execution of such sentence.

IX. It shall not be lawful for such officer to sentence or adjudge any female to receive personal correction.

X. Every person upon trial on any criminal charge in the court of such officer as aforesaid, shall be entitled to make his defence by counsel or by attorney, or by any agent enrolled, as in the thirty-sixth section of the Act No. 20 of 1856 is provided, in the court of the resident magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the court of such officer shall, for the time being, be holden; but nothing herein contained shall extend to entitle a prisoner as of right to the assistance of a legal adviser, while he shall be under any preparatory examination on any charge.

XI. Such officer as aforesaid shall prepare and transmit to the Attorney-General of the Colony a report of every case adjudicated upon by him, showing the name and occupation of the party accused, the name and occupation of the complainant, the crime or offence charged, the judgment of the court and, in cases of conviction, the sentences pronounced.

XII. When and as often as such officer as aforesaid shall sentence any person upon conviction to be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any period exceeding three months, or to pay any fine exceeding five pounds, the resident magistrate to whom the copy of the record of the trial and conviction of such prisoner or person fined shall have been addressed and transmitted as hereinbefore is provided, shall by the post next succeeding the time at which he shall receive such copy, transmit the same to the registrar of the Supreme Court, and thereafter the same shall be dealt with as if the same and all proceedings to be had upon such conviction and sentence, respectively, were a record of the proceedings in the court of a resident magistrate transmitted to such registrar under the forty-seventh section of the Act 20 of 1856, and the proceedings to be had upon such record respectively; and if in any case such prisoner shall be sentenced to corporal punishment in addition to such imprisonment as in this section is mentioned, then such corporal punishment shall not be inflicted by such officer as aforesaid, or those immediately under his control, but shall be deferred until a judge of the Supreme Court shall have certified that the sentence is in accordance with real and substantial justice, or that such corporal punishment ought to be inflicted.

XIII. In any case in which the copy of the proceedings shall have been forwarded by any resident magistrate under the last foregoing section to the registrar of the Supreme Court, the provisions of the forty-eighth and forty-ninth sections of the Act 20 of 1856 shall apply in all respects as if the proceedings had been originally taken in the court of the resident magistrate who shall have forwarded the copy thereof, and such proceedings shall, for the purposes of this provision, be deemed to have been taken in such court of resident magistrate.

XIV. Whenever any crime or offence shall have been committed within a limit of two miles outside the boundary of the district so to be limited by the Governor under the provisions of this Act, or having been begun within the limits of such district shall be completed beyond such limits, or having been begun beyond such limits shall be completed within them, then such officer shall have the like jurisdiction in the case of every such crime or offence as if the same had been begun and consummated altogether within the limits of such district; and in every case in which objection shall be taken to the jurisdiction of such officer, on the ground that any act, matter, or thing whereof he shall take or have taken cognizance occurred or was done or committed beyond the local limits of his jurisdiction, the onus of proving that such act, matter, or thing did occur or was done or committed beyond such local limits shall lie on the person taking such objection; and such objection, unless taken and proved at the time of any trial held before such officer, shall not be allowed to be valid in any court.

XV. Such officer shall have power to summon any person to give evidence on any case which shall come before him for trial, and to compel the attendance of every such person, and for such purposes shall have all the powers vested in the resident magistrates throughout this Colony for the like purposes; but no witness summoned to attend before such officer to give evidence shall be entitled to demand, as of right, either before or after his attendance, any payment or sum in respect of travelling expenses or maintenance in respect of such attendance.

XVI. Any person who shall wilfully insult such officer during his sitting in his court on any trial or examination lawfully held before him under this or any other law or ordinance, or any person lawfully acting as clerk or officer of such court during his attendance as such clerk or officer on any such trial or examination, or shall wilfully interrupt the proceedings of such court, or otherwise misbehave in such court, may be forthwith arrested and detained by any person, under the order of such presiding officer, in custody until the rising of the court; and such presiding officer is hereby empowered, if he shall see fit, to impose a fine on the person so offending, not exceeding five pounds, as and for contempt of court, and in default of the said being paid, then to detain him in custody for any period not exceeding seven days, unless the fine and the cost of the detention of such offender be sooner paid; but in any case in which a person shall be fined under this section, a record shall be made of the proceedings upon which such fine shall be imposed, and such presiding officer shall enter upon such record the facts which constitute the contempt of court, and the grounds and reasons of his proceedings, and shall deal with the case in other respects as hereinbefore provided with regard to criminal offences in cases in which a fine exceeding five pounds shall have been imposed.

XVII. The records of such court shall be kept in such place as the Governor shall from time to time order.

XVIII. The rules in force in the courts of resident magistrates shall, save as herein is otherwise provided, as nearly as may be apply to the court to be held by such officer as aforesaid.

XIX. Nothing herein contained shall be held to limit or take away any jurisdiction of any resident magistrate conferred by any law in force in this Colony

FOR

The Organization and Regulation of a Police Force for the Northern Border of the Colony.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the organization and regulation of a police force to act on the northern border of this Colony: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor to cause such a sufficient number of fit men as Parliament shall from time to time provide for, to be embodied to serve as a police force, who shall be sworn before a justice of the peace to act as a police in the divisions of Namaqualand, Calvinia, Fraserburg, and Hope Town and Victoria West, for preserving the peace, and preventing robberies and other crimes, and apprehending offenders against the peace.

II. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by warrant under his hand, to appoint an inspector for the general superintendence and management of the said force, and such inspector from time to time to displace and remove and to appoint another in his place, as to him shall seem meet.

III. It shall be lawful for the Governor, from time to time, to make such regulations respecting the training, arms and accoutrements, clothing and equipment of such force, and respecting all other matters connected therewith, as may be required for promoting the discipline and efficiency thereof; and also, when it shall appear necessary, to direct the employment and distribution of the said force beyond the limits of the divisions in the first section hereof mentioned, and also within or without the colonial boundary.

IV. Every member of the said force shall be bound to obey the regulations which shall from time to time be made or sanctioned by the Governor for maintaining the discipline thereof, and to obey all lawful orders to be given him by his officers or superiors in furtherance of such regulations, or of the purposes for which such force is or is to be embodied; and every member of the said force who shall contravene any of such regulations, or who shall disobey such lawful orders as aforesaid, shall forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding twenty pounds; and such offender shall, in addition to such fine, or in default of payment thereof, be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding three months in any gaol or place of confinement in the Colony.

V. If any member of the said force shall take a bribe or any gratuity whatever for suffering any person lawfully in his custody to escape, or shall wilfully neglect to execute any warrant entrusted to him, every such member of the said force shall be liable for such offence to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, and to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding six months, or to one or other of such penalties, or to such imprisonment in the alternative on non-payment of such fine; but nothing herein contained shall exempt such offender from any higher or other punishment to which he may be subject by any other law in force in this Colony.

VI. If any member of such force shall during the period for which he shall have engaged to serve in the said force, and not being duly discharged from the same, desert from the same, or refuse to serve therein, or absent himself from duty without lawful cause or reasonable excuse, every such offender shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, and to imprisonment with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any period not exceeding six months, or to one or other of such penalties, or to such imprisonment in the alternative on non-payment of such fine.

VII. All fines to be levied under this Act, or any part thereof, may be allocated by the Governor to such purposes for the better efficiency of the said force as to him shall seem fit, or any portion thereof may be by him made payable as rewards to informers, and the residue thereof, not otherwise allocated by the Governor, shall be payable into the colonial revenue; and all rewards and gratuities which shall be payable under any law in force in this Colony to any member of the said force, except as hereinafter provided, or which shall be given by any private person to any member of such force for the performance of any duty as a member of such force, or of any service connected with such duty, shall be paid into a common fund for the benefit and efficiency of such force; but it shall be lawful for the Governor, or such persons as he shall authorize, out of such general fund to make allowances to individual members of such force for special services, and for such other purposes as shall be settled by regulations to be made or sanctioned by the Governor from time to time.

VIII. No member of the said force shall sell, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any horse, saddle, bridle, gun, clothing, ammunition, or other article or equipment which, by the regulations of the said force for the time being, he shall be required to keep and possess; and every sale, pledge, or other disposition of any of the matters aforesaid shall be null and void; and any member of the said force who shall make or attempt to make any sale, pledge, or other disposition as aforesaid, in contravention of this section, shall incur and be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds sterling, and in default of payment thereof shall be liable to be imprisoned and kept at hard labour for any period not exceeding three months.

IX. If any person shall, in consequence of any sale, pledge, or other disposition made by any member of the said force in contravention of the last preceding section, knowingly receive or have any animal, article, matter, or thing in the said section mentioned, such person shall incur and be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds sterling, and in default of payment thereof shall be liable to be imprisoned and kept at hard labour for any period not exceeding three months.

X. No animal, article, matter, or thing mentioned in the first section of this Act, and therein forbidden to be sold, pledged, or otherwise disposed of, shall be capable of being seized or attached by or under any writ of execution which may be sued out against any member of the said force, nor shall the same pass by or under any order made for the sequestration of the estate of any such member.

XI. Nothing in the three last preceding sections contained shall apply to the inspector of the said force.

Provide for the Maintenance of the Main Northern Road.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS it appears that the main northern road over the Katberg Pass will shortly be completed and open for traffic, from the limits of the division of Fort Beaufort to Poplar Grove, in the division of Queen's Town, and it is necessary to make provision for the due maintenance and repair of the said road: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor, on receiving a certificate from the Chief Inspector of Public Works that the road from the limits of the division of Fort Beaufort, at Blinkwater, to Poplar Grove, in the division of Queen's Town, has been completed and rendered fit for traffic, to declare, by proclamation to be published in the Government Gazette, that such road is a main road; and thereupon the divisional councils of Stockenstrom and Queen's Town shall, in respect to the said road, be respectively invested with all the powers, and shall be subjected to all the liabilities, created by any Act now in force relating to main roads, for so much of the said road as passes through their respective divisions.

II. It shall be lawful for the divisional councils of Stockenstrom and Queen's Town, if to them it shall appear expedient, to make arrangements for entrusting the maintenance of the whole of the said road to one or other of the said councils; and thereupon the proceeds of all tolls which may be established on any part of the said road shall become payable to the divisional council so entrusted with the maintenance of the road; and it shall be lawful for such last-mentioned divisional council, with the consent of the Governor, to exercise, in respect to the whole of such road, all the powers relating to the imposition and collection of tolls which are by the Act 10 of the year 1864 conferred upon divisional councils

BILL

TO

Declare the meaning and intent of a Saving Exception in the Act No. 2, 1867.

(Introduced into the House of Assembly by J. C. MOLTENO, Esq., M.L.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the last preceding session of Parliament, numbered 2 of 1867, entitled "An Act to amend Act No. 14 of 1861, 'To regulate the Retiring Pensions of the Judges of the Supreme Court,'" it is provided that the first clause of the Act No. 14 of 1861 should be repealed, save and except as regarded the judges of the Supreme Court at the date of the passing of the said Act, No. 2, 1867, serving or in office, and the provision thereafter following should be substituted: And whereas it was intended that the exception hereinbefore recited should preserve the then existing rights of the judges then serving in the offices in respect of which pension should be claimed, but not to affect any rights which they or any of them might acquire under any appointment to be made after the passing of such Act, No. 2 of 1867, but that every new appointment should be made subject to the altered provisions as to pension, in respect of such new appointment, enacted by the said Act, No. 2 of 1867: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:—

I. That any appointment of any such judges to any judicial office other than that in which such judge was serving at the date of the passing of the said Act, No. 2, 1867, shall be subject to the provisions as to pension enacted by the said Act, No. 2, 1867.

II. If any such judge who shall be appointed to some judical office other than that which he held at the passing of the said Act, No. 2, 1867, shall find it necessary to retire from such office within three years from the date of such appointment, then such judge shall be paid the pension to which he would have been entitled if such last appointment had not been made.

No. 4,045.

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

Government Gazette

EXTRAORDINARY.

Published by Authority.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1868.

Government-house, 2nd September, 1868.

THIS DAY His Excellency the Governor prorogued the Fifth Session of the Third Parliament of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope,—the Legislative Council and House of Assembly being assembled in the State Room at Government-house,—and His Excellency was pleased to deliver the following Speech:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL,

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY,

The time has arrived at which I may release you from further attendance in Parliament, and bring to a close a Session which has been distinguished not only by the variety and importance of the matters brought under discussion, but by the wise and temperate spirit in which they have been treated by you.

I thank you for the supplies you have been pleased to grant for the Public Service, and for the confidence with which you have enabled me, in case of need, to procure temporary assistance for the administration of the Government. I was induced to ask for that authority, under the expectation that the deficiency of Revenue might prove to be but temporary, and I look forward with confidence to the profitable and speedy development of the pastoral and agricultural resources of the Colony. Many beneficial enactments have been passed by you, and we shall endeavour without loss of time to give practical effect to their provisions. Others unavoidably remain for discussion in the next Session.

The Bill for establishing a Government Paper Currency has again failed to become law. But I am not inclined to regard the delay as prejudicial. The measure is evidently one in which the public take much interest, and which will, therefore, be freely discussed during the recess,—I hope with the result of procuring its acceptance.

I regret that another Session has passed away without the establishment of a proper Scale of Pensions for the Frontier Police, and I am inclined to attribute the reluctance of Parliament to deal with this question, partly to an imperfect estimate of the value of the Force, and partly to want of knowledge of the severe strain on the constitution to which its members are subjected. I have been long enough in the administration of this Government to have acquired the conviction that its two main elements of strength, for action on an emergency, are to be found in the Telegraph and the Frontier Police. Neither of them can be neglected with impunity. I have had opportunities also of witnessing the hardships and exposures to which the Police are frequently called upon to submit, and to which they submit cheerfully in their ordinary course of duty; and I cannot doubt that further examination of the subject will satisfy Parliament of the propriety of treating them exceptionally in the matter of retirement.

The Government will give due attention to the reports of the Select Committees of both Houses on the subject of Railways; and bearing in mind the expression of opinion by the Council, that an effort should be made towards obtaining possession of the Wellington Railway, I think it will be right to ascertain during the recess, if it be practicable to procure, on fair terms, the cession of what in its present shape must ever prove a serious impediment to further extensions in the Western Districts.

It is to be hoped that in the next Session, also, the proposition for transferring to the Government the Telegraphic Establishment of the Colony may meet with that deliberate consideration which its importance so fully merits.

I trust that I shall shortly be enabled to give effect to your wishes in respect to sending a Commission to the alleged Gold Fields. The selection of those to be employed is, however, no easy task. To ascertain the existence and quantity of Gold forms but a portion only of the duty they will have to perform. Irrespective of the existence of Gold, the Colonial Trade with those regions is of much importance, and I hope that our relations with the Tribes that inhabit them, and those through which access to them must be obtained, may be much improved through the efforts of the contemplated Commission.

The transactions of the Divisional Councils will again occupy the attention of Parliament. The Government will, as a preliminary, give effect to the recommendation of the Select Committee of the House of Assembly with respect to the form of their accounts, from which some improvement seems to be expected. At present they are covering the Country with Tolls; they borrow without authority; they borrow of their own members and officers; they expend the funds of the Ratepayers in the payment of high interest to money-lenders; they in some cases pay themselves and their officers more than they expend for the service of the Division; they make payments in direct opposition to the provisions of the law. Very searching reforms will be needed to render them really useful to the Country.

The last Session of this Parliament is now drawing to a close, and with it has passed away one, who, as President of the Legislative Council, had won the affection and esteem of all its Members. I can myself testify to the unfailing kindliness of disposition and regard for the general good which ever prompted Sir William Hodges to allay all angry feeling and to promote the harmonious co-operation of all the branches of the Legislature. He leaves behind him, I believe, no enemies, and many warm friends, whose deepest sympathies are with those to whom his unexpected decease is so grievous a misfortune.

We have together had to contend with successive years of adversity and difficulty. We have had to deal with subjects of deep interest, calculated, in some instances, to call forth the expression of highly antagonistic sentiments. But I am glad to think that in this our last Session, the aims and views of the Government have been in general harmony with your own; and that as the time for our separation has approached, we have come to recognize in each other the sincere desire to do our duty faithfully by those over whose interest we are appointed to watch. In reverting briefly, therefore, to the occurrences of past years, I do not now fear to allude to the annexation to this Colony of British Kaffraria,—an act which was at the time regarded by you with much repugnance, and in respect to which I admit that I strained to the utmost the powers vested in me by the Constitution, and did violence to the feelings of those who attach a high value to your Parliamentary privileges. My justification then was the difficulty, almost impossibility, of conducting the administration as it stood, and the conviction that although the measure was generally admitted to be sound and desirable, party influences might have indefinitely postponed its accomplishment. I did not think myself at liberty to shrink from the odium of effecting the change. The aversion to it has disappeared, and all recognize the salutary effect on the deliberations of Parliament of the introduction of representatives from British Kaffraria.

On the question of Retrenchment of the Public Expenditure, I hope it is now clear that our aim was throughout the same,—that we desired to enforce the strictest economy,—that we differed only as to the mode and as to the extent to which the establishments of the Colony could beneficially be curtailed. The Government only desired to guard against acts of apparent economy, calculated indirectly to cause additional outlay, and to avoid depriving the community of conveniences and advantages which we thought they would desire to retain. At the same time, the recommendations of the Parliament have been kept carefully in view, and will, I trust, continue to have their due weight in the administration of affairs. Year after year your attention has been much occupied with the discussion of native questions,—questions beset with difficulties, and in themselves representing the inherent antagonism between civilized and uncivilized races and their respective institutions. These, too, were aggravated by a succession of adverse seasons and want of employment for the labouring classes; and not unnaturally the exasperation arising out of severe personal losses has sometimes given rise to unfounded alarms, and to coercive proposals, which it would have been dangerous or improper to adopt. The Government was thus of necessity placed in a most embarrassing position, accused of leaving the European agriculturists an easy prey to native dishonesty, while in reality striving to maintain peace and to render justice to all classes alike. Happily, peace has been preserved, and the Session—the first for many years—has passed without a single discussion respecting passes and certificates of citizenship. It remains for the Government to give ready attention to well-founded complaints, and to the best of its ability to redress real injuries.

The most important measure, perhaps, in its effect on the Native Races has been the settlement of large portions of various tribes in the country beyond the Kei,—a measure which is still regarded with apprehension by some on account of its dangerous accumulation of the Natives, without any admixture of European; by others from a fear that a check will thus be given to their moral progress, and that they will be left a prey to all the vices of heathenism.

To the former I would say that a careful examination of their position goes to show that much disunion prevails between the Tribes in that locality; that our influence mainly preserves peace between them; and that their main object appears to be to occupy the first position in our estimation. I cannot think that our future relations with them will be so mismanaged as to cause the loss of the advantages we now possess. Viewing the question in its moral aspect, it will be well, before we condemn the Transkeian arrangement, to satisfy ourselves as to the real state of things on this side of the Border. We do not here profess to interfere with Native Customs not in themselves illegal. The case is not very different beyond. Our officers exert a wholesome influence; free access is afforded to Christian Missionaries; the small salaries that we pay to the principal men give us the right to remonstrate on all occasions of necessity. It will, however, be the duty of the Government to keep Parliament fully informed on all points connected with the political and social state of these people. There remains still for final adjustment one question of importance in its effect on the Native Tribes,—that of the reception as British Subjects of the Tribe of the Basutos; which I sincerely hope may be so accomplished as not only to secure their welfare, but to pave the way for other beneficial changes in due season on the Northern Bank of the Orange River. Speaking entirely on my own responsibility, giving expression only to my own opinions, I may say that I regard the measures which severed from their allegiance the European communities in those regions to have been founded in error; and that it will be a blessing for all if, with their general and hearty concurrence, they can be restored in a general sense to their former position. I should not wish to be regarded as an advocate of the actual union of any of them with the Colony of the Cape. This Colony is already large enough,—probably too large,—for the population by which it is likely for many years to be inhabited; and the extension of it beyond the Orange River would, it is to be feared, cause a renewal of those demands for disunion, whether under the name of Separation or Federation, which have done so much mischief, and which I rejoice to see dying out. What is to be hoped for, in my opinion, is the creation, beyond the River, of a large and well-organized Government, bound to this Colony only by a common allegiance, by the ties of kinship, by congenial laws, by just covenants, and by a common desire to extend the blessings of Christianity, peace, and civilization to all within their reach.

It should, however, be borne in mind that such Territorial arrangements must be in their essence Colonial. They may be adopted and sanctioned by the Imperial Government, but their execution and their maintenance must be effected by Colonial agency. It would be but self-deception in these days to reckon on the British Government assuming to itself any substantial responsibility for such measures. They must be in harmony with the wishes of the Colonial community, or they must not be attempted.

You are now about to return to your respective Constituencies to render an account of your discharge of the trust that has been confided to you, and in many cases, no doubt, to seek for its renewal. You can point with confidence to the transactions of this last Session, to the patience, public spirit, and harmony by which all its proceedings have been characterized; and you will carry with you my best wishes that they may be duly appreciated and rewarded.

I now, in Her Majesty's name, prorogue this Parliament of Her Majesty's Settlement of the Cape of Good Hope to Wednesday, the 16th day of December next, and it is hereby prorogued accordingly.

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

Government Gazette.

Published by Authority.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1868.

Government-house, 2nd September, 1868.

THIS DAY His Excellency the Governor prorogued the Fifth Session of the Third Parliament of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope,—the Legislative Council and House of Assembly being assembled in the State Room at Government-house,—and His Excellency was pleased to deliver the following Speech:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL,

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY,

The time has arrived at which I may release you from further attendance in Parliament, and bring to a close a Session which has been distinguished not only by the variety and importance of the matters brought under discussion, but by the wise and temperate spirit in which they have been treated by you.

I thank you for the supplies you have been pleased to grant for the Public Service, and for the confidence with which you have enabled me, in case of need, to procure temporary assistance for the administration of the Government. I was induced to ask for that authority, under the expectation that the deficiency of Revenue might prove to be but temporary, and I look forward with confidence to the profitable and speedy development of the pastoral and agricultural resources of the Colony. Many beneficial enactments have been passed by you, and we shall endeavour without loss of time to give practical effect to their provisions. Others unavoidably remain for discussion in the next Session.

The Bill for establishing a Government Paper Currency has again failed to become law. But I am not inclined to regard the delay as prejudicial. The measure is evidently one in which the public take much interest, and which will, therefore, be freely discussed during the recess,—I hope with the result of procuring its acceptance.

I regret that another Session has passed away without the establishment of a proper Scale of Pensions for the Frontier Police, and I am inclined to attribute the reluctance of Parliament to deal with this question, partly to an imperfect estimate of the value of the Force, and partly to want of knowledge of the severe strain on the constitution to which its members are subjected. I have been long enough in the administration of this Government to have acquired the conviction that its two main elements of strength, for action on an emergency, are to be found in the Telegraph and the Frontier Police. Neither of them can be neglected with impunity. I have had opportunities also of witnessing the hardships and exposures to which the Police are frequently called upon to submit, and to which they submit cheerfully in their ordinary course of duty; and I cannot doubt that further examination of the subject will satisfy Parliament of the propriety of treating them exceptionally in the matter of retirement.

The Government will give due attention to the reports of the Select Committees of both Houses on the subject of Railways; and bearing in mind the expression of opinion by the Council, that an effort should be made towards obtaining possession of the Wellington Railway, I think it will be right to ascertain during the recess, if it be practicable to procure, on fair terms, the cession of what in its present shape must ever prove a serious impediment to further extensions in the Western Districts.

It is to be hoped that in the next Session, also, the proposition for transferring to the Government the Telegraphic Establishment of the Colony may meet with that deliberate consideration which its importance so fully merits.

I trust that I shall shortly be enabled to give effect to your wishes in respect to sending a Commission to the alleged Gold Fields. The selection of those to be employed is, however, no easy task. To ascertain the existence and quantity of Gold forms but a portion only of the duty they will have to perform. Irrespective of the existence of Gold, the Colonial Trade with those regions is of much importance, and I hope that our relations with the Tribes that inhabit them, and those through which access to them must be obtained, may be much improved through the efforts of the contemplated Commission.

The transactions of the Divisional Councils will again occupy the attention of Parliament. The Government will, as a preliminary, give effect to the recommendation of the Select Committee of the House of Assembly with respect to the form of their accounts from which some improvement seems to be expected. At present they are covering the Country with Tolls; they borrow without authority: they borrow of their own members and officers; they expend the funds of the Ratepayers in the payment of high interest to money-lenders; they in some cases pay themselves and their officers more than they expend for the service of the Division; they make payments in direct opposition to the provisions of the law. Very searching reforms will be needed to render them really useful to the Country.

The last Session of this Parliament is now drawing to a close, and with it has passed away one, who, as President of the Legislative Council, had won the affection and esteem of all its Members. I can myself testify to the unfailing kindliness of disposition and regard for the general good which ever prompted Sir William Hodges to allay all angry feeling and to promote the harmonious co-operation of all the branches of the Legislature. He leaves behind him, I believe, no enemies, and many warm friends, whose deepest sympathies are with those to whom his unexpected decease is so grievous a misfortune.

We have together had to contend with successive years of adversity and difficulty. We have had to deal with subjects of deep interest, calculated, in some instances, to call forth the expression of highly antagonistic sentiments. But I am glad to think that in this our last Session, the aims and views of the Government have been in general harmony with your own; and that as the time for our separation has approached, we have come to recognize in each other the sincere desire to do our duty faithfully by those over whose interests we are appointed to watch. In reverting briefly, therefore, to the occurrences of past years, I do not now fear to allude to the annexation to this Colony of British Kaffraria,—an act which was at the time regarded by you with much repugnance, and in respect to which I admit that I strained to the utmost the powers vested in me by the Constitution, and did violence to the feelings of those who attach a high value to your Parliamentary privileges. My justification then was the difficulty, almost impossibility, of conducting the administration as it stood, and the conviction that although the measure was generally admitted to be sound and desirable, party influences might have indefinitely postponed its accomplishment. I did not think myself at liberty to shrink from the odium of effecting the change. The aversion to it has disappeared, and all recognize the salutary effect on the deliberations of Parliament of the introduction of representatives from British Kaffraria.

On the question of Retrenchment of the Public Expenditure, I hope it is now clear that our aim was throughout the same,—that we desired to enforce the strictest economy,—that we differed only as to the mode and as to the extent to which the establishments of the Colony could beneficially be curtailed. The Government only desired to guard against acts of apparent economy, calculated indirectly to cause additional outlay, and to avoid depriving the community of conveniences and advantages which we thought they would desire to retain. At the same time, the recommendations of the Parliament have been kept carefully in view, and will, I trust, continue to have their due weight in the administration of affairs. Year after year your attention has been much occupied with the discussion of native questions,—questions beset with difficulties, and in themselves representing the inherent antagonism between civilized and uncivilized races and their respective institutions. These, too, were aggravated by a succession of adverse seasons and want of employment for the labouring classes; and not unnaturally the exasperation arising out of severe personal losses has sometimes given rise to unfounded alarms, and to coercive proposals, which it would have been dangerous or improper to adopt. The Government was thus of necessity placed in a most embarrassing position, accused of leaving the European agriculturists an easy prey to native dishonesty, while in reality striving to maintain peace and to render justice to all classes alike. Happily, peace has been preserved, and the Session—the first for many years—has passed without a single discussion respecting passes and certificates of citizenship. It remains for the Government to give ready attention to well-founded complaints, and to the best of its ability to redress real injuries.

The most important measure, perhaps, in its effect on the Native Races has been the settlement of large portions of various tribes in the country beyond the Kei,—a measure which is still regarded with apprehension by some on account of its dangerous accumulation of the Natives, without any admixture of Europeans; by others from a fear that a check will thus be given to their moral progress, and that they will be left a prey to all the vices of heathenism.

To the former I would say that a careful examination of their position goes to show that much disunion prevails between the Tribes in that locality; that our influence mainly preserves peace between them; and that their main object appears to be to occupy the first position in our estimation. I cannot think that our future relations with them will be so mismanaged as to cause the loss of the advantages we now possess. Viewing the question in its moral aspect, it will be well, before we condemn the Transkeian arrangement, to satisfy ourselves as to the real state of things on this side of the Border. We do not here profess to interfere with Native Customs not in themselves illegal. The case is not very different beyond. Our officers exert a wholesome influence; free access is afforded to Christian Missionaries; the small salaries that we pay to the principal men give us the right to remonstrate on all occasions of necessity. It will, however, be the duty of the Government to keep Parliament fully informed on all points connected with the political and social state of these people. There remains still for final adjustment one question of importance in its effect on the Native Tribes,—that of the reception as British Subjects of the Tribe of the Basutos; which I sincerely hope may be so accomplished as not only to secure their welfare, but to pave the way for other beneficial changes in due season on the Northern Bank of the Orange River. Speaking entirely on my own responsibility, giving expression only to my own opinions, I may say that I regard the measures which severed from their allegiance the European communities in those regions to have been founded in error; and that it will be a blessing for all if, with their general and hearty concurrence, they can be restored in a general sense to their former position. I should not wish to be regarded as an advocate of the actual union of any of them with the Colony of the Cape. This Colony is already large enough,—probably too large,—for the population by which it is likely for many years to be inhabited; and the extension of it beyond the Orange River would, it is to be feared, cause a renewal of those demands for disunion, whether under the name of Separation or Federation, which have done so much mischief, and which I rejoice to see dying out. What is to be hoped for, in my opinion, is the creation, beyond the River, of a large and well-organized Government, bound to this Colony only by a common allegiance, by the ties of kinship, by congenial laws, by just covenants, and by a common desire to extend the blessings of Christianity, peace, and civilization to all within their reach.

It should, however, be borne in mind that such Territorial arrangements must be in their essence Colonial. They may be adopted and sanctioned by the Imperial Government, but their execution and their maintenance must be effected by Colonial agency. It would be but self-deception in these days to reckon on the British Government assuming to itself any substantial responsibility for such measures. They must be in harmony with the wishes of the Colonial community, or they must not be attempted.

You are now about to return to your respective Constituencies to render an account of your discharge of the trust that has been confided to you, and in many cases, no doubt, to seek for its renewal. You can point with confidence to the transactions of this last Session, to the patience, public spirit, and harmony by which all its proceedings have been characterized; and you will carry with you my best wishes that they may be duly appreciated and rewarded.

I now, in Her Majesty's name, prorogue this Parliament of Her Majesty's Settlement of the Cape of Good Hope to Wednesday, the 16th day of December next, and it is hereby prorogued accordingly.

PROCLAMATION

BY HIS EXCELLENCY SIR PHILIP EDMOND WODEHOUSE,

Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Colony of the Cape of Good Hope in South Africa, and of the Territories and Dependencies thereof, and Vice-Admiral of the same, and Her Majesty's High Commissioner, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS, by the Eighty-fifth Article of the Ordinance for constituting a Parliament for the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, it is enacted that the Governor of the said Colony shall cause every Act of the Parliament so constituted, which he shall have assented to in Her Majesty's name, to be printed in the Government Gazette, for general information; and such publication, by such Governor, of any Act of the said Parliament shall be deemed to be, in law, the promulgation of the same: Now I do hereby proclaim, declare, and make known that the subjoined Acts, numbered 3 to 33 of the year 1868, printed in this Gazette, are hereby promulgated.

Given under the Public Seal of the Cape of Good Hope, this 2nd day of September, 1868.

And the person to whom such ticket shall be delivered shall be entitled to demand and receive payment of the said amount from the civil commissioner of the division.

It shall be lawful for the Association aforesaid to be appointed, either under or by virtue of any decree of any competent court, or by the Master of the Supreme Court in his official capacity, or by the last will or codicil or other valid deed or act of any person, to be executors, tutors, curators, administrators, trustees, or agents; and every appointment which shall be, or shall have been, made of the said Association in any such capacity as aforesaid, by any name intended to designate the said Association, and every appointment of the directors of the said Association, or of the secretary thereof, to act in any such capacity as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken to be an appointment of the said Association by its proper name as "The South African Association for the Administration and Settlement of Estates."

All appointments of the Association to act in any of the capacities aforesaid which shall have been made at any time prior to the taking effect of this Act shall be deemed and taken to be as valid and effectual, and to be of the same force and effect, as if the last preceding section of this Act had formed a section of the Act aforesaid, No. 9, 1855, entitled "An Act for incorporating the South African Association."

TO

Declare void certain Laws imposing Disabilities on certain Persons and Bodies on account of their Religious Persuasions, and to amend Ordinance No. 68.

WHEREAS certain restrictions, disabilities, and penalties have in times past been imposed by certain laws formerly in force in the Dutch Republic and in this Colony, upon certain religious communities and orders, and upon certain persons, by reason of such communities, orders, and persons holding and professing certain religious opinions, which laws have become obsolete in this Colony, but have never formally been repealed: And whereas it is expedient that such laws, so far as the same impose any such restrictions, disabilities, and penalties as aforesaid, should be formally declared to be null and void, in order by such declaration to place on an equal footing before the law all religious denominations: And whereas certain restrictions, disabilities, and penalties are by certain provisions of Ordinance No. 68, entitled "An Ordinance for the relief of His Majesty's Roman Catholic Subjects in this Colony," imposed on certain persons of the Roman Catholic persuasion in respect of such persuasion, which provisions have fallen into disuse, and it is expedient for the reasons abovementioned that the same provisions should be repealed: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

AN ACT

TO

Make provision for the winding up of Joint-Stock Companies.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the winding up of joint-stock companies in this Colony, in cases where it is desirable that such companies should be wound up: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The term joint-stock company in this Act shall mean every partnership whereof the capital is divided, or agreed to be divided, into shares, and so as to be transferable without express consent of all the partners, and also every partnership which at its formation, or by subsequent admission, shall consist, or have at any time consisted of, more than seven members.

II. Every joint-stock company may be wound up under the following circumstances, that is to say:

1. Whenever the company has passed a special resolution that the same shall be wound up.
2. Whenever the company does not commence its business within one year from its incorporation, or suspends its business for the course of a year.
3. Whenever the number of members is reduced below seven.
4. Whenever three fourths of the subscribed capital have been lost or become unavailable for the business of the company.
5. Whenever the company is unable to pay its debts.
6. Whenever the court is of opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up.

III. A joint-stock company shall be deemed to be unable to pay its debts—

1. Whenever any person shall have obtained any judgment, decree, or order of any court of competent jurisdiction for the payment of money against such joint-stock company or any officer of the same, as such officer on behalf of or as representing such joint-stock company, and such judgment, decree, or order shall remain unpaid or unsecured without the consent of the creditor for a space of thirty days.
2. Whenever to any writ or warrant of execution of any competent court there shall be a return of no effects, or no sufficient effects to answer the amount of the writ, or other return to the like effect.
3. Whenever any creditor of the company has sued out any summons or other process of any competent court for the recovery of any debt or money demand to the amount of ten pounds or upwards against such company or any officer thereof, as such officer as representing such company, and such creditor shall file in the Supreme Court an affidavit of such suing out of such summons or other process, and that the debt or money demand for the recovery whereof such summons or other process shall have been issued is justly due to him, and such company shall not within twenty-one days after the service of notice of such affidavit, and the like number of days after service of such summons or other process upon them, which shall last happen, have paid or secured or otherwise arranged to the satisfaction of such creditor for such debt, or have made it appear to the satisfaction of a judge of the Supreme Court that it is the bonâ fide intention of such company to defend such action on the merits thereof, and that there is reasonable ground for such defence, and shall not within twenty-one days after the service of such notice and summons or other process have caused appearance to be entered to such action.
4. Whenever it shall be proved by any means to the satisfaction of the court that the company is unable to pay its debts.

IV. Every application to the court for winding up of a company under this Act shall be by petition to the Supreme Court, and may be presented by the company, if incorporated in the Colony, or by any officer of the company, if not incorporated in this Colony, authorized to sue in the name or on behalf of the company, or by one or more than one creditor of the company, or by one or more than one member of or contributory to the company, or by all or any of the above parties; and every order for winding up which shall be made on such petition shall have the same effect, no matter on whose petition the same shall be made.

V. The winding up shall have relation to the date of the presenting of the petition for winding up on which any order for winding up shall be made.

VI. The court may at any time after the presentation of a petition for winding up a company, and either before or after making an order for winding up the company, upon the application of the company or of any person interested as creditor, contributory, or otherwise, restrain the commencement of, or any further proceedings in any action, suit, or other proceeding, nominally or actually, against the company, either absolutely or upon such terms as the court shall deem right, and may also at any time after the presentation of such petition, and before the appointment of general liquidators, appoint a provisional liquidator or liquidators of the estate and effects of the company, with all or such of the powers of general official liquidators as the court shall order.

VII. Upon the hearing of any petition for winding up, the court may dismiss the same with or without costs, or may adjourn the hearing thereof conditionally or unconditionally, and may make such interim or interlocutory order on the same, and may direct such inquiries or generally may make such order as may seem just.

VIII. When any order shall have been made for winding up a company, no action, suit, or other proceeding shall be brought or further prosecuted against the company, except by leave of the court, and under such conditions, if any, as the court may impose.

IX. The court may at any time after such order, on the application of the liquidator or liquidators, either general or provisional, or of any creditor of or contributory to such company, or other person showing an interest in the matter, and upon proof to the satisfaction of the court that all or any proceedings in relation to such winding up ought to be stayed either absolutely or conditionally, or suspended for any time, make order accordingly, subject or not subject to conditions, or any other order of the same nature as shall to the court seem just.

X. The court may in all matters under this Act give such weight as shall seem just to the wishes of creditors of or contributories to any company on the subject of any proceeding under this Act, and may regard the wishes or votes of such creditors and contributories, or of any particular classes of such, respectively, as respects number and as respects value, and as respects the power of voting given by the trust deed or articles of association of the company, if any, according as may seem just with regard to the matter before the court, and may direct meetings of creditors or of contributories, or of both, or of any particular classes thereof, to be called, held, and conducted in such place and in such manner as may seem just, for the purpose of ascertaining their wishes, and may appoint the person to act as chairman of any such meeting and to report to the court the result thereof.

XI. For the purpose of conducting the proceedings in winding up a company, the court may appoint a person or persons to be called an official liquidator, or official liquidators, and may make such appointment for any time and subject to any conditions which shall seem right. In all cases, if more persons than one are appointed to the office of official liquidator, the court shall declare whether any act hereby required or authorized to be done by the official liquidator is to be done by all, or any one or more of such persons. The court shall determine also whether any and what security shall be given by any official liquidator on his appointment. If no official liquidator is appointed, or during any vacancy in such appointment, all the property of the company shall be deemed in the custody of the court; and in any indictment for theft thereof, or of any part thereof, under such circumstances, or for any similar purpose, the property may be laid in the Master of the Supreme Court.

XII. Any official liquidator may resign, or may be removed by the court on due cause shown, and any vacancy in the office of official liquidator may be filled by the court, and not otherwise.

XIII. There shall be paid to the official liquidator such salary or remuneration, by way of percentage or otherwise, and dependent on his good behaviour in his office, as the court may direct, and if more liquidators than one are appointed such remuneration shall be distributed among them in such proportions as the court shall direct.

XIV. The official liquidator or official liquidators shall be described by the style of the official liquidator or official liquidators of the company in respect of which he or they shall be appointed, and not by his or their individual name or names. He or they shall take into his or their custody or under his or their control all the property, effects, and things in action or possession to which the company is or appears to be entitled, and shall perform such duties in reference to the winding up of the company as may be imposed by the court.

XV. The official liquidator shall have power, with the sanction of the court, to do the following things:

1. To bring, defend, prosecute or continue, or to continue the defence of, any action, suit, or proceeding, civil or criminal, in the name and on behalf of the company.
2. To carry on the business of the company so far as may be necessary for the beneficial winding up of the same.
3. To sell the movable and immovable property and effects and things in action or possession belonging to the company, by public auction or private contract, with power to transfer the whole thereof to any person or company or to sell the same in parcels.
4. To do all acts, and to execute in the name and on behalf of the company all deeds, receipts, and other documents, and for that purpose to use, when necessary, the company's seal, if any.
5. To prove, rank, claim, and draw dividend in the matter of any insolvency of any debtor or contributory to the company for any balance against the estate of such debtor or contributory, and to take and receive dividends in respect of such balance in the matter of the insolvency as a separate debt due from such insolvent, and rateably with his other creditors or with preference, as the case may be.
6. To draw, accept, make, and endorse any bill of exchange or promissory note in the name and on behalf of the company, wherever the company itself was authorized to draw, accept, make, or endorse such bills or notes, respectively, also to raise upon the security of the assets of the company from time to time any requisite sum or sums of money; and the drawing, accepting, making or endorsing of every such bill or note as aforesaid on behalf of the company shall have the same effect with respect to the liability of such company as if such bill or note had been drawn, accepted, made, or endorsed by or on behalf of such company in the course of carrying on the business thereof.
7. To take out, if necessary, in his official name, letters of administration to any deceased contributory, and to do in his official name any other act that may be necessary for obtaining payment of any moneys due from a contributory or his estate, which act cannot be conveniently done in the name of the company; and in all cases where he takes out letters of administration, or otherwise uses his official name for obtaining payment of any moneys due from a contributory, such moneys shall, for the purpose of enabling him to take out such letters or recover such moneys, be deemed to be due to the official liquidator himself.
8. To do and execute all such other things as may be necessary for winding up the affairs of the company and distributing its assets.

XVI. The court may provide by any order that the official liquidators may exercise any of the above powers without the sanction or intervention of the court, and where an official liquidator is provisionally appointed may limit and restrict his powers by the order appointing him.

XVII. The official liquidator may, with the sanction of the court, appoint an attorney-at-law to assist him in the performance of his duties.

XVIII. As soon as may be after making an order for winding up the company, the court shall settle a list of contributories, with power to rectify the register of members in all cases where such rectification is required, and shall cause the assets of the company to be collected and applied in discharge of its liabilities.

XIX. In settling the list of contributories the court shall distinguish between persons who are contributories in their own right and persons who are contributories as being representatives of or being liable to the debts of others.

XX. The court may, at any time after making an order for winding up a company, require any contributory for the time being settled on the list of contributories, trustee, receiver, banker, or agent or officer of the company, to pay, deliver, convey, surrender, or transfer forthwith, or within such time as the court directs, to or into the hands of the official liquidator, all moneys, books, papers, estate, or effects which happen to be in his hands for the time being and to which the company is primâ facie entitled.

XXI. The court may, at any time after making an order for winding up the company, make an order on any contributory for the time being settled on the list of contributories, directing payment to be made in manner in the said order mentioned of any moneys due from him, or from the estate of the person whom he represents, to the company, exclusive of any moneys which he, or the estate of the person whom he represents, may be liable to contribute by virtue of any call made or to be made by the court in pursuance of this Act; and it may, in making such order, when the company is not limited, allow to such contributory, by way of set off, any moneys due to him, or the estate which he represents, from the company on any independent dealing or contract with the company, but not any moneys due to him as a member of the company in respect of any dividend or profit: Provided that when all the creditors of any company, whether limited or unlimited, are paid in full, any moneys due on any account whatever to any contributory from the company may be allowed to him by way of set-off against any subsequent call or calls.

XXII. The court may, at any time after making an order for winding up a company, and either before or after it has ascertained the sufficiency of the assets of the company, make calls on, and order payment thereof by, all or any of the contributories for the time being settled on the list of contributories, to the extent of their liability, for payment of all or any sums it deems necessary to satisfy the debts and liabilities of the company, and the costs, charges, and expenses of winding it up, and for the adjustment of the rights of the contributories amongst themselves, and shall, in making any call, consider the rights of such contributories amongst themselves, and so make such call as to conduce to the ultimate adjustment of such rights without prejudice to the paramount rights of creditors and others, if any; and it may, in making a call, take into consideration the probability that some of the contributories upon whom the same is made may partly or wholly fail to pay their respective portions of the same.

XXIII. The court may order any contributory, purchaser, or other person from whom money is due to the company, to pay the same to some bank to be named by the court, to an account to be opened therewith in the name of the official liquidator, as such in the fourteenth section of this Act is provided, instead of to the official liquidator; and such order may be enforced in the same manner as if it had directed payment to the official liquidator; and the liquidator may, in like manner, be ordered to pay into the like bank any sum or sums of money in his hands, or to come into his hands, on behalf of the company, to the like account.

XXIV. All moneys, bills, notes, and other securities paid, and delivered into such bank as aforesaid shall be subject to such order and regulation for the keeping of the account of such moneys and other effects, and for the payment and delivery in, or investment and payment and delivery out of, the same, as the court may direct.

XXV. If any person made a contributory as personal representative of a deceased contributory makes default in paying any sum ordered to be paid by him, the official liquidator shall be deemed entitled to claim as a creditor on the estate of such deceased contributory in respect of the sum so ordered to be paid, and shall be entitled to take proceedings as such creditor for recovering such sum out of the estate of such deceased contributory.

XXVI. Any order made by the court in pursuance of this Act upon any contributory shall, subject to the provisions herein contained for appealing against such order, be conclusive evidence that the moneys, if any, thereby appearing to be due or ordered to be paid are due, and all other pertinent matters stated in such order are primâ facie to be taken to be truly stated as against all persons and in all proceedings whatsoever.

XXVII. The court may fix a certain day or certain days on or within which creditors of the company are to prove their debts or claims or be excluded from the benefit of any distribution made before such debts are proved.

XXVIII. The court shall adjust the rights of the contributories amongst themselves and distribute any surplus that may remain amongst the parties entitled thereto.

XXIX. The court may, in the event of the assets being insufficient to satisfy the liabilities, make an order as to the payment out of the estate of the company of the costs, charges, and expenses incurred in winding up any company, in such order of priority as the court thinks just.

XXX. When the affairs of the company have been completely wound up, the court shall make an order that the company be dissolved from the date of such order, and the company shall be dissolved accordingly.

XXXI. Any order so made shall be published in the Government

Gazette and in such newspaper as the court may direct within ten days after the making of such order.

XXXII. If the official liquidator makes default in publishing as aforesaid the order that the company be dissolved, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds sterling for every day during which he is so in default.

XXXIII. The court may, after it has made an order for winding up the company, summon before it any officer of the company or person known or suspected to have in his possession any of the estate or effects of the company, or supposed to be indebted to the company, or any person whom the court may deem capable of giving information concerning the trade, dealings, estate, or effects of the company, and the court may require any such officer or person to produce any books, papers, deeds, writings, or other documents in his custody or power relating to the company; and if any person so summoned, after being tendered a reasonable sum for his expenses, refuses to come before the court at the time appointed, having no lawful impediment (made known to the court at the time of its sitting, and allowed by it), the court may cause such person to be apprehended and brought before the court for examination; nevertheless, in cases where any person claims any lien on papers, deeds, writings, or documents produced by him, such production shall be without prejudice to such lien, and the court shall have jurisdiction in the winding up to determine all questions relating to such lien.

XXXIV. The court may cause to be examined upon oath, either by word of mouth or upon written interrogatories, any person appearing or brought before it in manner aforesaid, or whom it may be desired to examine, concerning the affairs, dealings, estate, or effects of the company, and may cause to be reduced into writing the answers of every such person and require him to subscribe the same.

XXXV. The court may, at any time before or after it has made an order for winding up a company, upon proof being given that there is probable cause for believing that any contributory to such company is about to quit the Colony or otherwise abscond, or to remove or to conceal any of his goods or chattels, for the purpose of evading payment of calls, or for avoiding examination in respect of the affairs of the company, cause such contributory to be arrested, and his books, papers, moneys, securities for moneys, goods and chattels to be seized, and him and them to be safely kept until such time as the court may order. But bail may be accepted by the court, if it shall seem fit, for due payment of any calls due by him, or for the production of such books, papers, securities, goods, and chattels, or any of such matters; and on such bail being given to the satisfaction of the court, such person may be released from custody, or such books, papers, securities, goods, and chattels, or any of them, from seizure, as to the court may seem right.

XXXVI. Any powers by this Act conferred on the court shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in restriction of, any other powers subsisting, either at law or in equity, of instituting proceedings against any contributory, or the estate of any contributory, or against any debtor of the company, for the recovery of any call or other sums due from such contributory or debtor or his estate, and such proceedings may be instituted accordingly.

XXXVII. Reviews of, and appeals from, any order or decision made or given in the matter of the winding up of a company by the court may be had in the same manner and subject to the same conditions in and subject to which reviews and appeals may be had respectively from any order or decision of the same court in cases within its ordinary jurisdiction.

XXXVIII. Where any company is being wound up under this Act all dispositions of the property, effects, and things in action of the company, and every transfer of shares or alteration in the status of the members of the company made between the commencement of the winding up and the order for winding up, shall, unless the court otherwise order be void.

XXXIX. Where any company is being wound up, all books, accounts, and documents of the company and of the liquidators shall, as between the contributories of the company, be primâ facie evidence of the truth of all matters purporting to be therein recorded.

XL. Where any company has been wound up under this Act, and is about to be dissolved, the books, accounts, and documents of the company and of the liquidators may be disposed of in such way as the court shall direct.

XLI. When an order has been made for winding up a company the court may make such order for the inspection by the creditors and contributories of the company of its books and papers as the court thinks just, and any books and papers in the possession of the company may be inspected by the creditors or contributories in conformity with the order of the court, but not otherwise.

XLII. In the event of any company being wound up under this Act, all debts payable on a contingency and all claims against the company, present or future, certain or contingent, ascertained or sounding only in damages, shall be admissible to proof against the company; a just estimate being made, so far as possible, of the value of all such debts or claims as may be subject to any contingency, or sound only in damages, or for some other reason do not bear a certain value; and in proving or claiming debts against any company in course of winding up under this Act, save where it is herein otherwise provided, the principles regulating the proof of debts in case of the judicial insolvency of any individual shall, so far as may be, be followed and observed.

XLIII. The liquidators may, with the sanction of the court, pay any classes of creditors in full, or make such compromise or other arrangement as they may, with the like sanction, deem expedient with creditors, or persons claiming to be creditors, or persons having or alleging themselves to have a claim, present or future, certain or contingent, ascertained or sounding only in damages, against the company, or whereby the company may be rendered liable.

XLIV. The liquidators may, with the sanction of the court, compromise all calls and liability to calls, debts, and liabilities capable of resulting in debts, and all claims, whether present or future, certain or contingent, ascertained or sounding only in damages, subsisting or supposed to subsist between the company and any contributory, or alleged contributory, or other debtor or person apprehending liability to the company, and all questions in any way relating to or affecting the assets of the company, or the winding up of the company, upon the receipt of such sums, payable at such times and generally upon such terms as may be agreed upon, with power for the liquidators to take any security for the discharge of such debts or liabilities and to give complete discharges in respect of all or any such calls, debts, or liabilities.

XLV. Where any company is being wound up under this Act, any attachment, sequestration, distress, or execution put in force against the estate or effects of the company after the commencement of the winding up shall be void to all intents.

XLVI. Any alienation, transfer, cession, delivery of goods, mortgage, or pledge of any goods or effects, movable or immovable, personal or real, and any payment of money which would, if made or done by or against any private person, in the event of his insolvency, be deemed to have been made or done by way of undue preference, under and by virtue of Ordinance No. 6 of 1843, intituled "Ordinance for regulating the due Collection, Administration, and Distribution of Insolvent Estates within this Colony," shall, if made or done by or against any company, be deemed, in the event of such company being wound up under this Act, to have been made or done by way of undue preference of the creditors of such company, and shall be invalid accordingly; and for the purposes of this section the presentation of a petition for winding up a company shall be deemed to correspond with the order for the compulsory sequestration of the estate of a private person under the fifth section of the Ordinance No. 6 of 1843 aforesaid; and any conveyance or assignment made by any company of all its estate and effects to trustees for the benefit of its creditors shall be void to all intents.

XLVII. Where, in the course of winding up any company under this Act, it appears that any past or present director, manager, official or other liquidator, or any officer of such company, has misapplied or retained in his own hands, or become liable or accountable for any moneys of the company, or been guilty of any misfeasance or breach of trust in relation to the company, the court may, on the application of any liquidator, or of any creditor or contributory of the company, notwithstanding that the offence is one for which the offender is criminally responsible, examine into the conduct of such director, manager, or other officer, and compel him to repay any moneys so misapplied or retained, or for which he has become liable or accountable, together with interest at such rate as the court thinks just, or to contribute such sums of money to the assets of the company, by way of compensation in respect of misapplication, retainer, misfeasance, or breach of trust, as the court may think just.

XLVIII. If any director, officer, or contributory of any company wound up or being wound up under this Act shall destroy, mutilate, alter or falsify any books, papers, writings, or securities, or shall make, or be privy to the making of, any false or fraudulent entry in any register, book of account, or other document belonging to the company, with intent to defraud or deceive any person, every person so offending shall, upon conviction, be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour.

XLIX. Where any order is made for winding up a company under this Act, if it appear in the course of such winding up that any past or present director, manager, officer, or member of such company has been guilty of any offence in relation to the company, for which he is criminally responsible, the court may, on the application of any person interested in such winding up, or of its own motion, direct the official liquidator to institute and conduct a prosecution or prosecutions for such offence, and may order the costs and expenses to be paid out of the assets of the company.

L. If any person, upon any examination upon oath or affirmation under this Act, or in any affidavit, deposition, or solemn affirmation in or about the winding up of any company under this Act, or otherwise in or about any matter arising under this Act, shall wilfully and corruptly give false evidence, he shall, upon conviction, be liable to the penalties of wilful perjury.

LI. The court may in the course of any winding up, in any case in which it shall see fit, direct that meetings shall be held, either of the creditors or contributories, or of both, and may direct that votes shall be taken either in person or by proxy, or in person and by proxy, and may direct that the majority may be estimated either by number or value, or by both, and may generally direct what shall be submitted to any such meeting, and how the proceedings thereof shall be carried on, and who shall preside thereat, but shall not be bound by any resolution of any such meeting.

LII. The judges of the Supreme Court may, as often as circumstances require, make such rules concerning the mode of proceeding to be had for winding up a company as may from time to time seem necessary, and may provide by such rules for the performance of such functions of the court, and the exercise of the jurisdiction of the court, in such cases and for such purposes under this Act, by the court in chambers, or by a judge in chambers, as to such judges shall seem just and convenient.

LIII. This Act may be cited as the "Winding-up Act of 1868."

AN ACT

FOR

Defining and establishing the Constitution of the Joint-Stock Company or Copartnership called "The Eastern Province Bank."

WHEREAS the shareholders of the joint-stock company or copartnership, trading as bankers at Graham's Town and at Cradock, in this Colony, and called the "Eastern Province Bank," under the provisions of a certain deed of settlement, bearing date the 28th day of December, 1855, and certain supplements thereof, are desirous that the constitution of the said company should be defined and established by authority of Parliament: And whereas it is expedient so to do: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The deed of settlement aforesaid of the said bank, bearing date the 28th day of December, 1855, and all supplements thereto, and all acts or resolutions affecting the said deed of settlement or the constitution of the said bank, made, executed, or passed at any time before the taking effect of this Act, are (except as hereinafter excepted) hereby repealed, rescinded, and made void.

II. Notwithstanding the repeal aforesaid, every right or claim of or against the said company existing at the time of the taking effect of this Act, or arising from any transaction entered into before such time, shall survive for or against the said company as constituted under this Act, and shall to all intents and purposes be judged of as if the deeds, instruments, matters, and things by the last preceding section repealed, rescinded, and made void were still in full force and operation.

III. All property of every description, movable and immovable, rights, claims, credits, matters, and things, nothing excepted, which shall at the time of the taking effect of this Act belong to the said company, by being vested in the trustees thereof, in trust for the said company, shall, upon and from and after the taking effect of this Act, continue to belong to the said company, and become and be, under and by virtue of this Act, vested in the trustees of the said company appointed under the fifty-eighth section of this Act.

IV. The capital stock of the said company shall, as heretofore, consist of the sum of one hundred and twenty-one thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds sterling, raised and made up by and in respect of subscribed capital paid up upon and in respect of the shares in the next succeeding section mentioned, and from moneys acquired and accumulated from the business hitherto conducted by the said company, of which sum of one hundred and twenty-one thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds sterling the sum of three thousand one hundred and thirty nine pounds four shillings and sixpence sterling is or forms the "reserve fund;" all which said amount shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be held and applied for and on account of the said company, and may be increased in manner hereinafter provided.

V. The shares of the said company which are now in existence, and are in number three thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, of the value of twenty-five pounds sterling each, and upon each of which the sum of twenty-five pounds sterling has been fully paid up, shall continue to be the shares, for the time being, of the said company, and be and remain numbered progressively from 1 to 3,856, and shall be held by and belong to the existing shareholders of the said company.

VI. The directors of the said company may, with the previous consent of shareholders, as hereafter mentioned, from time to time create such further and other shares of twenty-five pounds sterling each as they shall deem advisable, not exceeding, however, in the whole, two thousand and eight hundred shares; and the said directors may from time to time sell or dispose of the same in such manner and upon such terms and under such regulations and conditions as they may think fit: Provided that no such further or other shares shall be created unless a majority of four fifths or upwards of the votes given at a general meeting of shareholders, convened under and in accordance with the twenty-fourth section of this Act, shall authorize the creation of such shares, and fix the maximum number which it shall be lawful to create: Provided, also, that the notice to be given of such general meeting shall specify the purpose for which it is called: Provided, further, that such additional shares shall not at any time be sold at a less rate than thirty-five pounds sterling for each and every such share, and such additional share or shares, when taken or purchased, shall subject the holders thereof to all the risks, liabilities, and engagements, and shall entitle them to all the benefits, rights, and privileges in respect thereof, of existing shareholders.

VII. In case any person or persons who may purchase any such further or other share or shares in the said bank as aforesaid, or to whom the same may be allotted, shall fail to sign the deed or instrument hereinafter in and by the seventy-eighth section of this Act mentioned within two calendar months after such sale, or after notice of allotment; or if any such person or persons shall make default in the payment of the purchase money of any such share or shares as aforesaid, or of any instalment or instalments thereof, within twenty-eight days after the same shall have become payable, or shall otherwise neglect or refuse to comply with the terms and conditions upon which the same were sold or allotted, then such person or persons shall forfeit to the company all right, title, and interest in and to the share and shares in respect of which any such default shall be made, and in and to all the money (if any) which shall have been previously paid thereon. And thereupon the directors for the time being, if they think fit, shall, in the place of such forfeited share or shares, create a new share or shares, which shall be sold or otherwise disposed of to some other person who will comply with the several conditions and provisions of these presents: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the said directors from empowering and requiring the trustees for the time being of the said company to bring and maintain their action against any such defaulter, if the said directors shall think fit so to do, instead of declaring such share or shares to be forfeited as aforesaid; whereupon the said trustees shall bring and maintain such action accordingly.

VIII. No person shall be holder of more than two hundred shares in the aforesaid capital stock in his own right: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person from holding, in addition thereto, such shares as he may become entitled to by inheritance bequest, gift, marriage, or as executor, administrator, or other legal representative of a deceased shareholder.

IX. No person shall be entitled, in his capacity as guardian of, or trustee for, any minor or number of minors, to become the holder at any time of more than one hundred shares, in the whole, for such minors; and any person who shall become the holder of any share or shares as guardian or trustee for any minor shall be personally liable to pay any calls or claims which may accrue on account thereof, so long as the person for whom he shall hold the same shall remain under age.

X. In no case shall more than one person be permitted to become a shareholder in respect of any share in the capital of the said company, it being the true intent and meaning of this Act that two or more persons shall not be allowed to become jointly shareholders in respect of any share or shares.

XI. The directors shall cause the names and additions of all present and future shareholders, and the shares belonging to every shareholder, and the proper number of each share, to be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, to be called the "Share Registry Book;" and the certificates held by the shareholders shall stand good for, and continue to represent, the existing shares aforesaid of the said company; and in respect of any further or other shares which may hereafter be created under the provisions of this Act, the directors shall cause to be delivered to the persons entitled to the same an extract from such book, by way of certificate, signed by any three of the directors, and which certificate shall at all times be deemed sufficient evidence of the interest in such share of the respective parties to whom the same shall be granted; and the said certificate shall be in the form following, that is to say:

No. —— £25.

XII. No certificate shall be delivered to any shareholder, until he shall have subscribed the deed or instrument hereinafter in and by the seventy-eighth section of this Act provided, either personally or by an agent duly authorized thereto by him in writing, in which latter case the authority shall be attested by two witnesses, and shall remain filed in the office of the company.

XIII. Any person who shall become entitled to any share or shares by purchase, representation, or otherwise, and who shall then be a registered shareholder of the company, or who shall, not having been a shareholder at the taking effect of this Act, have signed the deed or instrument hereinafter in and by the seventy-eighth section of this Act provided, in respect of any share or shares, shall not be required or obliged again to execute the said deed or instrument, but shall be entitled, upon having the requisite transfer effected, to be immediately entered in the share registry book as the holder of the said shares.

XIV. When any shareholder shall be desirous of disposing of any share or shares in the capital stock of the said bank, he shall make application in writing, addressed to the chairman of the board of directors, desiring to have such share or shares transferred, and stating the name, residence, and condition of the person to whom he desires that the same shall be transferred; and the chairman shall submit such application to the then next meeting of the directors, who shall thereupon at such meeting authorize the transfer of such share or shares if they shall so see fit, into the name of the proposed transferee thereof, and such transferee shall take upon himself the engagements and liabilities of the original shareholder, and shall sign the deed or instrument hereinafter in and by the seventy-eighth section of this Act mentioned: Provided, always, that no transfer shall be authorized of any share or shares upon which any instalments or calls remain unpaid, or unless the directors shall deem the proposed transferee to be sufficient to meet the engagements and liabilities of the shareholder desiring to have the transfer made, and shall approve of such proposed transferee.

a person of good name and character: Provided, also, that such proposed transferee shall not be a person who would, in case such transfer were made, become the proprietor of more than two hundred shares in the said bank.

XV. All transfers of shares shall be made by endorsement upon the certificate, specifying the person to whom the same is transferred: Provided, however, that no such endorsement shall be valid to transfer any interest in, or profit or title to, any share, or any dividend, profit, or advantage arising therefrom, until such endorsement shall have been duly registered at the said bank, and three of the directors shall have certified such registration upon the said certificate, and that they consent to such transfer.

XVI. On any person ceasing to be a shareholder of the company in respect of all or any of the shares held by him, and on any person becoming a proprietor of any share or shares in the capital of the said company, the directors shall cause all such entries to be made in the share registry book as shall be necessary, in order that the said book may at all times show who are the shareholders for the time being of the company, and the number of shares held by each of the shareholders, and the proper number of each share held by each of the shareholders for the time being.

XVII. Every shareholder whose share or shares shall have been transferred to any other person in manner hereinbefore mentioned shall be released and discharged, as between himself and the other shareholders, from all and every liability, claim, and demand whatsoever to which he would have been liable in respect of such share or shares in case such share or shares had not been transferred.

XVIII. The directors shall from time to time, and at all times hereafter, make such further rules, orders, and regulations respecting the transfer of shares, and by whom the same shall be prepared, and whether any, and what, charge to and in favour of the bank shall be payable thereon, as shall appear to them necessary and advisable for the security and advantage of the company and the due transference of the said shares; and all transfers, sales, or assignments of any share or shares in the company which shall not be made conformably to the provisions of this Act, and according to the regulations of the directors, shall, as regards the said bank, be null and void.

XIX. A general meeting of the shareholders shall be held at the banking-house of the said bank, in Graham's Town, or at such other place in Graham's Town as the directors of the said company may appoint, upon the last Wednesday in the month of January in each year, and every such meeting shall be called the "annual general meeting."

XX. At every annual general meeting the directors shall lay before the shareholders a general statement of, and report on, the affairs of the said company, to be made up to, and inclusive of, the 31st day of December in each year.

XXI. Every annual general meeting shall have full power to superintend, regulate, and control all the affairs and concerns of the said bank: Provided that it shall not be competent for any shareholder at any annual general meeting to propose any gift of money or increase of salary to any officer of the bank, unless such gift or increase shall have been recommended to such meeting by the board of directors. Any resolution passed in contravention of this section shall be null and void.

XXII. The directors may at any time call a general meeting of the shareholders, for the purpose of submitting to their consideration any question or matter concerning the interests of the bank.

XXIII. The directors shall call a general meeting of the shareholders whenever required so to do by a requisition in writing, to be left at the office of the bank, in which the object for which such meeting is required to be called shall be stated, and which requisition shall be signed by not less than fifteen of the shareholders, each of whom shall have been a shareholder of the bank for at least three months before the day on which such requisition shall be lodged, and which requisitionists shall be entitled, in the whole, to not less than forty votes. Every such meeting shall be called upon a notice, to be issued within twenty-eight days next after such requisition shall have been so lodged as aforesaid.

XXIV. All meetings of the shareholders, whether the annual general meeting or any special general meeting, to be convened under any of the provisions of this Act, shall be held at the banking-house of the said bank, in Graham's Town, or at such other place in Graham's Town as the directors may appoint, and shall be called by advertisement addressed to the shareholders of the bank, to be inserted at least twice in any one or more of the local newspapers; the first of which insertions shall not take place later than twenty-one days before the day for which the meeting shall be called: Provided, however, that if, from accident or other cause, such notice shall fail to be given in regard to any annual general meeting, such meeting shall nevertheless be held upon the day aforesaid appointed for the purpose, and be as legal, in all respects, as if such notice had been given: Provided, also, that the notice of every meeting, other than the annual general meeting, shall state the objects or purposes for which it is called.

XXV. An alphabetical list of the shareholders, with the number of their shares and of the votes to which they are respectively entitled in regard to such shares, shall be made out from the share registry book, and laid upon the table previous to the commencement of any general meeting of the shareholders.

XXVI. At the annual general meeting, and at all other general meetings of the proprietors, the chairman of the board of directors, or the director present whose name stands next on the list of the directors, shall preside, and in all cases where the votes are equal such chairman, besides his proper or original vote, shall have a casting vote.

XXVII. No resolution which may be in anywise repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act, or any alteration of this Act made under the authority of this Act, as hereinafter provided, shall be passed at any such meeting as is hereinbefore mentioned; and the same, if passed, shall be of no force or effect.

XXVIII. The minutes of the proceedings of every meeting of the shareholders shall be entered in a proper book to be kept for that purpose, and the same shall be signed by the chairman presiding at such meeting.

XXIX. Should the shareholders at any meeting be unable to come at once to a decision upon any question duly brought before them, or should the scrutineers hereafter mentioned be unable to declare the result of any ballot on the day on which the meeting shall be held, or should any other circumstance make an adjournment desirable, it shall be competent for the chairman, upon motion made and question put, to adjourn such meeting to such future day and hour as the majority of shareholders present shall, by a show of hands, determine.

XXX. No business shall be transacted at any meeting of shareholders, not being the annual general meeting, other than the special business for which it shall have been called, and no other business shall be transacted at any adjourned general meeting, whether the annual general meeting or not, except the business left unfinished at the meeting at which such adjournment took place.

XXXI. In all matters submitted to the consideration of any general meeting of the shareholders of the bank, the shareholders shall have a right to vote in manner following, that is to say:

The holder of	5	shares, or any smaller number,	1 vote

XXXII. No shareholder shall be entitled to vote at any meeting, in respect of any share or shares held by him, until he shall have signed the deed or instrument hereinafter in and by the seventy-eighth section mentioned and provided, nor until he shall have been registered in the books of the bank for a period of not less than three calendar months as the proprietor of such share or shares: Provided, always, that no proprietor whatsoever shall be entitled to vote until all instalments or calls which may be due in respect of his share or shares shall have been duly paid.

XXXIII. Any person who shall be the holder of any shares in the said capital stock in his capacity as trustee, tutor, curator, or guardian of any minor or other person shall be entitled to the same number of votes in respect of such shares as such minor or other person would have been entitled to if of full age or otherwise competent to vote: Provided that when two or more persons are the joint trustees, tutors, curators, or guardians of any minor or other person, such one trustee, tutor, curator, or guardian only as the other or others of them may appoint for that purpose in writing shall be allowed to vote in respect of such shares as the minor or other person may hold; and provided, further, that any such tutor, curator, or guardian (if a shareholder in his own right) shall not in any event have more than eighteen votes, inclusive of his own.

XXXIV. No shareholder residing within the municipality of Graham's Town, excepting females holding shares in their own right, shall be allowed to vote by proxy, but any shareholder residing elsewhere than within the limits of the said municipality, and any female holding shares in her own right, shall be entitled to appoint a person to vote for him or her; but no vote by proxy shall be admitted unless the person appointed to vote by proxy shall be a shareholder duly qualified to vote in respect of the ownership of five shares or upwards, and no such qualified proprietor shall carry more than the proxies of, or for, six other proprietors, and the appointment of any proxy shall be in the form or to the effect following:—

Witness my hand at ———, this ——— day of ———, 186—.

XXXV. All questions relating to any business or matter to be transacted or discussed at any general meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be decided by a show of hands of the shareholders present: Provided that any shareholder qualified to vote may demand that any question then submitted shall be determined by ballot, in which case such question shall be decided by a majority of votes, to be taken in manner hereinbefore prescribed: Provided, also, that the ballot shall be taken by means of voting papers signed by the persons entitled to vote, and that whatever resolution shall be taken or negatived by a majority of votes so taken at such meeting, and certified in writing by the scrutineers appointed to take the same, shall be binding upon every shareholder; and the question then decided shall not be reopened, nor shall any meeting be called for the purpose of discussing such question, at any time sooner than the then next annual general meeting.

XXXVI. The affairs and business of the bank shall be transacted and carried on by a board of directors, and such and all future directors shall have the sole management of the capital stock, funds, estate, pro-

XXXVII. No person shall at any time be elected a director of the said company unless he shall be a proprietor in his own right of at least twenty shares in the said capital stock,—the certificates of such shares, to the number of twenty, to be lodged with the bank manager, to remain in his custody, free from all lien or pledge, during the continuance in office of such director; and no two persons carrying on business as copartners in trade, or related to each other in or within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity, shall both be eligible to fill at the same time the office of director.

XXXVIII. The board of directors for the management of the said company shall consist of seven members, namely, Frederik Calder Bate, Edward Booth, George Wood the Younger, Henry Blaine, Philip William Lucas, William Haw, and William Attwell Richards, the present directors, who shall continue in office until the annual general meeting to be held in the year 1869: Provided that at such lastmentioned meeting Frederik Calder Bate and Edward Booth shall go out of office and be succeeded by two others to be then elected; and that at the annual general meeting to be held in 1870, George Wood the Younger and Henry Blaine shall go out of office and be succeeded by two others to be then elected; and that at the annual general meeting to be held in 1871, the remaining three of the directors aforesaid shall go out of office, and be succeeded by three others to be then elected. And provided that afterwards, for ever, two directors, being the two then longest in office, shall go out of office every year, except every third year, when three directors shall go out of office; and that all directors going out of office at any annual general meeting shall be succeeded by an equal number to be elected by such meeting: Provided, also, that nothing herein contained shall at any time prevent the outgoing directors, or any of them, from being eligible for re-election.

XXXIX. Any director who shall die, resign, or be removed, or shall become insolvent, or shall assign his estate for the benefit of his creditors, or shall be absent from the board of directors for four consecutive months, or who shall, by sale, transfer, forfeiture, or otherwise, cease to be the holder of at least twenty shares in his own name and right, or who shall refuse to act upon or carry into effect any legal resolution of the shareholders duly carried at any general meeting, or any rule, order, regulation, or by-law of the company duly passed at any general meeting, shall thereby and thereupon become disqualified, and shall, ipso facto, cease to be a director,

XL. In case the conduct of any particular director shall at any time be such that his continuance in office shall appear to at least twenty of the proprietors of the said company entitled to vote to be prejudicial to the interests of the company, and that notice thereof shall be given to the directors for the time being, in writing, the said board shall be required, and they are hereby directed, without any delay, to call a general meeting of the shareholders for the purpose of determining whether such particular director shall continue in office: Provided, always, that twenty-one days' notice shall be given of such meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, in any two or more of the local newspapers; and it shall and may be lawful for a majority of the shareholders at such meeting to remove such director from his office, and his place shall be filled up in the manner provided by the forty-fifth section of this Act.

XLI. The senior director for the time being shall be the chairman of the board, and shall preside at all meetings of directors and of shareholders, and in his absence the director present whose name shall stand next on the list of directors shall preside: Provided, always, that in the event of the senior director for the time being refusing or declining to be and act as the chairman of the board of directors, it shall be competent for the said directors to choose from among themselves a chairman who shall be and act as such, in the place and stead of the said senior director, during the time for which that senior director would otherwise have been the chairman.

XLII. All questions that shall come before any meeting of directors shall be decided by a majority of votes of the directors present, and in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall, in addition to his original vote, have a casting vote.

XLIII. At every annual general meeting the proprietors shall elect by ballot, out of such of the shareholders as shall be qualified in manner hereinbefore provided, such number of persons to be directors as may be required to fill up the vacancies of those who may have gone out of office in manner also hereinbefore provided: Provided, always, that no person shall be balloted for unless he shall have been proposed by one proprietor and seconded by another proprietor qualified to vote, and unless notice shall have been given to the directors, in writing, signed by two such shareholders, that such person will be proposed as a director, at least thirty-one days previous to the day on which such election is to take place.

XLIV. Not less than twenty-eight days before the annual election shall take place, notice thereof shall be given by the directors, by advertisement in any two or more of the local newspapers, and the said inbefore provided for the ordinary election of directors at the annual general meetings; and such director elected to fill any casual vacancy shall continue in office until the expiration of the period for which the director occasioning any vacancy in manner aforesaid would otherwise have remained in the direction: Provided that the directors shall, in and by the notice to be given by them as aforesaid, fix some day, not later than fourteen days next before the day appointed for the meeting, upon which day, so fixed, nominations of candidates shall in manner aforesaid be sent in, and shall forthwith, upon receipt of any such nominations, announce, by publication in the same papers as published the original notice, the names of the persons nominated: Provided, also, that the concluding proviso of the forty-fourth section shall extend and apply to any such election as is in this section mentioned.

XLVI. The directors shall meet at the banking-house of the said bank on such days in each week as they shall from time to time resolve and appoint as fit and convenient for the dispatch of the general business of the bank.

XLVII. Three or more directors shall constitute a quorum or board for the management of the affairs of the said bank.

XLVIII. The directors shall appoint a manager, a cashier, and accountant, and such clerks and other assistants as they may deem necessary for transacting the affairs and business of the bank, and shall require them, and every of them, respectively to give security to the satisfaction of the said directors for the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective offices, and may also discharge any such manager, cashier, accountant, clerk, or other assistant, and appoint another in his room and stead.

XLIX. No such manager, cashier, accountant, clerk, or other assistants as aforesaid shall be allowed to carry on or be engaged in any kind of trade, business, or agency whatever, either directly or indirectly, or shall be allowed to act as agent or broker, or trustee in any insolvent estate; but all such persons shall (unless in so far as they may be permitted by the directors to employ themselves at other than bank hours in some other occupation) confine themselves exclusively to the duties of their respective offices.

L. The directors are hereby authorized and empowered to pay such salaries, wages, and allowances to such manager, cashier, accountant, clerks, and other assistants as they shall think fit and reasonable, and also to pay all such expenses and disbursements as may be requisite and necessary to enable them to carry on the business of the bank.

LI. The chairman and directors shall receive out of the clear profits of the bank such sum or sums of money, by way of remuneration for their services and trouble, as the majority of the shareholders shall by resolution determine at the annual general meeting.

LII. Any director having any interest other than his interest as a shareholder in the question under discussion at any meeting of the board of directors shall not be allowed to vote in the decision by the other directors present, provided they be sufficient to form a quorum, and provided that such question in which such director shall be concerned shall stand over until there be a proper quorum, in case the other directors then present shall not be a quorum.

LIII. The minutes of the proceedings at any board or meeting of the directors shall be entered in a book and signed by the chairman, or by the director acting as chairman, of every such board or meeting.

LIV. All acts which may be done by a quorum of the directors present at any meeting of the directors during any vacancy in the number of the directors shall be as valid and effectual as if the number of directors had been complete.

LV. Subject and without prejudice to the power hereinbefore given to general meetings of shareholders, the directors for the time being shall have the entire management and superintendence of the company and of the affairs and business of the bank, and shall in all cases provided for by this Act, or hereafter to be provided for by any general meeting, act in strict conformity to the laws and regulations hereby established, or hereafter to be established by the general meetings of the shareholders, and generally, where this Act is silent and does not otherwise provide, to act in the direction of the concerns of the company in such manner as at their absolute discretion they shall think most conducive to the interests of the company, and for that purpose to make, do, and execute all such deeds, matters, and things whatsoever as may be requisite and expedient in that behalf; and the directors shall and may from time to time, and at all times, make such rules, orders, regulations, and by-laws as to them shall seem just and expedient for the general management and government of the business and affairs of the company, provided that the same be not contrary to law, or repugnant to any of the provisions of this Act; which said rules, orders, regulations and by-laws, when made, shall be posted in some public and conspicuous part of the banking-house of the company for the period of fourteen days, and if not objected to in writing by at least ten of the shareholders during that period, the same shall then become binding upon the several shareholders and directors of the company. But in the event of such rules, orders, regulations, and by-laws, or any of them, being objected to as aforesaid, the directors shall either abandon to sell and dispose of the same at such price and in such manner as such meeting shall see fit.

LVII. The trustees of the bank shall never consist of more or less than three; and the following persons, to wit, George Wood the Younger, William Haw, and Robert Godlonton (who have been duly appointed to be the trustees of the bank), shall continue to be, and they are hereby declared to be, the trustees for the time being of the said bank.

LVIII. All property to which the company is or may become entitled shall be, and be deemed to be, in law, the property of the trustees for the time being of the said bank, and shall be treated and considered as such in all legal proceedings whatsoever.

LIX. The trustees aforesaid, and the trustees of the said bank for the time being, in whom any of the funds or property of the bank shall for the time being be vested, shall stand possessed of the same in trust for the company, and shall apply and dispose of the same for the benefit of the company in such manner as the board of directors shall, conformably to the duties imposed on them by this Act, from time to time order and direct.

LX. All right and title of the shareholders of the said bank in and to their shares are hereby declared to be vested in the trustees for the time being, in trust and for the benefit of the shareholders for the time being; and the said trustees, and all others who shall in manner hereinafter provided be appointed as such, are and shall at all times, upon being authorized and directed to that effect by the directors for the time being, be competent to make and conclude and take and accept of all purchases, sales, demises, leases, securities, contracts, and agreements whatsoever, for the benefit of the shareholders, according to the provisions herein contained; and shall, upon being so authorized and directed, be competent to sue for and recover all moneys, debts, goods, and effects whatsoever due and belonging to the said company, also to compound for or release, and shall accordingly compound for or release, any debt or demand in favour of any debtor, and further shall prosecute or defend any action or suit in respect of any sums of money or other debts, duty, right, matter, or thing whatsoever relative to the concerns of the said company, or may discontinue the same, or compromise or leave to arbitration, and shall accordingly compromise or leave to abitration, any matter or question in dispute, or otherwise act therein as the directors shall deem most advisable for the interests of the company; and the receipts or other acts and deeds of the said trustees, or of the trustees for the time being, relative to all or any of the matters aforesaid, shall be good, absolute, and sufficient discharges and exonerations and indemnities to or for any vendor or purchaser, or other person whomsoever, by, to, or with whom any sale, purchase, contract, agreement, rent, moneys, or securities for money, shall be made or given: Provided, however, that the authority hereby given to and trust vested in the said trustees shall not extend, or be deemed to extend, to interfere with the powers and privileges of the shareholders or the directors as provided by any clause or clauses of this Act, relative to the management of the affairs of the said bank, or with the transfer of shares, as provided for in the fourteenth section of this Act.

LXI. In case any one or more of the trustees for the time being shall become insolvent, or shall assign his estate for the benefit of his creditors, or shall not be the holder of twenty shares at the least in his own right; or in case any such trustee shall resign his office; or in case the directors, by a resolution of the board, shall require any one or more of the said trustees to relinquish his or their office; or in case any of them shall happen to die, or shall be absent from the Colony for a longer period than twelve calendar months, then, and in any such case, the office of such trustee or trustees shall be deemed to have become vacant, and all his or their right and title thereto to have ceased and determined, in such manner as if such trustee or trustees, or his or their representative or representatives, had with the consent and approbation of the shareholders and directors relinquished such office, and had with such consent and approbation assigned and transferred his or their right and title to such office to another trustee or trustees; and thereupon the directors for the time being shall, by a resolution of the board, signed by the chairman, nominate and appoint another person or persons duly qualified as aforesaid to be a trustee or trustees in his and their place and stead; and it shall and may be lawful for the trustee or trustees then remaining, and they are hereby required, to join and concur in doing, executing, and performing all such acts and deeds, if any, as shall be requisite and necessary towards effecting a transfer or assignment of the right and title to and in such office to the joint names of the remaining or surviving or any such new trustee or trustees, in such effectual manner as that the same may be legally vested in them; or if no trustee shall then remain, it shall and may be lawful for any three of the directors for the time being, to be for that purpose chosen by the board of directors, and who shall be deemed to be the trustees for that purpose, to join and concur together in doing and performing all such acts and deeds as shall be requisite and necessary towards effecting, in such effectual manner as aforesaid, a transfer and assignment of their right and title to and in such office to such three persons duly qualified as aforesaid, and whom the board of directors shall have nominated to be new trustees; and such trustee or trustees, in whose name or names such right and title to and in such office shall be transferred and assigned, shall be and are hereby authorized and empowered to act therein in like manner as the trustees herein named are authorized and empowered.

LXII. XLVIII. It shall be lawful for the Council of the Municipality for the time being, at any time after the taking effect of this Act, to grant one mortgage, or more than one, as may be found convenient, for securing to any person or persons who shall have lent and advanced to the said Council the amount required to pay off the mortgage aforesaid, or any part thereof, the amount so advanced; which mortgage or mortgages, as the case may be, shall hypothecate the same property which was hypothecated by the mortgage aforesaid, and none other, and shall not be granted for any greater sum upon the whole than the principal sum of six thousand pounds secured by the mortgage aforesaid, together with any interest which may be due upon the said sum; and such last-mentioned mortgage shall be cancelled before the granting of the mortgage or mortgages to be substituted therefor: Provided that if more mortgage bonds than one shall be granted under the provisions of this section, they shall each bear equal date, and, notwithstanding the order of time in which they may stand registered in the deeds registry, they shall all rank pari passu as if registered at the same instant: Provided, also, that the provisions of the forty-fifth and forty-sixth sections of this Act shall respectively apply to the mortgage or mortgages to be executed under the provisions of this section, and that the mortgage deed or deeds so executed shall state in some part thereof that the same is or are granted under the authority of this section of this Act.

L. The Council may, by public sale or tender, lease the privilege of working any mines or quarries belonging to the corporation.

LI. No lessee of any such land, or of any mines or quarries, shall assign or sub-let the same without the previous consent of the Council, testified in writing by the Town Clerk.

LII. In case the said Council shall require to take or use any land, with or without the buildings, if any, erected thereon, for the purpose of making, widening, or improving any street, market, or public building, or to dig out or carry away any materials belonging to any person or persons within the said Municipality, or to appropriate or make use of any springs, streams, or other supplies of water belonging to any person or persons who shall not be bound in law to allow the Town Council so to do, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the said Council, and it is hereby authorized and empowered, to treat and agree with every such person or persons for the purchase or hire, as the case may be, of any such land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water, as aforesaid, and generally to enter into such contract or contracts relative to the obtaining of any such land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water, upon such terms and conditions as the said Council shall judge expedient; and in case any such person or persons and the said Council shall not agree upon the purchase-money, or hire, or other recompense to be respectively given by the one party and accepted by the other, then the said Council shall cause to be served upon such person or persons a written notice, offering as recompense or compensation whatever sum of money it shall deem sufficient, and requiring such person to state in writing to the said Council, or to some person by it appointed, within fourteen days from the service of the said notice, whether he or they are willing to accept the sum therein mentioned or not; and in case the person shall refuse to accept the sum offered, or shall neglect to reply to the said notice, then the said Council shall, by another notice in writing, call upon such person or persons to refer to arbitration the amount of recompense or compensation to be paid to him or them by the said Council, and for that purpose to transmit to the said Council, within a certain reasonable time to be specified in the said last mentioned notice, the name of some person whom he shall select to be an arbitrator upon such arbitration, and the said council, upon receiving the name of the person so selected, shall nominate a second arbitrator, and shall cause a deed of submission to be prepared, which shall be signed on behalf of the said corporation, by the Town Clerk for the time being, and by the person or persons claiming such recompense or compensation as aforesaid, and which shall clearly set forth the matter to be determined by the said arbitrators, together with a power to the said arbitrators, in case of a difference of opinion, to call in an umpire, whose decision shall be final; and the award of such arbitrators or umpire, as the case may be, shall be made a rule of the Supreme Court of this Colony or of the Court of the Eastern Districts, and shall be binding and conclusive, and may be pleaded in bar to any action or proceeding at law brought for, or on account of, the same subject-matter. And in case such person as aforesaid, claiming such recompense or compensation, shall neglect or refuse to name some person to be such arbitrator as aforesaid, or to sign the said deed of submission, then it shall be lawful for the said Council, and it is hereby authorized, to lodge in some joint-stock bank in the Colony the sum of money offered by it as aforesaid, in its first notice in this section mentioned, for or on account, and at the risk, of such person as aforesaid, who shall at all times be entitled to draw the same out of the said bank as his absolute property; and the said Council, upon so lodging the said sum, shall be authorized and entitled to take or use the said land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water in question, as freely as if the said sum had been agreed upon between the parties as the sum to be paid, or had been an order by the arbitrators or umpire under the provisions of this section, and as if all acts by law required for vesting in the said Council a sufficient title to the use of, or property in, the land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water aforesaid, had been duly done and performed.

LIII. In case the said Council shall require to take or use any of the land, with or without the buildings, if any, erected thereon, or to dig or carry away any of the materials, or to appropriate or make use of any springs, streams, or other supplies of water, in the last preceding section mentioned, of which the owner or owners shall be absent from the Colony, and not represented by any agent duly accredited, or shall not be discoverable, then it shall be lawful for the said Council, and it is hereby authorized, to cause a notice to be inserted in the Government Gazette, and one or more newspapers published in the town of Port Elizabeth, for four successive weeks, describing, as accurately as may be, the materials, land, buildings, springs, streams, or other supplies of water which are required to be taken or used, and calling by name on the owner or owners of the said land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water, if known, to take notice that the said Council is ready and willing to treat with the owner or owners, or any persons duly authorized by him or them, for the recompense or compensation to be made or paid by the said Council for the said land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water, and requiring such owner or owners to apply within six months from the date of such notice, which shall be the day of its publication, to the said Council, stating the recompense or compensation claimed; and if the owner or owners shall so apply within the said period, then the like proceedings in regard to the agreeing for or otherwise determining the recompense or compensation to be respectively given and received shall in all respects be had and taken, which are prescribed in the last preceding section, precisely as if the said owner or owners had from the first been in actual occupation; and in case such owner or owners shall not apply to the said Council within the said period, then it shall be lawful for the said Council to appoint some competent person, to be approved of by the civil commissioner of the division, to appraise the value of the land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water required, and such person shall make oath before some justice of the peace, that he hath to the best of his judgment, fairly appraised such value; and, thereupon it shall and may be lawful for the said Council to pay whatever sum such person shall have valued the land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water in question at, into the Guardians' Fund, to the credit of the party or parties entitled thereto, subject to the same provisions in all respects which are provided by the Ordinance No. 105, bearing date the 5th July, 1833, in regard to moneys placed in the said fund belonging to the persons absent from the Colony; and the said Council, upon so paying the said sum, shall be authorized and entitled to take or to use the land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water in question as freely as if the said sum had been agreed upon between the parties as the sum to be paid, and as if all acts by law required for vesting in the said Council sufficient title to the use of, or property in, the land, buildings, materials, springs, streams, or other supplies of water aforesaid, had been duly done and performed.

LIV. All acts hereby authorized or required to be done by the Council, and all questions that may come before them, shall, except as hereinafter excepted, be done and decided by the majority of Councillors who shall be present at any meeting at which not less than seven members of the Council shall attend: Provided that nothing herein contained shall extend to alter or affect the provisions of the thirty-sixth and sixty-fourth sections of this Act.

LV. An ordinary meeting of the Council shall take place at least once in every week, and all such ordinary meetings shall be open to the public.

LVI. The Mayor may at any time call a special meeting of the Council; provided that he cause a notice of the time and place of such intended meeting, specifying the object thereof, and signed by him or by the Town Clerk, to be notified to every Councillor, either personally, or at his usual place of abode, twenty-four hours at least before such meeting.

LVII. At every meeting of the Council, the Mayor, if present, shall preside; in case of his absence, the Councillors present shall elect a chairman from among themselves.

LVIII. In all cases of an equality of votes, the Mayor or chairman shall have a second or casting vote.

LIX. Minutes of the proceedings of every meeting shall be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall be read at the next succeeding meeting, and signed by the person presiding thereat.

LX. LXI. LXIII. For the purpose of raising the means for making new roads, streets, market-places, bridges, drains, sewers, watercourses, reservoirs, aqueducts, and other waterworks, for the purchase of such lands or erection of such buildings as may be required in or about the execution of the powers hereby given to the Council, for the purchase of water-pipes, fire-engines, and appurtenances, and for the effecting of all other permanent public works and improvements within the Municipality, the Council shall have the power, as often as shall be deemed necessary, to make and levy, in manner hereinafter provided, a rate or assesssment upon all immovable property within the limits of the Municipality, such rate or assessment to be called the "landlords' rate," and to be made and levied on an estimate of the value of such property, to be made as hereinafter provided.

LXIV. For the purpose of raising the means for effecting the repairs of all such works as the Council are hereby empowered to have made, for the maintaining of waterworks, fire-engines, police establishments, markets, and pounds, for the payment of salaries and all other ordinary current expenses required to be borne by the Municipality, the Council shall have power to impose, levy, and recover all such market dues, water-rates, and pound fees as shall be deemed necessary and reasonable, and shall be authorized by any such municipal regulations as aforesaid; and shall also have the power, as often as shall be deemed necessary, to make and levy, in manner hereinafter provided, a rate or assessment upon all immovable property within the Municipality, such rate or assessment to be called the "tenants' rate," and to be made and levied on the annual value or rental of such property, to be ascertained in manner hereinafter provided: Provided that no such rate, whether "landlords' rate" or "tenants' rate," shall be made or levied by the Council unless there shall be present at the meeting at which such rate shall be imposed at least fourteen members of the said Council; nor on any immovable property belonging to Her Majesty the Queen, nor on public prisons or police stations, nor on any buildings appropriated to public worship, nor upon burial grounds, nor upon any buildings solely appropriated to the purposes of education; and provided, also, that no tenants' rate or assessment shall be imposed upon unoccupied land.

LXV. In order to ascertain the value of the rateable property within the Municipality for the purpose of assessing the landlords' rate, the Council shall, on or before the 31st day of January next, and thereafter on or before the 31st day of January in every third year, cause a valuation to be made of all such property, which valuation shall lie open for public inspection at the office of the Council for a space of not less than one calendar month, of which due notice shall be given for not less than one month in one or more of the newspapers published in the town of Port Elizabeth.

LXVI. At any time within one calendar month from and exclusive of the day of the publication of such notice as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for any person who shall think himself aggrieved thereby, to appeal, in writing, against the same to the Council, who shall hold a meeting or meetings, at which not less than five members shall be present, to hear all objections which may be urged against any valuation by any owner or occupier or other person on his behalf, and inquire into the merits of such objections, and shall confirm or orrect any valuation objected to as truth and justice shall require: Provided that any such meeting may, if necessary, be adjourned from time to time upon the application of any person objecting who shall show reasonable ground for not being ready with his proofs, or for the purpose of obtaining further evidence in regard to any case which shall be partly heard. The decision of the Council upon any objection to any valuation shall be final and conclusive, and shall not be capable of being reviewed or revised by any court or proceeding whatsoever: Provided that notice of the holding of any meeting as aforesaid shall be published in one or more of the Port Elizabeth newspapers, and posted in some conspicuous place upon or near the Town-hall, fourteen days before the day appointed therein for the holding of any such meeting.

LXVII. In order to ascertain the annual value or rental of the rateable property within the Municipality for the purpose of assessing the tenants' rate, and also to procure the other information required under the provisions of this section, the Council shall, in the month of January in each year, cause a printed schedule to be left at the house of every ratepayer, to be filled up by the occupier, under separate and distinct heads, setting forth the names of the proprietor, the occupier, and all inmates, also the annual rental, or, if no rent be paid, the estimated annual value of the property, and such other particulars as the Council may, by any such municipal regulation as aforesaid, require; from which schedules, duly signed by the ratepayers, and to be returned or delivered by them, without demand, to the Councillors of their respective wards, within seven days from the date of their being left as aforesaid, the Council shall cause a roll of assessment to be made within one month from the said date, upon which the tenants' rate, or rates, of and for the current year shall be levied; and when, in any ward, any schedule shall not have been returned, or where any of the schedules shall appear to the Council to misrepresent the value of the properties, or to be in any other respect incorrect, it shall be competent for the Council to cite, by due notice, all persons whom they shall think necessary, to appear before them on a certain day, not earlier than three clear days from the service of such notice, in order to afford any evidence or information in regard to any property or other matter relative to any schedule which shall not have been returned by the ratepayer, or of which the correctness of the return made shall be questioned or disputed; and if such persons shall then neglect to attend for the aforesaid purpose, the Council shall fix such annual value on all such properties as may appear just and reasonable, and the valuation so fixed shall be binding on all concerned, and be incapable of being appealed against: And provided that the roll of assessment aforesaid shall be open for public inspection at the office of the Council for the space of one month; and the Council shall give notice, in one or more of the newspapers of the Municipality, that the same lies open for inspection; and the provisions of the sixty-sixth section of this Act shall apply to the hearing and deciding upon objections against such roll.

LXVIII. The Council shall annually, in the month of February, make an estimate of the amount of money required for municipal purposes, and shall assess the landlords' rate and tenants' rate accordingly, and give public notice thereof in one or more of the newspapers of the Municipality, and shall in like manner, if any further or unforeseen expenditure shall become necessary during the same year, make a supplementary estimate thereof, and assess a second or further landlords' or tenants' rate, or landlords' rate and tenants' rate, whereof they shall give public notice in like manner: Provided that it shall not be lawful for the Council in any one year to levy any landlords' rate or rates amounting in the aggregate to more than one penny in the pound on the value of the immovable property subject to such rates, nor any tenants' rate or rates amounting in the aggregate to more than sixpence in the pound on the annual value or rental of the immovable property assessed, without obtaining the consent of the majority of the ratepayers present and entitled to vote, according to the eighth section of this Act at a public meeting to be called for the purpose of considering such rate or rates; of the object and the time and place of holding such meeting, at least seven days' notice shall be given by publication in one or more of the Port Elizabeth newspapers: Provided, also, that the landlords' and tenants' rates so to be assessed and levied as aforesaid shall always bear the relative proportion of one penny to sixpence; and provided that correct accounts shall be kept, showing separately the mode in which the landlords' rate and the tenants' rate shall have been respectively expended; and all rates assessed under the provisions of this Act shall be and be deemed to be a charge upon the property, and recoverable against the present or any future owner or occupier thereof.

LXIX. As soon as any rate or rates shall have been assessed as aforesaid, the same shall be payable, and the Council shall appoint, under the corporate seal, fit persons to collect such rate or rates, which shall, on nonpayment thereof, be recoverable at the suit of any such collector, by action in the Court of the Resident Magistrate of Port Elizabeth, or in case any person liable for any rate shall not reside within the district of Port Elizabeth, then either in the Court of the Resident Magistrate of Port Elizabeth, or in the Court of the Resident Magistrate of the district in which such ratepayer shall reside: Provided that as often as any ratepayer not resident in the district of Port Elizabeth shall be proceeded against in the Court of the Resident Magistrate of Port Elizabeth, the summons directed to such ratepayer shall be served upon the person, if any, in occupation of the premises in regard to which the rate alleged to be due is claimed.

LXX. In case by reason of the nonpayment of any rate, whether landlords' or tenants', it shall be necessary to sue for the same as in the last preceding section mentioned, the Council may, through its collector, and it is hereby authorized, to sue the owner or the occupier, either separately, or both of them in one and the same action, each for the whole rate: Provided, however, that the occupier of any property who shall not at the same time be the owner thereof, and who shall not have entered into such occupation in pursuance of a contract or agreement for becoming the owner of the same, shall, in the absence of any written agreement to the contrary, be entitled to retain or recover from such owner the amount of any landlords' rate as aforesaid which such occupier shall have paid; and the owner of any such property shall in like manner be entitled to recover from the tenant thereof the amount of any tenants' rate levied during the occupancy of such tenant, which such owner may have paid.

LXXI. The Council shall, once in every year, publish in one or more of the newspapers of the Municipality a statement of every sum in arrear, and of the property in respect of which the same is due.

LXXII. It shall be lawful for the Council, by any such municipal regulation as aforesaid, to impose such toll or dues as may be reasonable upon all persons making use of any road, bridge, or market-place within the Municipality, which the Council is hereby empowered to make and maintain; and in case of the nonpayment of such tolls or dues to recover the same by legal process, or in such other manner as may by the municipal regulations be in that behalf provided.

LXXIII. No toll shall be payable by any officer or soldier, or member of any volunteer corps, being in proper staff or regimental or military uniform, dress or undress, and on duty, or by any judicial or civil officer, mail-carrier, or other Government servant, whilst travelling on public duty; and, further, that no more than one toll shall be payable in any one day, to be computed from twelve o'clock on one night until twelve o'clock on the next succeeding night, for or in respect of the same vehicle or animal.

LXXIV. The Treasurer of the said Municipality shall, in books to be kept for that purpose, enter the accounts of all sums of money by him received and paid, and of the several matters in respect whereof such sums shall have been received and paid; all such accounts, with all vouchers and papers relating thereto, together with a full abstract or balance sheet thereof, shall yearly, at such times as the Council shall appoint, be handed by him to the Auditors, and to such members of the Council as the Mayor shall name, for the purpose of being examined and audited; and such abstract or balance sheet, when found correct, shall be signed by the Auditors, and shall be forthwith published by the Treasurer in one or more of the newspapers published within the Municipality.

LXXV. Every notice calling a public meeting of the ratepayers, and every notice or other document or thing required by this Act to be published, shall be so published by causing a copy thereof to be inserted in one or more of the newspapers of the Municipality, and a copy of the same shall also be affixed in some conspicuous place upon or near the Town-hall.

LXXVI. All fines or penalties imposed by this Act, or by any municipal regulations made by virtue thereof, shall be prosecuted for in any competent court by the Council, by the name of "The Municipal Council of Port Elizabeth," and shall, when recovered, be paid to the Treasurer of the Municipality for municipal purposes: Provided that no such prosecution as aforesaid shall be commenced later than three months from and after the date of the act or omission upon which such prosecution shall be grounded.

LXXVII. That the storing of gunpowder, or other explosive material, shall not be permitted, except in such places as may be approved of and licensed by the Town Council for that purpose.

LXXVIII. That so soon as any burial-ground within the limits of the Municipality, or portion thereof, shall become so crowded as to be, in the opinion of two thirds of the Council, dangerous to the public health, the Council shall be empowered to give six months' notice that burials therein shall cease, and that, after the expiration of the said term of six months, any person or persons causing any interment to be made therein, shall be liable to pay a fine not exceeding fifty pounds, to be recovered in any competent court.

LXXIX. All lawful contracts, engagements, debts, and demands whatsoever, by or against the Council in existence at the time of the taking effect of this Act, shall, upon and from and after the 1st day of January, 1869, be taken and judged of, and be of the same force and effect for or against the Council created by this Act, as if such Council had been elected under the Act aforesaid, No. 31 of 1861.

LXXX. For the purpose of the second section of the Act No. 5, 1856, entitled "An Act for regulating the Provincial Hospital for Port Elizabeth," and of the second section of the Act No. 6, 1856, entitled "An Act for regulating the Public Schools of Port Elizabeth upon the Grey Foundation," and of any other former Act or Ordinance by which any office, duty, power, or function has been conferred or imposed upon the Municipal Commissioners of Port Elizabeth for the time being, the Mayor and Councillors created by the Act aforesaid, No. 31 of 1860, and after their retirement from office, then the Mayor and Councillors created by this Act, shall be deemed and taken to be the persons meant and intended, precisely as if the words "Mayor and Councillors" were, in the said Acts, substituted for the word "Commissioners."

AN ACT

The Encouragement of the Breeding of Horses.

WHEREAS by two several deeds, bearing date, respectively, the 24th day of February, 1863, and the 30th day of November of the same year, the Lieutenant-Governor of British Kaffraria did grant in freehold to the Trustees of the King William's Town Grand Stand and Race-course Company two pieces of land, on certain conditions and for certain purposes: And whereas by a certain other deed, bearing date the 6th day of January, 1866, the Governor's Deputy of British Kaffraria did grant in freehold to the Trustees of the King William's Town Stud Farm Company a certain other piece of land, on certain other conditions, and for certain other purposes: And whereas it appears that the objects of the said grants can be better attained by the transfer, with the consent of the hereinbefore mentioned companies, of the said lands to other parties: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor, provided that the trustees and shareholders in the existing companies consent thereto, to grant in freehold the three pieces of land in the preamble to this Act mentioned to the Trustees of the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), on the following conditions, that is to say: So much of the two pieces of land first hereinbefore mentioned as has heretofore been used as a public race-course shall be open to the public for use in like manner for such and so many days, not exceeding thirty days, in each year, as the Governor shall from time to time appoint; and the piece of land last hereinbefore mentioned shall be used for the purpose of breeding and rearing of horses; and on breach of any of the said conditions, the land to which the same shall apply, with all buildings that may have been erected thereon, shall be forfeited to Her Majesty for the use of the Colony; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the said trustees from using the said lands, or any part of the same, for such purposes, in addition to the purposes hereinbefore mentioned, as may not be injurious to such lastmentioned purposes.

II. When and so soon as the lands in the preceding section mentioned shall have been granted as aforesaid, the grants previously made by the Lieutenant-Governor and the Governor's Deputy of British Kaffraria of the same, respectively, shall be cancelled.

III. It shall be lawful for the Governor, if he shall see fit, to grant to the said lastmentioned trustees a piece of land on the Thomas River, in the division of Queen's Town, not exceeding in extent five thousand acres, on a lease for the term of twenty-one years, and on condition of payment of an annual rent of twenty-five pounds sterling, for the purpose of enabling the said trustees to form and maintain a depôt for the rearing of young horses; and at the expiration of the said term of twenty-one years it shall be lawful for the Governor, if he shall see fit, to grant the said land to the said trustees, subject to such reasonable annual quitrent as he may see fit to impose, on payment by the said trustees of the sum of fifteen hundred pounds.

IV. If, during the said term of twenty-one years, the land in the preceding section mentioned shall cease to be used for the rearing of horses; or if, during the said term, the conditions of the lease shall be violated; or if, at the expiration of the said term, the said trustees shall fail or refuse to pay the sum of fifteen hundred pounds, then, and in either such case, such land, together with any buildings that may have been erected thereon, and any improvements that may have been made of the same, shall revert to Her Majesty for the use of the Colony.

Given at Government House, this 2nd day of September, 1868.

Dutch Reformed Church in Adelaide, entered into an agreement with the Commissioners of the Municipality of Adelaide, whereby the said Consistory agreed to transfer to the said Municipality the rest, residue, or remainder of the church lands vested in the said Consistory by the respective grants aforesaid upon certain conditions and stipulations in the said agreement mentioned, as by the said agreement, of which a copy is set forth in the schedule to this Act, reference being thereunto had, will appear: And whereas doubts exist whether the said agreement can be carried out without the authority of Parliament: And whereas it is expedient to grant such authority, and also to provide that the transfer to be passed by the Consistory aforesaid to the Municipal Commissioners aforesaid, not being a transfer in pursuance of a sale or exchange, but merely a transfer from one set of trustees for public purposes to another set of trustees for public purposes, should not be chargeable with transfer duty: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall and may be lawful for the Consistory for the time being of the Dutch Reformed Church in Adelaide, and it is hereby empowered and required, to make transfer to the Commissioners for the time being of the Municipality of Adelaide of all and singular the erven and lands which, under and by virtue of the agreement in the schedule to this Act set forth, the said Consistory is to transfer to the said Commissioners, and lawful, also, for the Commissioners for the time being of the said Municipality, and they are hereby required, to re-transfer to the Consistory aforesaid for the time being all such lands as, under and by virtue of the said agreement, the said Commissioners are to re-transfer to the said Consistory: Provided that it shall be lawful for the said Consistory, in case the said Consistory and the said Commissioners shall so agree, to reserve from and out of the transfer to be passed by the said Consistory the lands lastmentioned in the said agreement, or any of them, instead of first transferring the same and afterwards obtaining re-transfer thereof.

II. Any power of attorney or other instrument required for the passing of transfer from the Consistory aforesaid to the Commissioners aforesaid shall be signed on behalf of the Consistory by the officiating minister for the time being of the church aforesaid, together with two other members for the time being of the said Consistory; and any power of attorney or other instrument required for the passing of transfer from the Commissioners aforesaid to the Consistory aforesaid shall be signed on behalf of such Commissioners by two of the Commissioners for the time being, certified by the Resident Magistrate of the district of Fort Beaufort to be such Commissioners.

III. The Consistory for the time being of the Dutch Reformed Church in Adelaide shall be competent, by that name, to transfer the land hereby authorized to be transferred, notwithstanding that the grants aforesaid were made to such Consistory by other names or designations.

IV. No transfer made under the authority of this Act by the Consistory of the Dutch Reformed Church of Adelaide to the Commissioners of the Municipality of Adelaide shall be subject to the payment of transfer duty.

V. Nothing in this Act, or in any transfer effected under this Act, shall extend to destroy or affect any condition or stipulation, whether by way of servitude or otherwise, to which any land comprised in any such transfer would have been liable in case this Act had not been passed, or such transfer had not been made, save and except only the condition that such land should be used exclusively for church purposes.

SCHEDULE.

1. Churchwardens will cause to be sold such a number of the erven now surveyed as they may need in aid of their funds to complete their new church.

AN ACT

FOR

Further facilitating the Naturalization of certain Aliens.

WHEREAS by an Ordinance numbered 2 of the year 1865, given at King William's Town on the 27th day of June, 1865, entitled "An Ordinance to facilitate the Naturalization of certain Aliens," it was intended to facilitate the naturalization of certain German immigrants and members of the late British German Legion who have resided in these territories for several years, and who during such residence have conducted themselves well and loyally: And whereas by the operation of Act No. 3 of the year 1865, entitled "An Act to make provision for the Incorporation of British Kaffraria with the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, and to increase the number of the Members of both Houses of Parliament of the said Colony," the said Ordinance has, to some extent, failed of its effect: And whereas it is desirable that such persons as aforesaid may be enabled, should they so desire, to obtain letters of naturalization without payment of the fee now by law required upon obtaining such letters: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The Governor is hereby authorized and empowered, if he shall think fit, to grant, under the public seal of this Colony, letters of naturalization in this Colony, free of charge, to all German immigrants and members of the late British German Legion (being aliens) who shall apply to the Governor for the same; provided the applicant shall have attained the full age of twenty-one years, shall be of good character, and shall have resided within the territory comprised in the divisions of King William's Town and East London during the five years immediately preceding the date of the aforesaid Ordinance: Provided, however, that no letters of naturalization shall be granted to any person who shall be an unrehabilitated insolvent, or who shall be of unsound mind, or who shall have been convicted and sentenced for treason, murder, arson, rape, theft, housebreaking, receiving stolen property, fraud, perjury, or forgery.

II. Every application for letters of naturalization under this Act shall state the name, birth-place, age, occupation, and place of residence of the applicant in this Colony, and shall be supported by affidavits or other proofs, to the satisfaction of the Governor, of the truth of the allegations contained in the application.

III. When and as soon as letters of naturalization shall have been obtained by any alien under this Act, he shall be bound to take and subscribe the oath of allegiance to Her Majesty, which oath any judge of the Supreme Court, or any resident magistrate or justice of the peace within this Colony, is hereby authorized to administer, and to endorse on the letters of naturalization, and attest at the time of such alien's taking such oath, the fact of such alien's having taken the same; and upon taking such oath, and after such endorsement shall have been duly made and attested as aforesaid, such alien shall, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, be deemed and taken to be naturalized in this Colony, and to be in the same plight and condition in all respects as if he had been born therein.

IV. The magistrate or justice of the peace before whom any oath of allegiance is taken as aforesaid shall forthwith transmit the same to the Master of the Supreme Court, to be by him preserved of record; and the Master, as soon as he shall receive the same, or, when taken before a judge, forthwith thereafter, shall, by a notice to be published in the Government Gazette, announce that the said oath has been deposited in his office, pursuant to this Act.

V. All letters of naturalization granted under this Act, and duly endorsed as aforesaid, shall be admissible in evidence, without proof of the signature or seal authenticating the same, and shall be primâ facie evidence of the person named therein being duly naturalized, and of the signature or seal authenticating the same, and of all the matters contained or recited therein, and of the official character of the person appearing to have signed the same.

VI. If any alien applying for letters of naturalization in the manner hereinbefore described shall wilfully make any false statement in the application made by him, the rights, capacities, and privileges granted by the said letters of naturalization shall absolutely cease and determine, and he shall incur the same penalties as by law provided against persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury, including the disability hereinbefore enacted in the first section of this Act.

Given at Government House, this 2nd day of September, 1868.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY,
Colonial Secretary.

WHEREAS it appears that the rates payable under the provisions of the sixth section of the Act No. 12 of the year 1867, for licences to depasture stock on the waste lands of the Crown, are, in respect to some of the divisions of the Colony, in excess of the amount fairly chargeable for the same; and it is expedient to make other provision for fixing the said rates: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The sixth section of the Act No. 12 of the year 1867 shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

II. It shall be lawful for the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, from time to time to prescribe by tariff the amount

And when the Governor shall be of opinion that a sufficient number of licences has already been issued, or that no licence should be issued for any particular locality, he may order that no further licences, or no licences, as may be, shall be issued for the same. In forming his opinion on the matters in this section contained, the Governor shall consult the divisional council of the division within which the lands to be depastured are situate; but it shall not be compulsory on the Governor to accept the advice of such council.

WHEREAS in times past grants of land in certain of the Eastern divisions of the Colony have been made by the Crown to private persons, on special conditions that they shall personally reside on such land, and be further liable to provide for the defence thereof, in manner set forth in the titles issued for the same: And whereas it does not appear to be necessary any longer to keep in force such special conditions, which have been found in certain respects irksome and vexatious: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The quitrent payable in respect to lands heretofore granted on condition of personal occupation by the owners thereof shall continue to be payable for the same, and the quitrent to be paid for all lands to be hereafter granted in any of the divisions mentioned in the thirteenth section of the Act No. 2 of 1860, or in the divisions of King William's Town and East London, shall be fixed in manner provided by the said Act No. 2 of 1860.

II. From the taking effect of this Act any special conditions which shall have been inscribed in any grant of land in this Colony in respect to the personal residence on such land of the owner thereof, or in respect to provision for the defence of the same, shall be held to be cancelled.

AN ACT

TO

Prevent the spread of Contagious Diseases at the Military and Naval Stations of this Colony.

WHEREAS it is desirable to prevent, as far as may be, the spread of certain contagious diseases in the localities wherein Her Majesty's military and naval forces are principally located in this Colony: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. This Act may be cited as the "Contagious Diseases Prevention Act, 1868."

II. In the construction of this Act, the term "contagious disease" shall be taken to mean any venereal disease, including Gonorrhœa. The term "hospital" shall be taken to mean any ward or part of a hospital, or any other building which may be appointed by the Governor to be used as a hospital, for the purposes of this Act.

III. The districts within which this Act shall be in force shall be the districts enumerated in Schedule No. 1, hereunto annexed, and such other districts as the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, shall, for the time being, declare by proclamation, to be published in the Government Gazette; and the limits of such districts, whether enumerated in the said schedule hereto, or declared by such proclamation as aforesaid, shall be defined and may be altered from time to time, with the like advice and by a like proclamation, to be published in like manner; and every such proclamation as in this section mentioned shall take effect from the day on which the same shall be published, unless some day from which the same shall take effect shall be named in such proclamation, in which case such proclamation shall take effect from the day so named.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint some duly qualified medical practitioner to be medical inspector of contagious diseases for each of the districts in the preceding section mentioned; and every such medical inspector shall be paid such remuneration as Parliament shall from time to time sanction.

V. Within every such district every woman known or reputed to be a common prostitute shall, except as is hereinafter excepted, be liable to be inspected twice in each month, at intervals of not less than fourteen days and not exceeding sixteen days, by the medical inspector of such district, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such woman is or is not affected with any contagious disease, and every such woman shall, in the first instance, be summoned by an order, in writing or in print, or partly in one and partly in the other, signed by such medical inspector, or by an inspector or sub-inspector of police in Cape Town, or by the medical superintendent or chief officer of police in any other district, countersigned in either case by the resident magistrate of the district, to attend at such time and place as may be named in such order, for such inspection.

VI. If any such woman shall refuse or neglect to attend according to the tenor of such order, or if, having attended, she shall not submit to be inspected, she may be arrested by warrant of the resident magistrate within whose jurisdiction the district in which she resides or practises prostitution shall be, who shall grant a warrant for her arrest upon its being made to appear on oath that such woman is, on good grounds, supposed to be a common prostitute, and was duly served with such order as aforesaid, and neglected or refused to attend according to the tenor thereof, or, having attended, that she refused to be examined; and upon such arrest the magistrate, upon proof made to the same effect, and that such woman is a common prostitute, and after hearing what may be advanced by such woman and her witnesses to the contrary, may order such woman to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding one month.

VII. If any such woman shall, while undergoing any sentence of imprisonment under the preceding section, signify her readiness to submit to inspection, she shall on the first convenient occasion be released from such imprisonment, and be brought before the medical inspector for inspection in due course.

VIII. If, upon any such inspection, the medical inspector shall find any such woman to be affected with contagious disease, such woman shall, if she willingly submit thereto, be taken to the proper hospital, and shall be received and detained there for medical treatment, and shall not be discharged therefrom until reported cured; and the order of such medical inspector shall be a sufficient warrant to the officers of such hospital for receiving and detaining such woman until she be reported cured.

IX. If any such woman found as in the last preceding section mentioned to be affected with contagious disease shall not willingly submit to go to the hospital, she shall be arrested and detained in custody of the police, and taken as soon as may be before the resident magistrate within whose jurisdiction the district in which she resides or practises prostitution may be, who shall examine into the matter, and hear the objection of such woman, and take the evidence of the medical inspector upon oath, and shall thereupon determine the matter, and may make order that such woman shall be taken to the hospital and be there received and detained until she shall be reported cured; and such order shall be a sufficient warrant to the officers of such hospital for receiving such woman and detaining her until she shall be reported cured.

X. The resident magistrate shall, at the request of any such woman, on the examination of the matter in the last preceding section mentioned, before making the order therein mentioned, on such woman tendering the expenses necessary for the purpose, summon two medical practitioners, other than the medical inspector, one of whom may be named by such woman, to examine her, and shall, after their having examined her, take their evidence, upon oath, as to whether such woman is or is not affected with contagious disease, and shall be guided by the whole evidence on the case as to the order which he shall make.

XI. If any woman who shall have been admitted into hospital under the provisions of any of the preceding sections shall make her escape from the same before she be reported cured, or if any such woman shall refuse or neglect to conform to the regulations of such hospital during the period for which she may be lawfully detained therein, such woman shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding one month; the execution of which sentence may, at the magistrate's discretion, be suspended until such woman shall be discharged from hospital as cured.

XII. Every medical inspector shall keep a record, according to the form in Schedule No. 2, hereunto annexed, of the case of every woman who may be inspected by him, and such record shall at all times be open to the examination of the resident magistrate and of the chief officer of police of the district for which the same shall be kept, and of any other person who may be authorized by the Governor to examine the same.

XIII. It shall be the duty of the medical inspector, in the case of every woman who, upon inspection as aforesaid, shall be found to be free from any contagious disease, or who, after admission into hospital as aforesaid, shall be reported cured, to grant to such woman a certificate thereof, according to the form in Schedule No. 3, hereunto annexed, or to the like effect, and such certificate shall state the term for which the same shall remain in force, and the time and place at which such woman shall be required to attend for the purpose of being again inspected.

XIV. If any woman other than the woman to whom a certificate under this Act shall have been granted shall be found in possession of and using the same, then, and in every such case, the woman so offending shall be liable, on conviction, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding one month; and every woman to whom a certificate under this Act shall have been granted who shall knowingly permit any other woman to take and use the same, shall, upon conviction, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding one month.

XV. If any woman theretofore known as a common prostitute, and not being in hospital, shall at any time be desirous to discontinue her prostitution and to be relieved from periodical inspection as aforesaid, she may apply, in writing, to the resident magistrate within whose jurisdiction she resides or has theretofore practised prostitution, for such relief, who shall appoint a time and place for the hearing of such application, and shall cause to be served on such woman, by some officer or constable of police, or some other person to be nominated by the magistrate in that behalf, a notice of such appointment.

XVI. If, on the hearing of such application, it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the magistrate that the applicant has ceased to be a common prostitute, or if she shall enter into recognizances, with or without sufficient sureties, as to the magistrate shall seem fit, in such sum as shall to him seem sufficient for good behaviour during six calendar months thereafter, such magistrate may order that she be relieved from liability to periodical inspection as aforesaid, and she shall, so long as she shall continue of good behaviour, be so relieved accordingly.

XVII. Every such recognizance shall be deemed to be forfeited if at any time during the term for which it is entered into the woman to whom it relates shall be within the limits of any district within which this Act shall be in force, in any public street, thoroughfare, or place for the purpose of prostitution, or otherwise within such limits shall conduct herself as a common prostitute; and if after the expiration of the term for which such recognizance shall be in force such woman shall, within any such limits as aforesaid, be in any public street, thoroughfare, or place for the purposes of prostitution, or otherwise conduct herself as a common prostitute, she shall be liable to be dealt with, under the preceding provisions of this Act, as if no such order of relief had been granted, and such order shall be deemed to be cancelled.

XVIII. If any person being the owner or occupier of any house, room, or place within any district in which this Act shall be in force, or being a manager or assistant in the management thereof, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe any common prostitute to have a contagious disease, shall induce or suffer such prostitute to resort to or be in such house, room, or place for the purposes of prostitution, every such person shall be liable, on conviction, to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five pounds sterling, or to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any period not exceeding three months.

XIX. Every resident magistrate may, in entertaining any case or making any investigation under this Act, if he shall think fit, direct that the court-room or other room in which he may sit for such purpose shall be cleared of all persons not actually concerned in the case; and nothing herein contained shall limit any other power that the magistrate may have of ordering any person or persons out of court.

XX. This Act shall take effect in each of the districts named in Schedule No. 1, hereto annexed, on such day as shall by the Governor, by proclamation to be published in the Government Gazette, be appointed for the same, respectively.

XXI. Nothing in this Act contained shall have the effect of legalizing prostitution or of exempting any person engaged in or practising the same from such pains and penalties as may by the existing laws of this Colony attach thereto.

WHEREAS it is expedient that better provision should be made for the peace and good order of that part of the northern border of this Colony comprising certain portions of the divisions of Namaqualand, Calvinia, Fraserburg, Victoria West, and Hope Town: Be it hereby enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation to be by him issued and published in the Government Gazette, to define, and from time to time thereafter, if it shall seem to him fit, by a like proclamation, in like manner issued and published, to alter the limits of a district to comprise the whole or such portions of the divisions of Namaqualand, Calvinia, Fraserburg, Victoria West, and Hope Town, or of any of such divisions, as to the Governor shall seem fit.

II. It shall be lawful for the Governor to establish within such district such court as hereinafter is described.

III. It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint an officer to exercise within such district as aforesaid the jurisdiction hereinafter described, and to preside in such court as is hereinbefore mentioned and hereinafter described, and such appointment shall be under the great seal of this Colony; and it shall be lawful for the Governor, when and so often as, by reason of the death, sickness, absence, or other incapacity of such officer, it shall appear to him to be necessary or expedient so to do, to appoint some fit and proper person to act as and in the stead of such officer within such district as aforesaid; and all deeds, acts, matters, and things which shall be done and performed by or before any person so appointed to act as aforesaid, under and by virtue of such his appointment, shall be as legal, valid, and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been done and performed by or before such officer as aforesaid, instead of whom such person shall have been so appointed to act.

IV. Every person who shall in manner aforesaid be appointed to be such officer as aforesaid, or to act as or in the stead of such officer, shall, before exercising any of the functions of his office, take the oath of office set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, marked A, before the Chief Justice or any of the judges of the Supreme Court, or before any justice of the peace for any of the divisions comprising any part of the district for or in which such person is appointed to act, who are hereby empowered and required to administer the same; and every such person shall, so soon as he shall have duly taken the oaths aforesaid, cause such oaths to be recorded, and shall subscribe the same in the record book of the proceedings of his court or of the court in which he shall so have been appointed to act, as the case may be.

V. The court to be established under the provisions of this Act shall be a criminal court of record, and the pleadings and proceedings thereof shall be carried on, and the sentences, decrees, judgments, and orders thereof pronounced and declared, in open court, and not otherwise; and the several pleadings and proceedings of the said court shall be in the English language, and the witnesses shall in all cases deliver their evidence vivâ voce and in open court.

VII. In the trial of all cases by such officer as aforesaid, the proceedings shall be taken down in writing, and duly recorded; including in such proceedings the charge or complaint, the plea of the prisoner, the evidence in the case, together with any statement the prisoner shall make on the case, the judgment, and if the judgment be a judgment of guilty, then also the sentence of the court; and, further, there shall be entered in the record a statement of the manner in which such sentence shall have been executed by such officer, or those under his control, or what steps shall have been taken by him or them towards the execution of such sentence.

XIV. Such officer shall have power to summon any person to give evidence on any case which shall come before him for trial, and to compel the attendance of every such person, and for such purposes shall have all the powers vested in the resident magistrates throughout this Colony for the like purposes; but no witness summoned to attend before such officer to give evidence shall be entitled to demand, as of right, either before or after his attendance, any payment or sum in respect of travelling expenses or maintenance in respect of such attendance.

XV. Any person who shall wilfully insult such officer during his sitting in his court on any trial or examination lawfully held before him under this or any other law or ordinance, or any person lawfully acting as clerk or officer of such court during his attendance as such clerk or officer on any such trial or examination, or shall wilfully interrupt the proceedings of such court, or otherwise misbehave in such court, may be forthwith arrested and detained by any person, under the order of such presiding officer, in custody until the rising of the court; and such presiding officer is hereby empowered, if he shall see fit, to impose a fine on the person so offending, not exceeding five pounds, as and for contempt of court, and in default of the said fine being paid, then to detain him in custody for any period not exceeding seven days, unless the fine and the cost of the detention of such offender be sooner paid; but in any case in which a person shall be fined under this section, a record shall be made of the proceedings upon which such fine shall be imposed, and such presiding officer shall enter upon such record the facts which constitute the contempt of court, and the grounds and reasons of his proceedings, and shall deal with the case in other respects as hereinbefore provided with regard to criminal offences in cases in which a fine exceeding five pounds shall have been imposed.

XVI. The records of such court shall be kept in such place as the Governor shall from time to time order.

AN ACT

FOR

Enabling the Divisional Council of Worcester to borrow Moneys upon the security of Road Rates and Tolls, for the improvement and construction of the Road through Hex River Kloof.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the divisional council of Worcester should be empowered to borrow moneys upon the security of the road rates and tolls of the said division, for the purpose of improving the public road passing through what is commonly called "the Hex River Kloof," commencing at the Hex River Bridge and ending a certain distance on the Karoo side of the Hex River Mountain, by which the inhabitants would be benefited: And whereas the annual amount of road rates to be levied under Act No. 9 of 1858 is not sufficient to meet the first outlay of this work: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. So much of Act No. 9 of 1858, entitled "An Act to provide for the Management of the Public Roads of the Colony," as is repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Act shall, so far as regards the provisions of this Act, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

II. It shall be lawful for the said divisional council to raise from time to time by way of loan, on the credit of any tolls to be levied or rates to be assessed under the Act No. 9 of 1858 aforesaid, or under the Act No. 10 of 1864, intituled "An Act to provide for the construction and maintenance of the Main Roads of the Colony," any sum or sums of money that may at any time be required by the said divisional council for the purpose of carrying into effect the object and purpose hereinbefore mentioned: Provided that no such loan as aforesaid shall be capable of being effected except under and by virtue of a resolution of the said divisional council, at a meeting at which there shall be present not fewer than six members, exclusive of the chairman; and provided that no meeting shall be competent to pass any such resolution unless each of the members shall have had, for at least twenty-one days next before the day appointed for such meeting, a notice, signed by the secretary to such council, stating that the question of such loan will come under consideration of such meeting, which notice the said secretary shall issue at the instance of any member of the said council; and provided that no loan or loans or debts contracted by said council under this Act shall at any time exceed the sum of five thousand pounds sterling; and provided that no such loan as aforesaid shall be capable of being effected in any year in which the road rates levied and collected under the said Act No. 9 of 1858 shall be less than one penny in the pound on the value of the property liable to be rated in the said division of Worcester; and provided that, except as is hereinafter mentioned, no such loan shall be applied for the payment of any previous loan that may have been raised by the said council.

III. In every case in which it shall be resolved by said council to raise any such loans as aforesaid, the said council shall, by a notice in the Government Gazette, and in some newspaper published in or near the said division of Worcester, call for tenders for the sum or sums required, and in case it shall accept any of the tenders sent in, shall accept that which specifies the lowest rate of interest; and the bond, declaration, or obligation pledging the tolls or rates agreed upon to be pledged for ensuring the repayment of the sum or sums borrowed by said council, and the interest thereon, shall be signed by three members on behalf of such council, of whom the civil commissioner of the division shall not be one.

IV. And whereas the said divisional council has already borrowed a sum of one thousand pounds sterling upon the personal security of the different members of the said council, in order that the aforesaid work may not be delayed, and which sum has been and is in the course of being expended upon the aforesaid road, be it enacted that it shall and may be lawful for the said council to repay the aforesaid sum of one thousand pounds sterling out of the said sum of five thousand pounds sterling authorized to be raised under this Act.

V. All moneys raised as aforesaid under this Act shall on receipt thereof be deposited in a bank, to be chosen for that purpose by the said council, to the credit of a separate account, and all sums required shall be drawn by cheques signed by the secretary and countersigned by such one of its members, not being the civil commissioner, as shall be appointed so to do by the said council.

VI. The said council shall keep a separate and distinct account of all moneys received and expended by virtue of this Act, and shall cause an abstract of the said account to be transmitted to the Colonial Secretary half-yearly, showing all moneys received and expended up to the 30th June and 31st December then preceding, and all liabilities and assets on the same days.

VII. The accounts in the last preceding section mentioned shall be audited and examined by the auditors to be from time to time appointed under the provisions of the "Divisional Councils Act, 1865," and the provisions of the eighty-third and eighty-fifth sections of the said Act shall extend and apply to all accounts, books, and papers connected with the said road.

VIII. It shall be incumbent on the said council, and they are hereby required, after the payment of the interest on any loan or loans as aforesaid, and providing for the necessary repairs of the said road, to set apart the remainder, if any, of the tolls levied on the said road, and the further sum of two hundred pounds sterling annually from their general revenues, in order to provide a fund for the repayment of the capital sums of money raised as aforesaid, until the same are wholly paid off and discharged.

IX. All the necessary costs and charges and expenses attending the procuring of this Act and carrying the provisions thereof into effect shall be paid out of the money to be received under the provisions of this Act.

X. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the "Worcester Divisional Council Loan Act, 1868."

Given at Government House, this 2nd day of September, 1868.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded: provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:—

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	6
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – –	2	0	6

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets into any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance, unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission, constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

PUBLIC SALE

OF A FIRST-CLASS

SHEEP FARM.

In the Insolvent Estates of JAN HENDRIK BEETJE and PETRUS JOHANNES BEETJE, of Nieuwefontein, District Richmond, Farmers.

THE Undersigned, in their capacity as Joint Trustees in these Estates, will cause to be sold at Hanover, by Public Auction, in October next, (date hereafter to be fixed), that well-known and valuable Farm, called

"NIEUWEFONTEIN,"

in the Division of Richmond, being five hours' distance from the Town of Richmond, and two and a half hours from the Town of Hanover,

AT A CREDIT EXTENDING OVER 3 YEARS.

This Farm has three substantially-built Dwellings, as also Wagon-house, Stable, &c, &c.; also convenient Kraals, all in good order.

The Arable Lands are all enclosed, and extremely productive, on which five muids of seed can be sown

In striking contrast with many other first-class Farms, "Nieuwefontein" is abundantly supplied with Water, during even the driest seasons, and at all times of the year.

It has two permanent Springs, as also two Dams, one of which has recently been constructed at considerable expense, and is capable of containing a copious supply of Water.

As a Grazing Farm and Sheepwalk, the merits of "Nieuwefontein" are so prominent, and so generally known and appreciated, that it seems almost superfluous to refer at all to the subject.

GOVERNMENT NOTICE.—No, 289, 1868.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope,
7th September, 1868.

HIS Excellency the Governor has directed the publication for general information of the annexed Report of a Commission appointed by the Government of South Australia to inquire into the Diseases affecting the Cereal Crops in that Colony.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY,
Colonial Secretary.

To His Excellency Lieutenant-Colonel HAMLEY, Officer Administering the Government of South Australia, &c., &c., &c.

His Excellency Sir DOMINICK DALY, Knight, late Governor-in-Chief of South Australia, having appointed us, whose names are hereto appended, a Commission to inquire into the diseases affecting the cereal crops of this province, we have the honour to report to your Excellency as follows:—

I.—PRELIMINARY.

The natural history of the rust disease having for years past formed a subject of scientific investigation, your Commissioners did not anticipate being able, with the limited means and appliances at their command, to throw new light on the physiology of that malady; but they have directed their best attention to the question whether the disease which has recently destroyed our cereal crops was identical with the "rust" described by scientific men, or whether it was some new and modified disease, generated by peculiar conditions of soil and climate, affecting the growth of corn in this Colony. They have, however, notwithstanding former researches, inquired anew whether the cause of rust was to be sought for in the seed sown, in the soil itself, or in atmospheric conditions affecting the growth of plant: and, finally, whether any plan could be devised for mitigating the severity of the disease. On these points much valuable evidence (written and oral) has been collected, and will be found appended to this report.

Your Commissioners have also directed their attention to the disease popularly designated "takeall," and have recorded the observations of many experienced and competent witnesses.

The method of investigation has been the following:—A schedule of questions (see Appendix), comprehending some twenty separate branches of inquiry was printed, and parcels forwarded to all the corporations and district councils of the province for distribution amongst agriculturists and other suitable persons in their respective neighbourhoods. It was considered better that the various district councils should themselves select the farmers whose evidence was required, than that the Commissioners should limit their inquiries to individuals of their own choice. As regards the schedule of questions itself, it was framed simply as a guide to those who might wish to avail themselves of it; each person addressed being invited to state his own views and opinions in his own way, altogether regardless of the questions proposed by the Commissioners. Many witnesses have, in accordance with this invitation, given the result of their experience on various points of importance, supplementary to their replies to the schedules.

The communications received in answer to the queries propounded by the Commission have been carefully considered and collated; the most important proportions of the information elicited being hereunto appended. This has, unavoidably, occasioned some delay; but the value of the evidence thus secured will more than compensate for the loss of time.

In addition to the useful and varied information gathered through the post from about 700 practical agriculturists, various witnesses have personally attended before the Commission and given viva voce evidence, which will also be found in the Appendix. These witnesses include some of the most experienced and observant wheat-growers in the province, as also our ablest agricultural chemists and microscopists. Your Commissioners have also had the benefit of a thoughtful and elaborate paper, prepared by Mr. Charles Todd, on the rainfall of last season compared with that of seasons preceding—a paper to which they point with more than ordinary satisfaction, as replete with information valuable to the scientific farmer and the naturalist. Reference should also be made to a report kindly and readily furnished by Dr. Mueller, of the Melbourne Botanic Gardens, on the subject of the rust in wheat, summarizing the latest researches and discoveries with regard to that fearful malady, and effectually setting at rest some plausible but unsupported theories on the subject. The scientific aspects of the question have also been professionally elucidated by Drs. Muecke and Schomburgk, and Messrs. Francis, Cossins, and Ey, of this Colony, whose conclusions are also appended.

With these preliminary remarks, your Commissioners proceed to submit the result of their investigations.

II.—RED RUST.

As regards the physiological character of red rust, there can be no doubt whatever that it is essentially a vegetable parasite or fungus, attacking the plant externally, and brought into active operation by certain atmospheric or climatic conditions, the most effective of which last year were heat and humidity. In September and October, there was a most unusual amount of moisture combined with sultry heat, and frequent heavy dews at night—the blades of cereal plants being ket in a continual state of dampness, with occasional rapid evaporation, causing the pores of the leaf to be more than ordinarily open, and thus facilitating the entrance of the infinitely minute spores, or seeds of the rust fungus, which are more or less always floating in the atmosphere or deposited on the soil or surrounding objects, ready for dissemination by every wind that blows. An opinion has been expressed before this Commission that the rust on the wheat blade is simply an exudation from the plant itself, a spontaneous overflow of sap, and is not the result of parasitical attack. But this theory is altogether without support, either in the general conditions and circumstances of the rust as observed by the naked eye on a great variety of plants, or in the microscopic appearances of the diseased wheat plant. For although the most luxuriant growths of wheat have doubtless suffered most from the rust, thus lending an apparent support to the theory of sap "exudation," it is an undeniable fact that a large number of cereal plants and grasses—the very reverse of luxuriant—have also suffered from rust, which must, therefore be accounted for in some other way than by the outflow of superabundant juices. The spores of the rust are proved to be true seeds, possessing a uniform and definite character according to their variety retaining their vitality as other seeds do and capable of being developed at any time by the application of heat and moisture.

Your Commissioners have examined through the microscope various specimens of last year's rusted wheat, and find the rust spores identical in appearance with those noticed and delineated by Mr. Cooke, and other eminent mycologists, who have written on the subject. There is therefore, no doubt whatever that the rust in wheat, now so painfully known to South Australian farmers, is identical with the disease long recognized by the same name in Europe, briefly described by Dr. Mueller, in his report hereto annexed. It has also been shown in evidence, that the red rust has affected, in addition to wheat and other cereals, flax, lucerne, wild oats, wild barleygrass, reeds, and many other vegetable productions.

It has been noticed that the red rust appeared in some localities before the humid weather of September and October, and also (in the South-East) after the dry, hot weather had set in. On this point it may be remarked that there are two distinct varieties of red rust, designated in Dr. Mueller's paper, Puccinia graminis and Puccinia straminis—one of which has the power of producing its spores in almost any season. Mr. Ey, in his evidence, also refers to the two kinds of rust, and avows his conviction that both have been active agents in the destruction of last season's crop. The rust that appeared earlier is popularly known as the "long corn" rust, and is believed to have borne a full share with the Vera rubigo (or true rust) in the desolation of our last harvest.

In the course of this investigation some points of importance have been established, materially affecting and modifying opinions hitherto entertained. In 1865, it was reported by the Agricultural and Horticultural Society, who took evidence on the subject of red rust (see Appendix), that crops grown upon land long cultivated were much more liable to the disease than those grown upon new land, and that crops grown upon well cultivated and manured land were much less liable. These opinions, though disavowed by some cultivators, prevailed very generally down to the time when your Commissioners entered upon their investigation; but the experience of last season excited grave doubts on the subject, and the result of the evidence now adduced entirely sets aside this portion of the report of the Agricultural Society. It is found, as the almost uniform result of last year's operations, that rust has prevailed upon all kinds of land—upon lands long cropped, upon fallow lands, upon grazed lands, upon virgin soil, upon manured lands, upon the plains and upon the hills. But more than this, it has been proved that in nearly every instance the richest lands have suffered the most from red rust; and that in a large number of cases, the best crops have been reaped from the poorest natural soils, and from those most exhausted by frequent cropping. It is an almost universal fact that wherever the wheat grew most luxuriantly in September and October, there the failure has been most complete; whilst those crops that in the early part of the season were the least promising, as a rule turned out by far the best sample and the heaviest yield. This very remarkable circumstance, attested by hundreds of witnesses, is thus accounted for:—Luxuriance in vegetation, like excessive fat in animals, is not identical with vigour. Plants forced into abnormal luxuriance are more susceptible of climatic changes than those which are tough and hardy. The more juicy and succulent the plant, the more predisposed is it to the inroads of the rust. The pores of the leaf being unusually open, the minute spores of parasitical fungi can more readily enter. Then, again, the more dense and heavy the crop, the less possible is it for the wind to circulate, and the saturated leaves to dry. On the other hand, in a thin, light crop, the leaf pores being less open to the entrance of the rust seed, the disease is not freely propagated, whilst the whole crop is far better situated to enjoy the drying influences of the wind, which retard the development of the parasite. The poor crop has thus a twofold advantage over the thick and luxuriant crop in a season favourable for the development of rust. Hence, so far as red rust is concerned, rich soils, and what is termed "high farming," instead of shutting out the disease or mitigating its severity, operate in the contrary direction, always supposing that the climatic conditions favourable to the development of rust are present.

The modus operandi of the disease is twofold. The rust spores, obtaining entrance through the open stomata or breathing pores of the plant, are very quickly developed, and, pushing forward rootlets (mycelia), gradually work their way along the sap vessels of the leaf—in all probability injuring, by their multiplication and progress, its internal mechanical structure. But the chief damage—or, all events, that which can with most certainty be traced—is caused by the absorption of the wheat-sap by the parasite that has entered its channels. The juices that should have gone to nourish the wheat-ear are intercepted in their progress by the rust fungus, which starves the grain by living on its proper nourishment. This is not only deduced from microscopic observations, but is clearly demonstrated by chemical analysis. Healthy grains of wheat contain certain definite proportions of inorganic ash—the ash, in its turn, containing definite proportions of phosphoric acid, potash and soda, and magnesia. It has been demonstrated that rusted wheat is very deficient in that ash, having sometimes less than one third its proper quantity. On the other hand, the rust spores, gathered from the rusty wheat, yield, on analysis, an extraordinary quantity of ash, and this ash is found to contain a large amount of the constituents present in the ash of healthy wheat, but wanting in the ash of rusty wheat. Doubtless further experiments on this point are eminently desirable; but as far as chemical analysis has extended, it seems fairly proved that the wheat perishes through the absorption of its proper nutriment by the rust fungus, and that the constituent elements wanting in the shrivelled grain are to be found in the parasite which has fed upon and destroyed it.

III.—SEED WHEAT.

Your Commissioners having come to the conclusion that the red rust is not originated in the soil, next directed attention to the several varieties of seed wheat, with a view to determine whether any descriptions were of more hardy character than others, and better calculated to repel the attacks of the disease. On this subject the evidence of the numerous witnesses is remarkably coincident. With but very few exceptions it has been found in all parts of the Colony that the Tuscan and Purple Straw varieties suffered least, whilst the more prolific varieties, such as the Goldsmith, suffered most. The Tuscan, however, being a poor yielding grain, is not likely to be generally selected for seed, and the Purple Straw therefore is the wheat now generally recommended as combining a fair yield and a certain degree of resistance to the red rust. It of course remains for the farmer to determine whether (to ensure the weightiest crop) he will sow prolific but tender varieties; or whether he will purchase a certain degree of immunity against the rust by being content with a variety of seed not quite so famed for heavy bearing. It is noticeable that the Victorian Commission of 1865, emphatically recommend care in the selection of seed wheat, reporting favourably of the Red Straw and Tuscans, and deprecating the Golden Drop, White Prolific, White Velvet, and Winslow.

Attention has been specially directed during this investigation to the question of the fitness or unfitness of shrivelled grain, and grain from rusted crops, for seed. There being in many districts of the Colony but little good seed this year, your Commissioners deemed the point now under consideration to be one of the utmost importance, and they have much satisfaction in stating that numerous witnesses declare—as the result of their own personal experience—that shrivelled and rusty seed will produce healthy and abundant crops. This fact has, indeed, been known both to scientific observers and practical farmers for many years, and is specially remarked upon by the Victoria Committee. In that Colony scientific research and practical testimony were both brought to bear on the subject, and although Dr. Mueller and his colleagues appear somewhat hesitant to account for the fact, yet they are most confident in reporting that not only will shrivelled and rusty seed produce good plants, but in many instances had yielded healthier and heavier crops than those raised from first-class seed. Nevertheless, as strong objections had been urged against the use of last season's rusted wheat as seed, the Commission felt it desirable to bestow special care upon this branch of their inquiry. They therefore collected all the reliable information in their power, and also requested Dr. Schomburgk, of the Botanic Gardens, to experiment upon various samples, including some of the worst procurable. The result of experiments thus made fully supports the evidence of agricultural witnesses. The very thinnest grain germinated as readily as the finest; and, although on first springing up, it appeared slightly weaker than the other, it grew freely, and in a few days was as vigorous as that proceeding from a plumper seed. As, however, the germ must be nourished from the substance of the seed until its roots can draw nutriment from the soil, it is reasonable to suppose that very poor seed would have a better chance in good than in exhausted soils.

Your Commissioners therefore consider that their inquiries on this particular question terminated alike in an undeniable and a satisfactory conclusion. Much valuable information on that subject, including Dr. Schomburgk's report, is appended.

It having been thought by some persons that the rust may partly be accounted for by the continued use for many years of the progeny of the same crop, and that a change of seed, brought from distant localities, would shut out the disease, your Commissioners report that this idea is not supported by the evidence. On the contrary, crops raised from seed brought from distant places, have been affected with rust equally with those raised from seed grown on the same sections. No doubt, for other reasons, unconnected with rust, change of seed is often desirable; and the evidence of witnesses on this point shows that new seed should be procured as nearly as possible from a latitude similar to that where it is intended to plant it, and also from a poorer soil to a richer one, and not vice versa, otherwise time will be lost in the acclimatization of the new arrival. Fine specimens of South Australian seed wheat have produced soft and diseased crops in England in fields where seed grown in the same neighbourhood produced healthy and fruitful plants. The colonial seed had not become acclimatized, and the plant suffered accordingly.

But although the red rust is shown to be dependent upon atmospheric conditions, and to commence its ravages upon the stem and leaf of the plant, and not to ascend from the root, it is nevertheless desirable to pickle the seed, for the purpose not only of killing the spores of black rust or smut, but also in order to destroy spores of the red rust which may happen to attach to it. On the subject of the composition of pickles for wheat, a few words will presently be added.

IV.—BLACK RUST AND SMUT.

Smut being effectually destroyed by a proper preparation of the seed, it has not been thought necessary to inquire particularly into a disease within the knowledge of all practical farmers. With reference to black rust, late sowing is recommended as a preventive, unless the ground should previously be thoroughly saturated. Dry ploughing, by turning up the land in clods, and leaving open cavities beneath the surface, which harrowing does not fill up, is considered by several practical agriculturists as strongly favouring the development of black rust. One witness says:—"The remedy I always adopt is, never to work my land unless it is sufficiently saturated with a certain depth of rainfall, so that the soil is sufficiently moist throughout, and then working the land when it is mellow. I have always found I have avoided black rust. I was led to conclude that black rust came from the roughly-broken state of the soil; as the harrows only penetrate an inch or two—the black rust always made its appearance when the roots got down that far—the bottom being hollow as a honeycomb." Others, in like manner, recommend the thorough working and pulverization of the land, combined with proper pickling, as a sufficient antidote to this form of cereal disease.

V.—TAKEALL.

This disease, so destructive in many districts of South Australia, is not so well understood as rust. Farmers and chemists are alike at sea—ploughmen and microscopical observers differ in toto as to its nature and causes. It is said to result from an exhausted soil, from the deficiency of some constituent element essential to the maturing of cereal crops. It is declared to be the want of drainage, and it is said to be want of manure. It is affirmed to be caused by a vegetable fungus, and to be a disease analogous to the potato disease. It is also said to be the result of insect ravages. Scarcely any two witnesses agree on this point, whether farmers or chemists. But the subject is of far too great moment to be passed over indifferently. In some respects, takeall is more to be dreaded than red rust. The latter cannot commit wholesale destruction, unless in connection with a description of weather such as we rarely have in this Colony; but takeall appears altogether independently of the weather. And as its ravages are irrespective of climatic influences, so are its movements inexplicable by reference to locality or soil. It is like last season's rust, to be found everywhere, and the richest soils often suffer the most. It attacks new-broken or fallowed land as well as land frequently cropped. It especially attacks the slopes of hills—not so often the table land on top, nor the flats in the valley, as the slopes and sides. All cereals fall before it; even native grasses disappear. It works in patches, selecting certain spots or centres—thence radiating, often succeeded by cockspur or Grant's thistle, the takeall in following seasons reappearing in other spots. Its movements being so little reducible to rule, experience and observation are at fault in endeavouring to explain it, and hence conflicting ideas. This difference perplexes the inquiry, whilst the rapid spread of the pest, and the fear that it will every year encroach upon wider tracts of country, render close observation and study a duty of the utmost importance.

The appearance of the cereal, above ground, as it fades away and perishes under the influence of this insidious invader, needs no description, being but too well known. The root has been examined, and appearances detected, leading some observers to conclude that the disease is caused by a vegetable, and others, by an animal parasite. Dr. Muecke has magnified and photographed fibres of the roots of wheat plants suffering from takeall, exhibiting a number of minute white threads of a woolly appearance, which he considers to be the mycelia of a fungus causing the disease. Mr. Ey, who has also examined it microscopically, says that it is not a fungus, and the supposed fungoid may be found attached to all roots healthy or unhealthy. He considers that the disease is caused either by animalculæ attacking the plant in the first instance, or by the growth of a sort of a lichen at the bottom of the stalk, which serves as a nest for animalculæ. He says: "What I recognize under the name 'takeall,' is the Vibrio tritice, or eel of wheat. A plant taken from a diseased spot will be found black on the stem, from the roots to the first internode; and on pressing, a thin film of lichen or moss will come off. In this will be found a number of animalculæ coiled up, apparently dead; but on being moistened with a drop of water, on a glass slide under the microscope, will come to life in an hour, moving about with great rapidity. They are like eels of wheat, which, as yet, have only been found in the grain. I have not yet satisfied myself whether the eel or the lichen is the primary cause; but one of the two is takeall. The animalculæ might be sown with the seed; it is sometimes the case that one grain of wheat will contain 4,000 to 5,000 eels of wheat."

The witnesses, however, whilst giving expression to their opinions, or their conjectures, were all (with the exception of Dr. Muecke, who strongly adheres to the fungoid origin of takeall) very careful to avoid any final or positive avowal. It is scarcely probable that the takeall results from the development of vibriones sown in the seed wheat, because the disease has been just as bad in crops from seed pickled in strong dilutions of sulphuric acid and other mixtures fatal to insect life, as in crops not pickled at all. The Victorian Committee make no reference to takeall—the very name in fact being an admission that the nature and cause of the malady are not as yet found out. The use of sulphur has been found beneficial, and land rendered barren by takeall has been recovered where the ashes of a bush fence had been scattered, but it is doubtful whether the sulphur acted specifically upon the supposed spore or egg of the takeall, or chemically upon the soil, nor is it certain whether the ashes of the bush fence destroyed the takeall by acting chemically upon the soil, or whether the change noticed where the hedge was consumed might be attributable to the heat of the fire. It is exceedingly desirable that this most vital question should be thoroughly sifted, as there is imminent danger of our wheat lands succumbing section by section to this mysterious visitor, and the Commission are, therefore, of opinion that a series of experiments in the application of diluted sulphuric acid, and also of sulphur in its various combinations, both as a pickle for the seed and as a top dressing for the diseased spots in the land, might be of great use, inasmuch as the only generally available remedies for takeall described in the evidence as having been successfully used are diluted sulphuric acid, applied by Mr. Ey as a top dressing, and sulphur and lime, used by Mr. Martin as a pickle for the seed.

VI.—PICKLING SEED WHEAT.

Although experience shows that pickling seed wheat is no security against red rust, it does not follow that it has no effect at all upon that disease. Apart, however, from this formidable enemy to cereals there are other foes to be met and vanquished only by a proper system of pickling the seed, and hence the inquiries made and evidence taken by the Commission on the subject. It is not necessary to dwell upon a practice so well known and generally observed, but it may be remarked that the evidence taken discloses great difference of usage in this particular. Whilst some farmers only let their wheat remain in pickle for a few minutes, others allow it to be in solution for hours. The chemical witnesses recommend six or eight hours' steeping; Dr. Muecke says eight if the weather is wet, and twelve if it be dry, giving four ounces of bluestone to the bushel. Some farmers do not soak the wheat at all, but merely sprinkle it with the liquid solution, turn the heap over for a few times, and dust it with dry lime. It is doubtful, however, whether the fungus spores adhering to the grain are effectually destroyed in this manner, and as the power of wheat to retain its vitality under certain conditions of pickling can easily be ascertained by experiments, it would be worth while for agriculturists to make a set of trials. There is much reason to fear that in many instances, from the weakness of the solution and the insufficient time allowed for the grain to absorb it, the operation is null and void, so far as regards the destruction of the parasitical spores. It has been shown that sulphur either in form of flowers, or milk of sulphur or in that of sulphuric acid, has been employed with very excellent effect. The sulphuric acid is used, four ounces, by weight, to each bushel of seed, diluted with as much water as the wheat will take up; the latter, after a few hours' solution, being dried with slacked lime. Sulphur and lime also make an excellent combination most effectual in destroying fungi. The milk, or flowers of sulphur, in powder, to be mixed with twice its weight of fresh slacked hot lime, ten gallons of water to each pound of sulpher; this forms a sulphuret of lime, with which the wheat is to be well moistened, and afterwards dried with fresh slacked lime. It is to be hoped that a few practical experiments will be made during next seed time, with a view to determine the double question of the proper strength of pickle and the length of time that the seed should lie in it.

VII.—STUBBLE-BURNING.

On the subject of stubble-burning, in connection with the rust disease, the evidence is conflicting. From the prevalence of rust last season it follows, however, as a matter of course, that the country is covered with rust spores to a far greater extent than usual, and that a large proportion of them adhere to the straw and stubble that lie on the stubble lands. These spores would necessarily be destroyed by the burning of the stubble, although enough would still remain in other places to spread the disease next year, should we have a return of last season's weather—a contingency, however, which, to judge from the past, is highly improbable. Still, as we have had rust in several previous years, although to nothing like so fearful an extent, the Commission recommend the burning of stubble, and the collection and burning of hedge clippings and other refuse matter, in which the seeds of the rust fungus will have found shelter.

VIII.—EXHAUSTION OF THE SOIL.

Although not immediately connected with red rust, your Commissioners have taken evidence with reference to the constituent elements of the soil in this province, and have to report that this important branch of agricultural science has been almost wholly neglected. Not more than half a dozen analyses of the soil appear to have been as yet made; so that science has, so far, lent practically no aid at all in instructing South Australian farmers as to the adaptation of their lands to the growth of particular crops. It is, in the opinion of this Commission, highly desirable that an agricultural chemist and analyst be appointed, in order to carry on a regular and continuous system of experiments upon soil and manures; and also to conduct miscrocopical and chemical observations bearing on the subject of the growth and disease of our cereals. The vast tract of country annually cropped with wheat is being gradually robbed of its phosphates and other constituents essential to the formation of a healthy growth; and as there is scarcely anything returned in the shape of manure, the grain-producing power of the soil is every year becoming less—involving a sure diminution of average yield, even though we may escape the plague of red rust. The appointment of an official agricultural chemist would not involve any serious expenditure, whilst it would afford to farmers generally the means of obtaining reliable analyses of their wheat lands at a nominal charge—thus guiding them in the choice of crops, and in the adoption of measures calculated to restore to the soil those fertilizing elements of which it may stand in need. It cannot be too constantly borne in mind that the soils are not always to be correctly judged from appearance, even by the most practised eye. Land that appears rich, and which, as regards most of its constituents, may really be so, may notwithstanding be deficient in some one element indispensable to the growth of a vigorous crop, or of some one element necessary to render the other constituents of the soil soluble and capable of assimilation by the plants. This knowledge can only be acquired by chemical experiment. In other countries, and in the sister Colony, especial attention is devoted to this branch of agricultural science, which, though pre-eminently necessary in South Australia, is neglected with an indifference as reprehensible as it is unaccountable.

IX.—CONCLUSION.

On the whole, and especially as regards the red rust, your Commissioners, though necessarily unable to discover a specific remedy for a disease the germs of which are universally diffused and brought into active vitality by atmospheric causes, have much pleasure in submitting to your Excellency the large amount of valuable information elicited by this inquiry. If a positive cure is not discovered, several very serious mistakes are corrected; mistakes which would be costly in their operation and disappointing in their results. It is shown that the extraordinary ravages of red rust last season were not caused, as many asserted, by exhaustion of the soil, and that, therefore, expensive manurings, however beneficial in other respects—are useless as a preventive of rust. It is shown that there are some wheats hardier than others; the farmer thus having, in some small degree, the means within his own power of diminishing the extreme destructiveness of the disease by avoiding those varieties that are most easily overcome by it. It is also shown that as red rust is not propagated, like smut, from diseased seed, shrivelled grain, of little value for milling purposes, will produce both healthy and abundant crops, under ordinarily favourable circumstances of soil and climate. It is shown that agricultural chemistry has scarcely made a start as yet in this Colony, although of so much importance to a proper system of cultivation. And finally, your Commissioners hope that the attention which has been so widely directed in all parts of the province not only to the sad visitation which has befallen it, but to the general condition and prospects of agriculture, will have the effect of leading to closer habits of observation and to more careful experiments on the part of farmers themselves; and, on the part of the Legislature and Government, to a corresponding appreciation of the claims and requirements of an interest which, without exaggeration, may be represented as the cardinal industry of the province, and the chief foundation of its prosperity.

Colonial] Office, Cape of Good Hope, 7th August, 1868.

TENDERS FOR GAOL SUPPLIES, TO BE RECEIVED BY THE HONOURABLE THE AUDITOR-GENERAL.

IN connection with the foregoing Government Notice No. 249 of 1868, it is hereby notified that Sealed Tenders will be received at the Office of the Honourable the Auditor-General, Cape Town, until 12 o'clock noon, on the 1st of October next, from Persons willing to supply any or all of the Articles enumerated in the Schedule to the "Form of Tender" appended to the said Notice, required for the use of the Government either throughout the Colony, or in such Districts as the Tenderers may select, for a period of three years, commencing on such date as may hereafter be determined by Government, but not sooner than four months from notification of acceptance of Tender.

Samples of the Articles have been deposited in the Office of each of the Resident Magistrates, and Parties tendering will be presumed to have made themselves aware of the description and quality of the Articles required.

The following are the conditions to which it has been decided that all Contracts under this Notice should be subject, viz.:—

1. All Articles are to be supplied upon requisitions from the Colonial Secretary, or other authorized Officer at such times and in such quantities as may be required.

2. All Supplies are to be ready for dispatch within fourteen days from the date of receipt of every such requisition by the Contractor, and, before being packed, are to be subject to inspection and approval, at the Stores of the Contractor, by the Officer who may be appointed to perform this duty. They will also be subject, on arrival at their destination, to comparison with the standard samples in the respective Resident Magistrates' Offices.

3. All Supplies are to be carefully packed, and to be forwarded by the Contractor at his own risk and expense. In lieu of special charges for packing, packing-cases, freight, transport, insurance, &c., a fixed charge of — per cent. on the contract prices of the Articles ordered will be allowed to the Contractor. (This percentage is to be distinctly stated in every Tender).

4. Payment for Supplies will be made by the Civil Commissioner of the Division to which the supply relates in cash, or by dr aft on the Colonial Treasury, immediately on receipt by, and under the certificate of, the Residen Magistrate of each District; except as regards Supplies in the Cape Division, which will be paid by the Treasurer-General, in the manner pursued in respect of ordinary claims against the Government.

5. The Contractor will be required to use every expedition in the delivery of the Supplies at the several District Towns; three months from date of Inspector's certificate to be the maximum period for their transmission.

6. In the event of Supplies not reaching their destination within the period of three months from date of certificate, the Government shall have the right to engage or employ some other person or persons to supply the Articles required, and to deduct or retain from out of the money which shall be due to the Contractor at the time of such neglect or default, or which may thereafter become due to him by the Colonial Government, all such sum or sums of money as the Government may have to pay over and above the Contract prices for the articles so obtained.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender, and reserves the option of accepting any portion of a Tender without the whole.

The signature of two sufficient Sureties will be required to every Tender, and upon acceptance of any Tender, wholly or in part, the person or persons tendering, and the Sureties, will be required to enter into a formal Contract.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY,
Colonial Secretary.

PUBLIC SALE

OF A FIRST-CLASS

SHEEP FARM.

In the Insolvent Estates of JAN HENDRIK BEETJE and PETRUS JOHANNES BEETJE, of Nieuwefontein, District Richmond, Farmers.

THE Undersigned, in their capacity as Joint Trustees in these Estates, will cause to be sold at Hanover, by Public Auction, in October next, (date hereafter to be fixed), that well-known and valuable Farm, called

"NIEUWEFONTEIN,"

in the Division of Richmond, being five hours' distance from the Town of Richmond, and two and a half hours from the Town of Hanover,

AT A CREDIT EXTENDING OVER 3 YEARS.

This Farm has three substantially-built Dwellings, as also Wagon-house, Stable, &c, &c.; also convenient Kraals, all in good order.

The Arable Lands are all enclosed, and extremely productive, on which five muids of seed can be sown.

In striking contrast with many other first-class Farms, "Nieuwefontein" is abundantly supplied with Water, during even the driest seasons, and at all times of the year.

It has two permanent Springs, as also two Dams, one of which has recently been constructed at considerable expense, and is capable of containing a copious supply of Water.

As a Grazing Farm and Sheepwalk, the merits of "Nieuwefontein" are so prominent, and so generally known and appreciated, that it seems almost superfluous to refer at all to the subject.

5. The Contractor will be required to use every expedition in the delivery of the Supplies at the several District Towns; three months from date of Inspector's certificate to be the maximum period for their transmission.

6. In the event of Supplies not reaching their destination within the period of three months from date of certificate, the Government shall have the right to engage or employ some other person or persons to supply the Articles required, and to deduct or retain from out of the money which shall be due to the Contractor at the time of such neglect or default, or which may thereafter become due to him by the Colonial Government, all such sum or sums of money as the Government may have to pay over and above the Contract prices for the articles so obtained.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender, and reserves the option of accepting any portion of a Tender without the whole.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded: provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry in his Vehicles, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:—

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	0
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets into any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance, unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other par of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission, constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

OF A FIRST-CLASS

SHEEP FARM.

In the Insolvent Estates of JAN HENDRIK BESTJE and PETRUS JOHANNES BESTJE, of Nieuwefontein, District Richmond, Farmers.

THE Undersigned, in their capacity as Joint Trustees in these Estates, will cause to be sold at Hanover, by Public Auction, in October next, (date hereafter to be fixed), that well-known and valuable Farm, called

"NIEUWEFONTEIN,"

in the Division of Richmond, being five hours' distance from the Town of Richmond, and two and a half hours from the Town of Hanover,

AT A CREDIT EXTENDING OVER 3 YEARS

This Farm has three substantially-built Dwellings as also Wagon-house, Stable, &c, &c.; also convenient Kraals, all in good order.

The Arable Lands are all enclosed, and extremely productive, on which five muids of seed can be sown

In striking contrast with many other first-class Farms, "Nieuwefontein" is abundantly supplied with Water, during even the driest seasons, and at all times of the year.

It has two permanent Springs, as also two Dams, one of which has recently been constructed at considerable expense, and is capable of containing a copious supply of Water.

As a Grazing Farm and Sheepwalk, the merits of "Nieuwefontein" are so prominent, and so generally known and appreciated, that it seems almost superfluous to refer at all to the subject.

Further particulars can be obtained from

M. M. TAIT, Richmond, and PHILIP WATERMEYER, Hanover, } Joint Trustees.

This Company having a Revenue from Premiums alone of One Hundred and Forty Thousand Pounds per Annum, is in a position to transact every description of LIFE ASSURANCE on as favourable terms as any other Company of equal standing.

Holders of Life Policies on the profit scale, who may hereafter fill confidential situations and require to be guaranteed, may secure considerable reductions in their life premiums, by making their life policies contingent on the continuance of fidelity.

Three fourths of the Profits are divisible among the Policy-holders on the "Profit Scale of Premiums" affording the advantages of Mutual Assurance, with the further security of a large subscribed capital, the prudent employment of which gives a greater ratio of increase to business and to profits than a purely Mutual Society can achieve.

Assurances are granted for £10,000 on a single life.

Premiums may be paid in one sum, or yearly, or by half-yearly, or quarterly instalments.

Policies upon which five years' payments have been made, are purchased by the Society or the Policy-holders, if unable to continue paying, may receive fresh Policies in exchange (on which no further payment is required), equivalent to the then value of the Premiums already paid.

On Policies amounting to £200 and upwards for the whole of life, one-half of the Premium may remain unpaid at Interest for five years.

No extra Premium charged for voyage to and residence in any part of Europe, New Zealand, Australia (except at the "Diggings,") the Cape Colony, or British America.

This is the only Society transacting Life Assurance with Fidelity Guarantee, whose Policies of Guarantee are authorized (by Special Act of Parliament) to be accepted by Government.

The Guarantee Policies of this Society are accepted by the Treasury, Poor Law Board, and other public departments, and by the leading London and Provincial Joint-Stock and Private Banks, the principal Railway Companies, Life and Fire Offices, Public Companies, Institutions, and Commercial Firms throughout the Kingdom.

Immediate Annuities payable during the whole of Life may be purchased on the following Scale

The Premiums are payable yearly in advance; or at the option of the Assured, half-yearly, with a slight increase of the Rate.

This being a MUTUAL ASSURANCE SOCIETY, the profits are not, as in Proprietary Companies, divided between the Partners and the Assured,—the whole belong to the Policy-holders.

The Profits are divided amongst the holders of Policies at the termination of every period of THREE YEARS, and each holder may determine that his share shall be added to the sum assured by him,—or converted into Present Payment—or applied in Reduction of the future Annual Premiums payable by him.

The last Division was declared at the Annual Meeting held on the 6th July, 1868. The Profits then divided were at the rate of 2½ per cent. per annum, or 7½ per cent. for the three years. Thus a Policy of £500, taken out before the three years. Thus a Policy of £500, taken out before 1st November, 1865, has £37 10s., three years' Profits added to it; a Policy of the same amount, taken out before 1st November, 1867, has £12 10s., one year's Profits added; while the total accumulated Profits on a Policy of £500, taken out in 1845, the first year of the Society's existence, now amount to the large sum of £401 0s. 2d.

The next Division of Profits will take place in July 1871.

Persons proposing for assurance will be required to produce Certificates of Baptism, or such other proofs of age as the Directors may deem to be satisfactory.

Candidates for assurance are not charged with fees payable to the Medical Officers of the Society.

Prospectuses, Forms of Proposal, and all information respecting the Society may be obtained at the Office in Cape Town, or at any of the Agencies throughout the Colony.

Rocky Shoal in Algoa Bay.

A Rocky Shoal (Strutt's Reef), with 15 feet water at low spring tides, and covering an area of about 50 square yards, has been found in Algoa Bay. It lies to the southward of the southernmost part of the anchorage ground, and three cables from the nearest point of land, with the following marks and bearings:—

Bearings by Compass. Waterpipe and Reservoir House in line with the two southernmost Houses of the Town, W. ¼ N. 3¾ cables.

Scotch Church spire in line with the Square Tower of St. Mary's Church, N.W.

Bird Rock S.S.E.

Harbour Lighthouse N.W. ½ W.

To clear Strutt's Reef.

Do not shut in the Tower of the Mosque (which is red) with the north end of the Breakwater, nor open the Tower of the Grey Institute to the south-westward of the Harbour Lighthouse, in approaching or leaving the anchorage, and this will lead clear in not less than 25 feet water at lowest spring tides.

F. SKEAD, Harbour Master.

[No. 63,—1868.]

GOUVERNEMENTS BERIGT No. 289, 1868.

Koloniale Secretarie, Kaap de Goede Hoop,
7 September, 1868.

ZIJNE Excellentie de Gouverneur heeft voor algemeen narigt de publikatie gelast van het bijgaande Rapport eener Commissie, door de Regering van Zuid Australie aangesteld om onderzoek te doen naar de Ziekten onder de Graangewassen in die Kolonie.

Ter Ordonnantie van Z. E. den Gouverneur,

R. SOUTHEY,

Koloniale Secretaris.

Aan Zijne Excellentie Luitenant-Kolonel HAMLEY, Ambtenaar, belast met het bestuur van Zuid Australie, enz., enz., enz.

Zijne Excellentie Sir DOMINICK DALY, Ridder, voormalig Gouverneur-en-Chef van Zuid Australie, ons, wier namen hieronder geplaatst zijn, aangesteld hebbende tot eene Commissie om onderzoek in te stellen naar de Ziekten onder de graangewassen in deze provincie, hebben wij de eer aan Uwe Excellentie te rapporteren, als volgt:—

I.—VOORWOORD.

Aangezien de natuurlijke geschiedenis van de roestziekte sedert jaren reeds het onderwerp van wetenschappelijke nasporing is geweest, verwachtte de Commissie niet in staat te zullen zijn met de beperkte middelen en hulpbronnen ter harer beschikking, nieuw licht te kunnen werpen op de natuurlijke gesteldheid van die plaag; maar zij heeft hare beste krachten gewijd aan de vraag, of de ziekte die onlangs onze graanoogsten vernield heeft dezelfde is als de "roest" door wetenschappelijke mannen beschreven, of wel, dat zij eene nieuwe en gewijzigde ziekte was, voortgebragt door eigenaardige toestanden van grond en klimaat, die den wasdom van koren in deze Kolonie benadeelen. Zij heeft evenwel, niettegenstaande vroegere nasporingen, op nieuw onderzocht of de oorzaak van den roest te zoeken was in het uitgezaaide zaad, in den grond zelven, of in omstandigheden van den dampkring die op den groei der planten inwerken, en eindelijk of er eenig plan kon beraamd worden om de hevigheid der ziekte te keer te gaan. Op deze punten zijn vele nuttige getuigenissen, mondelinge en schriftelijke ingewonnen, en nevens dit rapport gevoegd.

Uwe Commissie heeft ook op de ziekte gemeenlijk genoemd "takeall," hare aandacht gerigt en de waarnemingen van vele ervaren en bevoegde getuigen daaromtrent aangeteekend.

De wijze van onderzoek was als volgt:—De Commissie liet eene schedule met vragen (zie Aanhangsel) drukken, omvattende ongeveer twintig afzonderlijke vakken van onderzoek, en zond die in pakken naar alle korporatien en distriktsraden tot verspreiding onder de landbouwers en andere bevoegde personen in hunne nabuurschap. Men achtte het beter, dat de distriktsraden zelven de landbouwers, wie getuigenis verlangd werd, zouden uitkiezen, dan dat de Commissie hare ondervraging beperken zou tot individuen van hare eigene keuze. Wat de lijst van vragen zelve betreft, zij was opgemaakt eenvoudig als een rigtsnoer voor hen die mogten wenschen er zich van te bedienen, wordende ieder aan wien er een geadresseerd werd, uitgenoodigd zijne inzigten en meeningen op zijne eigene wijze mede te deelen, zonder zich eenigzins aan de door de Commissie voorgestelde vragen te houden. Vele getuigen hebben, overeenkomstig die uitnoodiging, het resultaat hunner ervaringen op verschillende punten van gewigt medegedeeld boven en behalve hunne antwoorden op de schedulen.

De mededeelingen, ontvangen in antwoord op de door de Commissie gestelde vragen, zijn zorgvuldig overwogen en onderling vergeleken, en de belangrijkste gedeelten der inlichtingen hiernevens gevoegd. Dit heeft eenig onvermijdelijk oponthoud veroorzaakt, maar de waarde der dus bekomen getuigenissen zal het tijdverlies meer dan vergoeden.

Behalve de nuttige en zeer verscheiden information, aldus per post van omtrent 700 praktische landbouwers verkregen, zijn nog verschillende getuigen voor de Commissie verschenen en de door hen afgelegde mondelinge verklaringen zijn ook in het Aanhangsel te vinden. Onder deze getuigen zijn eenige van de meest ervaren en opmerkzaamste tarwe-te bouwers in dit gebied, als mede onze bekwaamste landbouw-scheikundigen en mikroskopisten. Uwe Commissie werd ook begunstigd met een wel doordacht en uitgewerkt opstel van den Heer Charles Todd, omtrent den regenval in het afgeloopen jaargetijde, vergeleken met de voorafgaanden,—een opstel waarnaar zij met meer dan gewonen nadruk verwijst als bevattende informatien van het hoogste belang voor den wetenschappelijken landbouwer en den den naturalist. Ook behoort melding te worden gemaakt van een rapport, zoo welwillend en gereedelijk aangeboden door Dr. Mueller, van den Kruidtuin te Melbourne, over den roest in de tarwe, waarin worden opgesomd de jongste nasporingen en ontdekkingen aangaande die gevreesde ziekte, en waarin sommige schoonklinkende maar ongegronde theorien desaangaande worden bestreden. De wetenschappelijke zijde der kwestie is ook op deskundige wijze toegelicht geworden door Drs. Muecke en Schomburgh, en de Heeren Francis, Cossins, en Ey, in deze Kolonie, wier resultaten ook hier zijn bijgevoegd.

Met deze voorafgaande opmerkingen gaat uwe commissie over tot het ontwikkelen der resultaten harer nasporingen.

II.—ROODE ROEST.

Wat aangaat den natuurlijken aard van rooden roest is het buiten twijfel, dat die een wezentlijk woekergewas is, een fungus, die de plant van buiten aantast en in krachtige ontwikkeling komt onder zekere toestanden van dampkring en klimaat, de meest werkdadige waarvan verleden jaar bestonden in hitte en vochtigheid. In September en October had men eene ongemeene mate van vocht, tegelijk met eene drukkende hitte en gedurende vele nachten zwaren dauw. Daar de bladen der graangewassen in voorduranden dampigen staat verkeerden, met nu en dan een schielijke uitwaseming, geraakten de porien veel meer dan gewoonlijk open, waardoor het indringen gemakkelijk werd gemaakt aan de onendlig kleine sporen van den roest-parasiet, die meest altijd rondzweven in de lucht of zich bevinden op den grond of op omringende voorwerpen, gereed ter verspreiding door elk windje dat er blaast. Men heeft voor deze Commissie de meening geuit, dat de roest op den korenhalm eenvoudig een uitwas is van de plant zelve, een overmaat van sap op eens, en niet de aanval van een woekergewas. Maar deze theorie is geheel zonder grond, zoowel in de algemeene gesteldheden en omstandigheden van den roest, als met het bloote oog waargenomen, als in de mikroskopische verschijnselen van de aangetaste tarweplant. Want ofschoon de weelderigste tarwe-gewassen ongetwijfeld het meest van roest geleden hebben, hetwelk aan de theorie der uitdrijving van sap eenigen schijn van grond geeft, is het een onloochenbaar feit, dat een groot aantal der graangewassen en grassoorten—die juist het omgekeerde waren van weelderig—mede door roest zijn aangetast, waarvoor dus eene andere oorzaak moest bestaan dan de uitvloeijing van overtollige sappen. De sporen van roest zijn gebleken werkelijk zaadjes te zijn van eenvormigen en zeer bepaalden aard, overeenkomstig hunne verscheidenheid; die hunne levenskracht behouden zoo als andere zaden doen, en die te allen tijde door warmte en vocht kunnen ontwikkeld worden.

Uwe Commissie heeft met de mikroskoop verscheidene soorten roestige tarwe van verleden jaar waargenomen en bevonden, dat de roestsporen in voorkomen gelijk staan met die, opgemerkt door den Heer Cooke en andere beroemde myeologisten, die over dit onderwerp geschreven hebben. Er is dus hoegenaamd geen twijfel, dat de roest in tarwe, nu zoo jammerlijk bekend bij de Zuid Australische landlieden, dezelfde is met de ziekte, lang onder dien naam bekend in Europa en kortelijk beschreven in zijn nevensgaand rapport. Ook is door getuigenis aangetoond, dat de roode roest, behalve de tarwe en andere granen, ook het vlas, de wilde haver, wild gaistgras, rietgewas en andere plantaardige voortbrengselen heeft aangetast.

Men heeft opgemerkt, dat in sommige streken de roode roest verschenen is vóór het vochtige weder van September en October, en ook (in het Zuidoosten) sedat het heete en drooge weder zich had ingezet. Op dit punt mag worden aangemerkt, dat er twee onderscheidene soorten van rooden roest zijn, aangeduid in Dr. Mueller's geschrift namelijk: Puccinia Graminis en Puccinia Straminis—een van welke de magt heeft zijne sporen in bijna alle jaargetijden voort te brengen. De Heer Ey wijst in zijne verklaringen ook op twee soorten van roest en belijdt zijne overtuiging, dat beide krachtig werkende middelen waren tot vernieling van den oogst van verleden jaar. De roest die het vroegste verschijnt is gemeenlijk bekend als de "lang koren" roest, en wordt geacht met de vera rubigo (of eigenlijke roest) in ruime mate te hebben medegewerkt aan de beschadiging van den jongsten oogst.

In den loop van dit onderzoek zijn eenige punten van belang uitgemaakt, die de tot hiertoe voorgestane meeningen beduidend hebben gewijzigd. In 1865 werd door het Genootschap van land- en tuinbouw, hetwelk getuigenissen had ingewonnen omtrent den rooden roest, gerapporteerd, dat de gewassen, verbouwd op lang onder kultuur zijnde gronden, meer door roest werden aangedaan, dan die geteeld op nieuwe akkers, en dat de gewassen op welbebouwde en bewerkte landerijen er veel minder aan onderhevig waren. Deze meeningen, ofschoon door sommige landbouwers bestreden, bleven vrij algemeen de heerschende tot op den tijd, dat deze commissie haar onderzoek begon; maar de ervaring van het laatste saizoen gaf aanleiding tot grooten twijfel daaromtrent, en de uitkomst der nu bijgebragte getuigenis verwerpt dat gedeelte van het rapport der Landbouw-maatschappij geheel en al. Men heeft in het afgeloopen jaar bijna eenvormig ondervonden, dat de roest geheerscht heeft op alle soorten van land; op lang bebouwde gronden, op braakgronden, op begraasde landerijen, op maagdelijken grond, op de vlakten en heuvelen. Maar wat nog meer zegt, het is bewezen, dat in nagenoeg elk geval de rijkste gronden het meest door roest geleden hebben; en dat in een groot aantal voorbeelden de beste oogsten gewonnen zijn van de schraalste natuurlijke gronden en van die, welke door langdurige verbouwing 't meest waren uitgemergeld. Het is een bijkans algemeene daa zaak, dat daar, waar de tarwe in September en October het weligst groeide, het misgewas het ergste was; terwijl de gewassen die in het begin van den groeitijd het minst belovend waren, in den regel de beste soort en het grootste beschot opleverden. Deze zeer opmerkelijke omstandigheid, door honderden getuigen gestaafd, wordt aldus verklaard:—Weelderigheid in planten, zoowel als overmatig vet bij dieren is niet eenzelvig met kracht. Planten, tot onnatuurlijke weelderigheid geforceerd, zijn veel meer vatbaar voor veranderingen in het klimaat dan dezulke, die taai en gehard zijn. Hoe vochtiger en sterijker de plant is, des te meer staat zij bloot aan het indringen van roest. Daar de porien van het blad meestal open zijn, hebben de sporen der woekerplant des te gereeder i garg. Verder, hoe digter en zwaarder het gewas staat, hoe minder het voor den wind mogelijk is er tusschen te komen en de doorweekte bladeren te droogen. Daarentegen, vermits in schrale, ligte gewassen de porien minder open zijn voor de ontvangst van het roestzaad, kan de ziekte zich niet zoo makkelijk verspreiden, terwijl de geheele oogst voorts veel beter opengesteld is voor den opdroogenden invloed van den wind, hetwelk de ontwikkeling der woekerplant in den weg staat. Schrale oogsten hebben dus een tweevoudig voordeel boven digte en weelderige gewassen, nl. in jaargetijden, die voor de ontwikkeling van roest gunstig zijn. Vandaar dat, wat roolen roest betreft, rijke gronden en zware bemesting (high farming) in plaats van de ziekte af te weren of hare hevigheid te verminderen, juist de tegenovergestelde gevolgen hebben, altijd in de onderstelling, dat de voor de ontwikkeling van roest gunstige gesteldheden van het klimaat aanwezig zijn.

De wijze waarop de ziekte werkt is tweeledig. De roestsporen, ingang bekomende door de opslorpende porien van de plant, ontwikkelen zich snel, en vervolgen onder het schieten van worteltjes (mycelia) hunnen weg langs de aspraten van het blad, waarvan zij, door hunne menigvuldigheid, naar alle waarschijnlijkheid de inwendige bewerktuiging schade aandoen. Maar het voornaamste nadeel—of in alle gevallen dat, hetwelk het zekerst kan worden nagespoord, —wordt veroorzaakt door dat de parasiet, die de kanalen der plant is bi nengedrongen, de sappen der tarwe opslurpt. Deze vochten, die bestemd waren den korenaar te voeden, worden door de roestplantjes in hunnen voortgang onderschept en deze doen dus het graan verhongeren, om zich zelven te voeden. Dit wordt niet alleen afgeleid van mikroskopische waarnemingen, maar ook duidelijk bewezen door scheikundige ontleding. Gezonde tarwekorrels bevatten in zich zekere bepaalde evenredigheden niet-organische asch—welke asch op hare beurt, bepaalde evenredigheden phosphorzuur, potasch, soda en magnesia bevat. Men heeft bevonden, dat de constituenten aangetaste tarwe zeer schraal van die asch bedeeld is, hebbende somtijds minder dan een derde van de behoorlijke kwantiteit. Aan den anderen kant leveren de roest-poren, bij ontleding eene buitengewone hoeveelheid asch, en die asch blijkt eene groote hoeveelheid te bevatten van de samenstellende elementen, derasch, vervat in gezonde tarwe, die in de met roest besmette tarwe ontbreken. Ongetwijfeld zijn verdere proefnemingen op dit punt hoogst wenschelijk, maar zoo verre als de scheikundige ontleding gegaan is, schijnt het wel bewezen, dat de tarwe door de opslorping van hare eigenaardige voedingsdeelen door de roestplant bezwijkt, en dat de samenstellende elementen, die in het verdorde graan ontbreken, gevonden worden in de woekerplant, die zich ten dienste koste gevoed en hetzelve vernield heeft.

III.—ZAAIKOREN.

Uwe commissie, tot de overtuiging gekomen zijnde dat de roest niet ontstaat in den grond, heeft vervolgens hare aandacht gevestigd op de verschillende verscheidenheden van zaaikoren, ten einde te bepalen of eenige derselve van meer geharden aard waren dan andere en beter geschikt om de aanvallen van roest te wederstaan. Hieromtrent stemmen de verklaringen der talrijke getuigen op merkwaardige wijze overeen. Met zeer weinige uitzonderingen is in alle deelen der kolonie bevonden, dat de Toskaansche en purper-roode verscheidenheden het minst te lijden hebben, terwijl de vruchtbaarste soorten, zoo als de "Goldsmith" het meest worden aangetast. De Toskaansche, die een wit ligt overend graan is zal waarschijnlijk niet algemeen voor zaailing worden uitgekozen, maar die met purperstroo is de tarwesoort, die nu algemeen wordt aanbevolen als vereenigende in zich een behoorlijk beschot en eene zekere mate van wederstand tegen rooden roest. Het blijft natuurlijk aan den landman overgelaten, of hij, ten einde den zwaarsten oogst te winnen, veel opbrengende maar teedere verscheidenheden zal uitzaaijen, of wel dat hij zekeren waarborg tegen den roest koopen wil met zich tevreden te stellen met eene soort van zaad, dat niet zoo bekend is wegens zwaar gewas. Het is opmerkelijk, dat de commissie van Victoria, van 1865, nadrukkelijk aanbeveelt, zorgvuldig te zijn in het uitkiezen van zaaitarwe, en gunstig rapporteert over de Toskaansche en die met roode stroo, terwijl zij de "golden drop," de witte vruchtbare, "witte fluweelachtige" en "Winslow" afkeurt.

Er is bij dit onderzoek bijzondere aandacht gewijd aan de vraag omtrent het al of niet geschikt zijn van het verschrompelde graan en het graan van roestige gewassen voor uitzaijing. Daar er in vele distrikten der kolonie in dit jaar maar weinig goed zaaizaad is, achtte de commissie het tijdig in overweging zijnde punt van groot belang, en het is haar aangenaam te melden, dat talrijke getuigen verklaren,—als de uitslag hunner eigene persoonlijke ervaring—dat verschrompeld en roestig graan gezonde en overvloedige gewassen oplevert. Dit feit is inderdaad gedurende vele jaren bekend geweest bei ten bij wetenschappelijke waarnemers en bij praktische landlieden, en de Commissie van Victoria heeft er opzettelijk over uitgewijd. In die kolonie is zoowel wetenschappelijke nasporing als praktische getuigenis op dit onderwerp aangewend; en ofschoon Dr. Mueller en zijne kollegas min of meer aarzelen in het aanvoeren van te lossen voor deze daadzaak, rapporteren zij toch met vol vertrouwen, dat niet alleen verschrompeld en roestig zaaizaad goede planten zal voortbrengen, maar dat het in vele gevallen gezonder en zwaarder oogs en had opgeleverd dan die, welke gewonnen waren van het allerbeste zaad. Maar daar erre lijke bedenkingen zijn aangevoerd tegen het geb uik van het roestige koren van den laats en oogst als zaaizaad, heeft de commissie het der onduks wenschelijk geacht, bijzondere zorg te wijden aan dit gedeelte van haar onderzoek. Zij heeft dus alle mogelijke vertrouwbare inlichtingen ingewonnen, en ook aan Dr. Schomburg, van den Botanischen Tuin, verzocht proefnemingen te doen met verschillende monsters, waaronder de ergsten die er te krijgen waren. De uitslag van de aldus genomen proeven bevestigen ten volle de verklaringen der landbouwkundige getuigen. De schraalste graankorrels ontkiemden even gereedelijk als de beste; en ofschoon zij, bij het eerste uitspruiten, een weinig zwakker schenen dan de andere, groeiden zij voorspoedig op en waren in weinige dagen even krachtig als de spruiten van de zwaardere graansoorten. Daar achter de kiem gevoed moet worden van de bestanddeelen der graankorrels, tot dat de wortel voedsel trekken kan uit den grond, is het redelijk te veronderstellen, dat zeer schraal zaad een betere kans hebben zal in goeden dan in uitgeputten grond.

Uwe Commissie gelooft derhalve, dat haar onderzoek in deze kwestie tot eene onloochenbare en bevredigende slotsom gekomen is.

Daar door sommigen de meening is genit, dat de roest gedeeltelijk kan worden toegeschreven aan het aanhoudend en gedurende vele jaren aaneen gebruiken van de opbrengst van denzelfden oogst, en dat eene afwisseling van zaaizaad, aangebragt van afgelegene plaatsen, de ziekte stuiten sou, rapporteert de Commissie, dat dit denkbeeld door geene getuigenis gestaafd wordt. Integendeel, oogsten gewonnen van graan, van verwijderde plaatsen aangebragt, zijn evenzeer door roest aangetast als die gewonnen zijn van graan ter plaatse zelve gegroeid. Ongetwijfeld is eene verandering van zaaizaad, afgezien van roest, dikwijls wenschelijk; en de ve klaringen van getuigen op dit punt toonen aan, dat het nieuwe zaad aangebragt moet worden zoo na mogelijk van dezelfde hemelbreedte, als waar men het uitzaaijen wil, als ook van een schraler naar een rijker grond, en niet vice versa, daar anders veel tijd verloren gaat met het akklimatiseren van het nieuw verkregen zaad. Zeer goede soorten van Australisch zaaikoren hebben in Engeland zachte en besmette gewassen opgeleverd op akkers, waar het zaaizaad, geteeld in dezelfden omtrek, gezonde en goeddrager de planten gaf. Het koloniale zaad was nog niet geakklimatiseerd, en de plant kwijnde dientengevolge.

Maar ofschoon het gebleken is, dat de roode roest afhangt van de gesteldheid des dampkrings, en zijne vernielingen begint aan den stengel en het blad der plant, en niet uit den wortel opstijgt, is het echter wenschelijk, het zaaizaad te baden of doorpekelen, ten einde niet alleen de sporen van zwarten roest of brand te verdelgen, maar ook om de sporen van roeden roest, die er mogelijk nog aankleven, te vernielen. Omtrent de zamenstelling der oplossing voor tarwe zullen zoo aanstonds eenige woorden in het midden worden gebragt.

IV.—ZWARTE ROEST EN BRAND.

Daar brand met goed gevolg door eene behoorlijke toebereiding van het zaad vernield wordt heeft de commissie het niet noodig geacht bijzonder onderzoek in te stellen naar deze ziekte, die aan alle praktische landbouwers bekend is. Wat zwarten roest aangaat wordt eene vroege uitzaaijing aanbevolen als een voorbehoedmiddel tenzij de grond voor't door en door nat ware geworden. Droog ploegen, door omwerking van het land in kluiten, waardoor beneden de oppervlakte holten blijven bestaan, die door het eggen niet worden opgevuld, wordt door vele praktische landbouwers beschouwd als hoogst gunstig voor de ontwikkeling van zwarten roest. Een der getuigen zegt:—"Het geneesmiddel dat ik altijd aanwendt, is, nooit mijn land te bewerken, tenzij het voldoende tot op zekere diepte van den regen doortrekken is, zoo dat de grond over't geheel genoegzaam nat is, waarna it het land bewerk terwijl het zacht is. Ik ben altoos van den zwarten roest vrijgekomen. Ik kwam tot het besluit dat de zwarte roest ontstond door het ruw omwerken van den grond; daar de eggen slechts tot een paar duim diepte doordringen—de zwarte roest kwam altijd te voorschijn als de wortels tot zoo verre gevorderd waren—zijnde de bodem vol heiligheden als een hongraat." Anderen bevelen op gelijke wijze aan den grond goed om te werken en fijn te maken, en terwijl het zaad te laten weeken, als een voldoend tegengift voor dezen vorm van ziekte in de granen.

V.—"TAKEALL."

Deze ziekte, in vele distrikten van Zuid Australie zoo verwoestend, is niet zoo wel bekend als roest. Landlieden en scheikundigen zijn evenzeer in't ongewisse,—ploegdrijvers en waarnemers met het vergrootglas verschillen in toto omtrent haren aard en hare oorzaken. Men zegt, dat zij ontstaat uit uitputting van den grond, uit gebrek aan sommige elementen, die onmisbaar zijn voor het rijpen der graangewassen. Sommigen seggen, het is gebrek aan afwatering, anderen noemen het gebrek aan mest. Men beweert, dat zij veroorzaakt wordt door een plantaardigen fungus en eene ziekte is van gelijken aard met die der aardappelen. Ook noemt men haar het gevolg der vernielingen door insekten. Naauwelijks twee getuigen komen overeen omtrent dit punt, hetzij landlieden of scheikundigen. Maar de zaak is van te groot belang, om met onverschilligheid te worden voorbijgegaan. In sommige opzigten is "take all" meer te vreezen dan roode roest. Deze laatste kan geene verwoesting in't groot aanrigten, tenzij in vereeniging met eene weersgesteldheid, die wij zelden in deze kolonie hebben; maar "take all" schijnt geheel onafhankelijk van het weder te zijn. En daar hare verwoestingen niets te doen hebben met het klimaat, zijn hare gangen onverklaarbaar door omstandigheden van plaats of grond. Even als de roest van verleden jaar wordt zij allerwege gevonden en de rijkste gronden lijden dikwijls het meest er aan. Zij tast nieuw ontgonnen of braakgelegen land even zeer aan als lang bebouwde gronden. Vooral tast zij de heuvelsen hellingen aan—vlak hoogland of vlakten in de valleijen niet zoo dikwijls als de glooijingen en de zijden. Alle granen bezwijken voor haar; zelfs de oorpronkelijke grassoorten verdwijnen. Zij werkt in vakken, kiest zich zekere plekken of middelpunten uit, en vandaar uitspreidende en gevolgd door hanenspoor of Granadistel, verschijnt zij in't volgend jaar op andere plekken. Daar hare gangen zoo weinig onder regelen te brengen zijn, kunnen ervaring en waarneming haar niet verklaren, en van daar de tegenstrijdige denkbeelden. Het verschil belet alle onderzoek, terwijl de snelle verspreiding der pestziekte en de vrees dat zij met ieder jaar tot grootere uitgestrektheden gronds zal doordringen, naauwkeurige waarneming en studie tot een pligt van het hoogste belang maken.

Hoe het graan er uitziet boven den grond, als het wegkwijnt en vergaat onder den invloed dezer verderfelijke bezoeking, behoeft geene beschrijving, als zijnde te wel bekend. Men heeft den wortel onderzocht en de verschijnselen nagegaan, en sommige waarnemers zijn tot het besluit gekomen, dat de ziekte veroorzaakt wordt door een plantaardige, anderen door een dierlijke parasiet. Dr. Muecke beeft de vezels van den wortel van de door "take all" aangetaste tarweplant vergroot gephotographiseerd; zij vertoonden een aantal witte draden van een wollig voorkomen, die hij beschouwt als de micelia of fungus (paddestoelachtig gewas) die de ziekte veroorzaakt. De Heer Fy, die ze ook onder de mikroskoop heeft onderzocht, zegt dat het niet een fungus is, en dat de vermeende fungoïde te vinden is aan alle wortels, gezonde en ongezonde. Hij denkt dat de ziekte wordt veroorzaakt door een diertje, dat de plant in den eersten groei aantast, of door den groei van een soort van schurftmos, beneden aan den stengel, dat dient tot een nest voor diertjes. Hij zegt: "Wat ik verstaan onder den naam 'take all' is de Vibrio tricite, of koren-aal. Eene plant van een besmette plaats genomen, zal bijken zwart aan den stengel te zijn van den wortel tot aan de eerste geleding; en bij drukking zal er een dun slijm of mos afkomen. Daarin zal men een aantal in elkander gerolde diertjes ontdekken, schijnbaar dood; maar deze bevochtigd zijnde met een drop water op een schijfje glas onder de mikroskoop zullen binnen een uur tijds zich levend vertoonen en met snelheid bewegen. Zij gelijken op de cellen der tarwe, die tot heden toe alleen in de korrels gevonden werden. Ik heb mij nog niet vergewist, of die aal of dat mos de eerste oorzaak is, maar een van de twee is 'take all.' Het diertje wordt misschien uitgezaaid met het zaad, en het gebeurd somtijds dat een tarwekorrel 4,000 of 5,000 koren-alen bevat."

De getuigen echter waren, in het uitdrukken hunner meeningen en vermoedens, allen, met uitzondering van Dr. Muecke, die streng vasthoudt aan den zwamachtigen oorsprong van de "take all," zeer zorgvuldig in het vermijden van elke beslissende of stellige uitspraak. 't Is naauwelijks waarschijnlijk dat de 'take all' ontstaan zou uit de ontwikkeling van vibriones met het zaad uitgezaaid, omdat de ziekte even erg geweest is in gewassen van zaad, geweekt in sterke oplossingen van zwavelzuur en andere mengsels die doodelijk zijn voor het insekteneleven als in't geheel niet geweekte gewassen. De Commissie van Victoria maakt geheel geen gewag van "take all"—de naam waarvan zelfs eene erkentenis is, dat de aard en de oorzaak der ziekte nog niet ontdekt is. Het nut van den zwavel is gebleken en landerijen die door "take all" kaal geworden waren zijn hersteld door het strooijen der asch van verbrand haagmoeisel, maar het is twijfelachtig, of de zwavel specifiek op de veronderstelde sporen of eijeren van de "take all" of wel scheikundig op den grond werkte, ook is het niet zeker, of de asch der boschjes de "take all" vernielde door scheikundige werking op den grond, of dat de verandering die opgemerkt werd ter plaatse waar de haag verbrand was, moet toegeschreven worden aan de hitte des vuurs. Het is hoogst wenschelijk, dat deze zeer belangrijke kwestie terdege wordt onderzocht, daar er groot gevaar bestaat, dat onze landerijen stuk voor stuk bezwijken zullen voor deze geheimzinnige bezoeking; en de commissie is derhalve van meening, dat eene reeks van proefnemingen met gebruik van verdund zwavelzuur en ook met zwavel in deszelfs verschillende verbindingen, beide als pekel voor het zaad en als een sprenkel middel boven op de aangetaste plaatsen van het land, van groot nut zou zijn; aangezien de eenige algemeen aanwendbare geneesmiddelen voor "take all," beschreven in de getuigenis als met goed gevolg gebruikt te zijn, bestaan in verdund zwavelzuur als eene uitwendige besprenkeling door den Heer Ey gebezigd, en zwavel en kalk, door den Heer Martin gebruikt als een pekel voor het zaad.

VI.—HET PEKELEN VAN ZAAIKOREN.

Ofschoon de ondervinding leert, dat het doorweeken van zaaikoren geen waarborg is tegen rooden roest, volgt daaruit nog niet dat het geheel geen invloed heeft op die ziekte. Afgescheiden van dezen geduchten vijand der graangewassen, zijn er nog andere, die alleen te bestrijden en te overwinnen zijn door eene behoorlijke wijze van weeken van het zaad, en van daar het onderzoek en de getuigenissen hieromtrent door de commissie ingesteld en ingewonnen. 't Is niet noodig stil te staan bij eene praktijk, zoo wel bekend en algemeen in gebruik, maar uit de getuigenis blijkt, dat er in de toepassing veel verschil heerscht. Terwijl eenige boeren hunne zaaizaad slechts eenige minuten in den pekel laten, laten anderen het eenige uren daarin. De scheikundige getuigen rekommanderen eene weeking van zes of acht uren. Dr. Muecke zegt acht uren, als het weder vochtig, en twaalf als het droog is, gevende hij vier onzen blaauwsteen per bushel. Eenige boeren weeken hun zaaizaad in't geheel niet, maar besprenkelen het enkel met de vloeibare oplossing, zetten de hoop eenige malen om en bestuiven haar met droge kalk. 't Is echter twijfelachtig of de sporen van den roest, die aan het graan gehecht zijn, op die wijze voldoende vernietigd worden, en daar het vermogen der tarwe om onder zekere voorwaarden van weeking hare levenskracht te behouden, gemakkelijk door proefneming te ondekken is, zou het voor den landman de moeite waard zijn een geregeld stelsel van proeven te nemen. Er is veel reden om te vrezen, dat in vele gevallen door de zwakheid der oplossing, en door den korten tijd, dien aan het graan gegund wordt om haar op te nemen, de geheele bewerking nul en van geene waarde is, zoo verre aangaat het vernielen der sporen van den parasiet. Het is gebleken, dat zwavel, hetzij in den vorm van bloem of zwavelmelk, of zwavelzuur, met het uitmuntendste gevolg is aangewend. Het zwaluwzuur wordt gebruikt in eene hoeveelheid van vier onzen gewigts op een bushel zaad, verdund met zoo veel water als het zaad tot zich nemen kan; terwijl het koren na eenige uren geweekt te hebben gedroogd wordt met gebluschte kalk. Zwavel en kalk maken ook een uitmuntend mengsel uit om de roestsporen te vernietigen. De melk of de bloem van zwavel aan poeder, moet met tweemaal haar gewigt aan pas gebluschten heeten kalk opgelost worden in tien gallons water voor elk pond zwavel; dit vormt eene zwaveiverbinding van kalk, waarmede het koren wel bevochtigd moet worden, terwijl men het later droogt met versch gebluschten kalk. 't Is te hopen dat gedurende den volgenden zaaitijd eenige praktische proefnemingen zullen gedaan worden, ten einde de dubbele kwestie, betreffende de sterkte van de oplossing en den tijd dien het graan er in verblijven moet, uit te maken.

VII.—STOPPELBRANDEN.

Omtrent het verbranden der stoppels, in verband met de roestziekte, zijn de verklaringen tegenstrijdig. Uit het algemeen heerschen van den roest gedurende het laatste saizoen volgt, als iets dat van zelf spreekt, dat het land voor een veel grooter gedeelte dan gemeenlijk met roestsporen bedekt is, en dat een groot gedeelte van die sporen, gehecht is aan het stroo en aan de stoppels die op het land staan. Deze sporen zouden noodwendig moeten verdwijnen door het verbranden der stoppels, ofschoon er op andere plaatsen te weg zouden overblijven, om de ziekte in het volgende jaar te verspreiden, als wij het weder van verleden jaar terug krijgen,—iets dat, te oordeelen naar het verledene, zeer onwaarschijnlijk is. Doch, daar wij roest hebben gehad in verscheidene voorafgaande jaren, ofschoon in geenen deele in zoo vreeselijke mate als verleden jaar, bevelen de Commissie aan, de stoppels te verbranden en het mosisel en ander uitschot der heggen, waarin de zaden van de roestplant verschulen mogen zijn, bijeen te zamelen, en mede met vuur te vernielen.

VIII.—UITPUTTING VAN DEN GROND.

Ofschoon niet onmiddelijk in verband met rooden roest, beeft uwe commissie getuigenis ingewonnen omtrent de zamenstellende deelen van den grond in deze provincie, en zij rapporteert, dat deze belangrijke tak van landbouw-wetenschap schier geheel veronachtzaamd is. Het schijnt, dat nog niet meer dan een half dozijn ontledingen van den grond gedaan zijn, zoodat de wetenschap in zoo verre nog geheel geen praktische dienst heeft bewezen, om de Zuid Australische landlieden te onderrigten omtrent de geschiktheid hunner gronden voor het verbouwen van bijzondere gewassen. 't Is, naar de meening dezer commissie, hoogst wenschelijk dat een scheik- en ontleedkundige voor den landbouw wordt aangesteld, ten einde een geregeld voorgezet stelsel van proefnemingen met grond en mest uit te voeren; en ook om mikroskopische en scheikundige waarnemingen te doen betrekkelijk den groei en de ziekten onzer graangewassen. De groote uitgestrektheid lands, jaarlijks onder tarwekultuur gebragt, wordt langzamerhand beroofd van hare phosphaten en andere zamenstellende elementen, onmisbaar voor de vorming van een gezond gewas; en daar er naauwelijks iets wordt wedergegeven in den vorm van mest, wordt het graanvoortbrengend vermogen van den grond met ieder jaar minder—waarvan eene vermindering in het gemiddeld jaarlijksch beschot het zekere gevolg is, zelfs al mogen wij ontkomen aan de plaag van rooden roest. De aanstelling van een ambtelijk scheikundige voor den landbouw zou geene belangrijke uitgaven noodig maken, terwijl daardoor aan de landbouwers in't algemeen het middel zou worden verschaft, om eene vertrouwbare ontleding te bekomen tegen nominale kosten—waardoor zij geleid worden in de keus der gewassen er in het nemen van maatregelen, die berekend zijn om aan den grond die vruchtbaar makende elementen te hergeven, waaraan zij de grootste behoefte hebben. Men kan niet te zeer in gedachte houden, dat de gronden niet altijd te beoordeelen zijn naar uiterlijke verschijnselen, zelfs voor het meest ervaren oog. Land, dat er rijk uitziet, en dat wat de meerdere van deszelfs bestanddeelen betreft werkelijk wel zoo zijn kan, kan desniettegenstaande gebrek hebben aan een enkel element, dat onmisbaar is voor den groei van een krachtig gewas, of aan een enkel element, dat noodig is om de andere bestanddeelen oplosbaar te maken en geschikt om door de planten te worden opgenomen. Deze kennis kan alleen verkregen worden door scheikundige proefneming. In andere landen en in de zuster-kolonie wordt bepaalde aandacht gewijd aan den tak der landbouw-wetenschap, die ofschoon allernoodzakelijkst in Zuid Australie, verwaarloosd wordt met eene onverschilligheid, die even berispelijk als onverklaarbaar is.

IX.—BESLUIT.

Over het geheel, en hoofdzakelijk wat aangat den rooden roest, hebben uwe commissarissen veel genoegen om, hoewel noodwendig niet in staat een specifiek voorbehoedmiddel te vinden voor eene ziekte, waarvan de zaken algemeen verspreid zijn en in werkend leven gebragt worden door werking van den dampkring, aan Uwe Excellentie voor te leggen de kostbare inlichtingen, door dit onderzoek opgedaan. Indien al geen positief geneesmiddel is ontdekt, zijn echter onderscheidene vrij ernstige misslagen verholpen, misslagen die kostbaar souden zijn in derzelver werking en teleurstellend in derzelver uitkomsten. 't Is bewezen, dat de buitengewone verwoestingen van den rooden roest in het jongste saizoen niet veroorzaakt werden, gelijk velen beweerden, door uitputting van den grond, en dat derhalve de kostbare bemestingen, hoe nuttig ook in andere opzigten, noodeloos waren als een voorbehoedmiddel tegen roest. 't Is gebleken dat eenige tarwesoorten meer gehard zijn dan andere; de boer heeft dus eenigermate de middelen in zijn bereik, om de verregaande vernielingen der ziekte te verminderen, door die verscheidenheden, die er't ligtst voor bezwijken te laten staan. 't Is ook gebleken, dat daar de roest zich niet even als de brand door besmet zaad, verspreidt, het verschrompelde graan, dat weinig waarde heeft om gemalen te worden, gezonde en ruime oogsten kan opleveren onder de gewone gunstige omstandigheden van grond en klimaat. 't Is gebleken, dat de landbouw-scheikunde in deze kolonie nog naauwelijks in het leven getreden is, ofschoon zij van zooveel belang is voor een behoorlijk stelsel van kultuur. En ten laatste hoopt uwe commissie, dat de pogingen, die in alle deelen der kolonie zoo velerzijds zijn aangewend om de aandacht te bepalen niet alleen op de bezoeking die ons in zeker deel gevallen, maar ook op den algemeenen toestand en de vooruitzigten van den landbouw, de uitwerking zullen hebben van te leiden tot naauwkeuriger waarnemingen en zorgvuldiger proefnemingen van de zijde der Wetgevende en Regering, en tot eene gepaste waardering van de denken en beheersching van een bedrijf, dat, zonder overdrijving tot de hoofdtak van rijverheid der provincie en de voornaamste grondslag van hare welvaart mag beschouwd worden.

over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded: provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets into any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance, unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other par of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission, constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

The Contractor will be bound to provide a passage in his Mail Conveyance for an Officer of this Department, when travelling on public business, without charge, when required so to do.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

5. The Contractor will be required to use every expedition in the delivery of the Supplies at the several District Towns; three months from date of Inspector's certificate to be the maximum period for their transmission.

6.
